Morning Chronicle.

NEWMAN HALL AND QUARTET SINGING.—Rev. Newman Hall writes from Boston to a London paper, in which he expresses himself as follows:

"I have been welcomed indiscriminately to the pulpits of Congregationalists, Baptists, Methodists and Presbyterians. In all of these the order of service is much the same. First a piece of sacred music is performed by the organ and a choir of four cultured voices, then a prayer, then a hymn sung generally by the choir alone, then the sermon, followed by prayer and a hymn, in which all the congregation unite, and then the benediction.

This quartet singing is almost universal. It may suit Americans, but I hope it will never be introduced among ourselves. The performances I have heard have been frequently of great excellence. The singing of a hymn by four perfectly trained voices, and with great taste, has thrilled my soul, and I can quite understand how it has been a means of grace to the congregation sitting quiet with their hymn books open before them. But I have longed, nevertheless, to hear the roar of voices from the great congregation, however discordant some of the elements of it might be; and from the way in which my allusion to our own method has been received in one or two public meetings, I infer a change would be hailed gladly by a great majority of the people. There is already in some districts a steady progress toward making the public worship more congregational."

☞ Horace Greeley is quite disgusted with the way they manage the federal offices in the city of New York. He says, "It is about as safe for any honest man to come to New York and enter a Federal office as it was for a Scottish farmer to drive his cattle through the dominions of Rob Roy."—Why? Because they are Johnsonized.

—A teacher in one of the Southern States was sitting at the window of her room watching two negroes loading goods into a cart. One of them was disposed to shirk; the other stopped, and, looking at the lazy one sharply, said, "Sam, do you expect to go to heaven?" "Yes." "Then take hold and lift."

— The farmers in a portion of Iowa are said to have over one hundred thousand bushels of surplus wheat stored away, under the impression that higher prices will rule during the winter and spring.

—A little boy, on coming home from church, where he had seen a person performing on an organ, said to his mother, "Mamma, I wish you had been to church to-day to see the fun I. A man pumped music out of an old cupboard!"

—Gen. Howard and other officers of volunteers attached to the Freedmen's Bureau will probably be retained in office by a special act of Congress, which will also give them their present pay and allowances.

—A partner in one of our eminent commercial firms, on looking into a newspaper last week, suddenly inquired, "Who is this Dickens they are making such a fuss about?" Such is fame.—Boston Transcript.

— The salary of the managing editor of the London Times is £5000, which, at the present rate of gold, is considerably more than that of the President of the United States.

☞ We are authorized to state that no motion was made or favored in the National Committee by Gov. Ward, Chairman, to change the name from National Republican to National Union. No proposition for change of name, in any shape, was before the Committee, which would have had no power to change the name of the party organization.—Tribune.

THE FIRST BABY.
BY ANNIE M. DUGANNE RADCLIFFE.

Laughing-eyed Anabel, wee fairy belle,
Making more trouble than any can tell;
Say, what are you good for? Whatever do you
To make people love you as much as they do?

We have a pet kitten with stripes buff and gray
No older than you, and he beats you for play;
He waits on himself, too; and, rolled in a heap,
Without any rocking he drops into sleep.

You coo like a pigeon, and double your fist
As if you were meant for a young pugilist!
Would puzzle a lawyer to tell what you think
When you pull at your toes, say "Argoo" and wink.

You're such a queer way, too, of crossing your eyes,
As if your pug nose were a bridge of great size:
You scratch your bald pate as if digging for brains
Pray can you just tell us how much it contains?

You tease us by day and disturb us at night,
And your little caprices give many a fright!
You drule and you cry, you laugh and you crow,
And do not all babies? I'd just like to know.

Six months we have kept you, and never a queen
Received truer homage then you have, I ween:
You sport a fine coach, and your father, droll he,
Plays pony for you, and is proud as can be.

Now what are you good for, blue-eyed Anabel,
But just to pick pockets of pin-money, tell?
You must be a witch, for you fill us with care,
Yet never we grur ble or think it unfair.

There is no sense at all in aught you may do,
Yet never was baby we loved much as you:
To mother you're so much like father, and then,
To father you're so much like mother again.

Oh, laughing-eyed Anabel, wee fairy belle,
Your late-curtained future what wizard can tell?
To keep our hearts human and loving you've come
And that's what you're good for, dear Light of our Home!

FATAL ACCIDENT.—The Lowell Courier says a young man was accidentally shot on Sunday morning, at Tewksbury, Massnamed Matthew F. Worthen, of Lowell.—He was about twenty-one years of age, and worked at the Lowell Machine Shop. He served awhile in the army, in Co. C, 6th Regt. Mass. Vols. He was to have been married on Wednesday to a daughter of Samuel Clark of Tewksbury, at whose house the accident happened. Young Worthen and two of the sons of Mr. Clark were in the barn examining some traps, Worthen carelessly leaning at the time upon a loaded fowling piece which he had in his hands. By some unforeseen accident the gun was fired, when the charge entered the axilla, and penetrated the side, causing death in a few minutes.

FALL RIVER.—The Fall River Times says that from two hundred to three hundred men are busily engaged in clearing away the ruins of the print works there.—The stone work which was left standing will be torn down, but much of it can be used again in building. The company offer work to all who were in their employ to assist in the energetic preparations for rebuilding their works as soon as possible. It is supposed that in about six weeks buildings will be erected at the Globe by the company, and employment will be furnished to as many persons as the works can accommodate.

GOOD WALKING.—Recently Mr. Edward G. Patten, an amateur pedestrian, walked from West Amesbury Corner a distance of six miles in one hour and five and a half minutes. The time allowed was one hour and fifteen minutes, which shows that Patten had nine and a half minutes to spare. This is good walking, and not easily outdone. The amount won by the tramp was $50. The road was hilly and rough, and the feat was therefore the more remarkable.

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of whom know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove at first class, at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.
The following names form its large list of purchasers are given for reference:

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1867.

WENDELL PHILLIPS recently delivered his fine lecture on "Daniel O'Connell, the Agitator," before the Lyceum at Peterboro'; and of course it gave the most complete satisfaction. The Transcript says:

The audience could hardly fail to perceive a parallel case in the life-work of the man who stood before them, although no word of comparison or reference to the same was uttered by him. "Wendell Phillips, the agitator," may, and in all probability will, at some future time, be a popular subject for a public lecturer.

At the close of this lecture, it was announced that Mr. Phillips would address those of the audience who chose to hear him, upon the great political questions now before the country; at the same time giving those who wished to retire, an opportunity to do so. Not one left the house, and the speaker proceeded to discuss the Presidential question, national finances, impeachment and reconstruction, with a freedom and clearness which is characteristic of the man. * * He believed Gen. Grant to be a great soldier, but not the man for our next President; at any rate not until he "comes out and shows his colors."

By the generous donation of $20, by Mr. Phillips, we believe there is a small sum still left in the hands of the Lyceum Committee.

Formerly, in the good old times of slavery, Mr. Phillips' reply to the question of his price for a lecture, was, "If on slavery, nothing; other subjects, fifty dollars." And he always was and is very charitable and liberal. When in this city, a few weeks ago, after he had been paid his fee for the lecture—on coming out he said to the manager of the Lyceum, "that does not look like a very lucrative house," and returned nearly a third of his fee.

By the way, we wonder if Mr. Phillips thinks Grant has shown his colors sufficiently now, and if they are of the right color to suit him?

Mr. Phillips is one of the greatest of orators, and it was a treat indeed to hear something from his silvery tongue besides political tirades, and bitter invectives, of which even the most loyal people had begun to tire, so that his influence and popularity were waning—though of course he cares not for "popularity."

UTAH TO BE RECONSTRUCTED.—Senator Cragin of New Hampshire has introduced into the Senate a bill, which, if it becomes a law, will make a pretty sweeping reform in Brigham Young's unhealthy institutions in Utah. The bill provides for the selection of petit and grand jurors in Utah, and for court matters; makes it unlawful to mark ballots by any device, and enacts that there shall be in the militia of the Territory no officer of higher rank or grade than Major General. The whole Mormon system of polygamy, "wife sealing," spiritual marriages, and all that sort of thing, is done away with by the bill, and heavy penalties are made to fall upon any one countenancing or encouraging such rites, or counseling polygamy.

All the laws of Utah Territory which in any way interfere with the primary disposal of the soil by the United States, are annulled, as is also the ordinance declaring the property of the Church of Latter Day Saints free from taxation. It is made unlawful for any persons claiming or pretending to be members of the so called State of Deseret to assemble, and no election shall be held for any member of said pretended Legislature, or any officer under said so called State Government. In short, the provisions of the bill sweep away the whole Mormon edifice, and puts Deseret on the same footing as Uncle Sam's other Territories.

IN CONGRESS, Dec. 18, the House passed the Supplemental Reconstruction bill reported, after Mr. Thad. Stevens had withdrawn the third section, increasing the number of representatives from the Southern States so that two-fifths of the colored population, omitted in the apportionment of 1860, would be counted. Mr. Brooks of New York made a white man's government speech an hour long, which Mr. Stevens disposed of in a few sarcastic remarks. The Democrats manifested a disposition to filibuster, but saw that it was no use, and the bill was passed by a party vote.

The financial proposition submitted by Senator Sherman does not appear to meet with general approval, especially the provision for giving an exorbitant per centage to brokers for placing the proposed loan on the market.

— Josh Billings says he don't care how much a man talks, if he will only say it in a few words.

— The New York Times understands that parties are now in Washington attempting to prepare the way for a scheme, of which we heard some time ago, to furnish a loan to our "sister Republic" of Mexico, of a sum ranging anywhere from fifteen to twice fifteen millions of dollars. Even a smaller sum than the least of these would be accepted. We should be surprised to learn that there is the least prospect of Congress authorizing a loan of any sum whatever for the purpose suggested.

Communication.

MR. ELA OF NEW HAMPSHIRE, AND MR. LAWRENCE OF OHIO.—Their Great Speeches in the House of Representatives.—Although their right to debate the Impeachment question was arbitrarily cut off by the dominant majority, yet afterwards they were allowed to debate the President's Message. Their speeches were eloquent and powerful, and did their authors great honor, and will be attentively read throughout the Union. Mr. Ela, like Senator Wilson, is a self-made man—both self-educated, and possessed of about equal intellectual power.

Mr. Ela's speech, as well as that of Mr. Lawrence, is founded upon stubborn facts, which cannot be denied or refuted. Mr. Lawrence is an eminent lawyer, and has proved by the facts, that the President is guilty of high crimes and misdemeanors, and he has fully expounded the law relative to impeachment. All who will carefully examine their speeches, we think, will come to the conclusion that the President ought to be removed from office. Mr. L. concludes by saying,—"Andrew Johnson, more criminal but more fortunate than Hastings, (of England), has escaped a trial; in the haste to relieve him, almost without debate or hearing, his crimes have been ignored, and his triumph over Congress is complete. Like Hastings, he will pass into history condemned and detested forever. I will not calculate consequences of our failure to remove the President. It leaves him in the exercise of power to embarrass or defeat reconstruction on a large basis under our laws."

In allusion to the President's virtual threat, that should Congress attempt to usurp power over, or control the Executive, it might become his duty to resort to military force, Mr. Ela says in his conclusion, "If that day shall ever come, when he attempts what he insinuates but dare not utter, then if the chief of rebels goes unhung, the chief of usurpers will not. I know not what further trials God in his infinite providence may have in store for this nation; but whatever they may be, I have an abiding confidence that He will give us strength and confidence to meet them as shall become freemen, and the representatives of freemen."

IN WASHINGTON, Wednesday morning, quite an excitement was created at an early hour by the breaking out of a fire in Secretary Seward's residence. When the alarm was given, the soldiers on guard at General Augur's headquarters, close by, fearing another assassination, commenced an indiscriminate firing of their muskets, which alarmed that section of the city.—The police and firemen soon put out the fire.

[Mr. Seward is in no danger of assassination NOW. Since he enlisted in the Johnsonian army, the Booth and Surratt fraternity are supposed to favor him.]

Secretary Seward's hall and staircase were so much injured by the fire that he has countermanded the invitations to a State dinner on Saturday.

A TERRIBLE RAILROAD DISASTER occurred on Wednesday afternoon, at Angola, on the Lake Shore Railroad, between Cleveland and Buffalo, N. Y., either from a defective rail or injury to the track by frost. The rear car went over the embankment fifty feet, and was set on fire, and out of the fifty passengers only two escaped, the rest being burned to death. All that is left of them is a mass of charred and blackened remains, without any means of ascertaining their names. Another car went over, killing about a dozen people, whose names are given, and wounding many.

SHARP PRACTICE.—The late storm so filled one of our new and smaller streets with snow that it became almost an impossibility to pass through it; but as only two houses were on that street, and only two persons had occasion to pass through it daily, the task of breaking a path became a formidable one, and the expense of having it broken would by no means be trifling.—One of its two inhabitants, however, had an eye for business. In the Republican he inserted an advertisement, offering his house for sale at a mere song. The plan worked like a charm. From immediately after breakfast until late at night, and on the next day also, a stream of hungry speculators of all sexes and nations, on foot and in sleighs and carriages, poured down the blockaded street to secure the great bargain. Of course they were all just too late, as they were told; but long before the last had departed, the last snow drift had vanished, and the street was as smooth and as hard as a plank floor—and all for a half a dollar.—Springfield Republican.

☞ The Washington National Intelligencer of Tuesday, attacks Gen. Grant. So did the rebels several times, and came off second best.

— A wit once asked a peasant what part he performed in the great drama of life? "I mind my own business," was the reply.

Pat Kearns stole two rolls of flannel on Tuesday, at Manchester, from the store door of Weston Brothers. A bystander told of the theft, and one of the Westons pursued Pat, knocked him down in the street, recovered the goods, and handed the thief over to the police.

—In view of the recent decision of Judge Beaseley in favor of the Camden & Amboy Railroad, the Tribune says it would be well for Congress to inquire whether a State governed by a railroad corporation has a republican form of government; and if not, whether New Jersey does not need reconstructing.

HANCOCK AND JOHNSON.—In a special message sent to Congress Wednesday, the President compliments Gen. Hancock by saying that in the issuance of his order restoring civil law in the Fifth Military District he presents an example of the highest public virtue. He compares him with the examples furnished by Washington after the Revolution, and adds:

I am far from saying Gen. Hancock is the only officer in the American army who is influenced by the example of Washington. Doubtless thousands of them are faithfully devoted to the principles for which the men of the revolution laid down their lives, but the distinguished honor belongs to him of being the first officer in high command south of the Potomac, since the close of the civil war, who has given utterance to the noble sentiments in the form of his first military order. I respectfully suggest to Congress that some public recognition of Gen. Hancock's patriotic conduct is due, if not to him, to the friends of law and justice throughout the country. Of such an act as his at such a time, it is but fit that the dignity should be vindicated and the virtue proclaimed, so that its value and example may not be lost to the nation.

ANDREW JOHNSON.

Perley remarks upon it as follows:

President Johnson's message recommending that Congress recognize Gen. Hancock's official action at New Orleans, is regarded by some members as a gratuitous insult, while others think it a defiant bid for Copperhead support.

No doubt it is both, says Uncle Toby; and it is a document of which any decent man in his sober senses would be ashamed. But it came in the afternoon.

IN THE STATE CONVENTION of the Republicans, at Concord, Hon. Ezra A. Stevens was one of the Vice Presidents.—James W. Johnson was nominated Railroad Commissioner, having 300 votes.—John S. Walker had 159, A. M. Shaw had 1, total 450. The Rockingham members of the State Committee are William B. Morrill, Charles G. Conner, Exeter; Joseph B. Adams, Joseph P. Morse, Portsmouth; George W. Weston, Windham; Caleb Moulton, Hampstead; George E. Lawrence, Epping.

Their nomination of Gen. Grant for President, was in the form of a Resolution:

That in behalf of the loyal people of New Hampshire we do hereby proclaim as our and their first choice for President of the United States, General Ulysses S. Grant, who led our armies to victory and our country to peace. Reticent and sagacious in council, self possessed and daring in battle, modest and magnanimous in victory, he is first in the confidence and first in the hearts of his countrymen.

☞ It appears from Washington correspondence, that the President has determined to make an order to deliver H. Luske to the civil authorities in the Fifth Military District, to be tried by the civil courts. This decision is not based on the merits or facts of the case, but rests solely on legal points made by defendant's counsel, viz: That the civil courts are open and competent to try Luske, and that the Military Commission had no jurisdiction on the subject. [In other words, Andrew Johnson determines that this rebel murderer shall go free, because he is a rebel, and because the victim was a loyal man. This act is eminently worthy of its author.]

A RECREANT BRIDEGROOM.—A nice piece of gossip comes from Washington.—A church was open, the bride was on hand, Gen. Grant was there to give the bride away, and lots of well dressed people were present to see the ceremony,—but the bridegroom was not to be found,—and the people dispersed. Two days later, Col. Ely Parker, of Gen. Grant's staff, the missing bridegroom, was found stopping at the National Hotel. The wedding has been postponed indefinitely.

Col. Parker is said to be a full-blooded Indian, a near relative to the famous Red Jacket, and of the present chief of the six nations of Cherokees. He is about 5 feet 10 inches in height, of strong, manly build, and of pure Indian complexion. He served through the war on Gen. Grant's staff, and his position in the army is that of First Lieutenant in the 2d Regiment of Cavalry, transferred to staff duty with the brevet rank of Colonel. Miss Minnie Sackett, the lady so unpleasantly brought before the public, is one of the most beautiful women in the District, a bright blonde, with dark brown hair, and but 19 years of age. It is stated that Col. Parker has been paying attentions to Miss Sackett for a period extending over several months, and would have been married long ago had it not been for the objections of Miss Sackett's friends.

—The owners of the Richmond Libby Prison have presented a bill to the Quartermaster's Department for the use of that building during the time it was occupied as a military hospital after the close of the war. The gentlemanly proprietors don't charge anything for the years during which it was occupied by Union troops before the end of the war.

Mrs. Partington remarked that however much the President and Congress might differ on the country's destruction, one thing was certain, so long as the Scriptures were universally dissembled, and Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus promulgated, the Stars and Stripes would wave o'er the land of the free. 30

AUGUSTA, Me., Dec. 19.—A large fire occurred here this afternoon, destroying a sash and blind factory and a grist mill; also a lot of property belonging to the Sprague of Providence. Loss about $75,000; no insurance.

GOLD, Wednesday, 133 3-4; Thursday, 134.

—There was a slight earthquake shock felt in Canada, Vermont, and in Northern New York, about 3 o'clock Wednesday morning.

—A drunken row at Florida, Mass., last week, resulted in the death of Patrick Fleming. The fatal blow was struck by Mrs. Arthur Harley, into whose house Fleming went after more rum, when already intoxicated. The woman claims that the blow was struck in self-defence.

—In recent conversation with a delegation of Southern loyalists, the Hon. Thaddeus Stevens is reported as saying that impeachment had failed, and that it was only an evidence of the fickleness of public opinion. If the Committee had confined themselves to acts of usurpation merely, and presented their report a year ago, he thought that there were not ten Republican members who would have voted against it.

PROCLAMATION
For a Day of Merry-Making,

the day and to make a merry

JAMES F. SHORES, Jr.,
Has almost everything that is necessary to answer the various wants of the people for

PAIN KILLER A CURE FOR DIPHTHERIA!

All interested, please read the following extract from a letter from Mrs. Ellen B. Mason, wife of Rev. Francis Mason, Toungboo, Birmah:

"* * * My son was taken violently sick with diphtheria and chills, burning fever and sore throat. I counted one morning ten little vesicles in his throat, very white, and his tongue towards the roots was like a watermelon, full of seeds; the remainder coated as thick as a knife-blade. So many children have died around here, I was afraid to call a physician, and thought I would try your Pain Killer for a gargle with which I flooded inwardly. I did so, and found the gargle invariably cut off the vesicles, and he raised them up often covered with blood. He was taken sick on Sunday; on Wednesday his throat was clear, and his tongue rapidly clearing off. I also used it as a liniment, and rubbed it on and bandaged it on his neck. It seemed to me a wonderful cure, and I can but wish it could be known to the many poor mothers in our land who are losing so many children by this dreadful disease.

I have found your Pain Killer one of the most valuable medicines ever used in Burmah. Once I was stung by a very large black scorpion; the pain was indescribable. I immediately applied the Pain Killer (for I never travel without it) again and again, and in half an hour my foot was well. d14—1m

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!

Charles Farmer, Druggist, writes from Ovid, Mich., "I have just sold the last bottle of Allen's Lung Balsam, and like 'hot cakes,' and gives Universal Satisfaction.

Stanley & Skipper, Chippawa Falls, Wis., write, "We wish you would send us a good supply of Allen's LUNG BALSAM, as it is getting to be one of the necessary institutions of the country. It sells well and gives entire satisfaction to those using it."

F. L. Allen, a well-known druggist at New London, Conn., writes us that ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM is favorably received by the afflicted.—He says it establishes nearly double the quantities over my counter, and it has given good satisfaction."

Many letters like the above are daily received from all parts of the country. The demand for it from Californis is large for a medicine so recently offered for sale. We have sold hundreds of dozens up to that date, fared' reign of great CURES, and that accounts for its Great Success. None use it who do not, in return, recommend it to their friends. Hence its great sale.

Local.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Daily Chronicle Office. Price 6 cents—$2 per year; for balance of this year free to new subscribers.

☞ Many of our readers will remember that a couple of years ago Mr. Josiah F. Adams of this city, offered a reward of $100 for the detection of the parties who sawed the wheels of several wagons in his yard on Washington street, one night—leaving them apparently sound, in such a manner as would endanger the life of any one who should attempt to ride in them.—He now informs us that on evidence subsequently obtained, he brought action against Sylvanus T. Edgerly of this city, for the outrage; and that he compromised the case at the late term of Court, by paying $75 damages and the costs. The real culprit, who procured the deed, was Woodbury Curtis, who was drunk at the time, and mad because Mr. Adams refused him his house to visit his wife's sister, with whom he afterwards eloped. So rum did this, as it does most evil; and Edgerly thus suffers for allowing himself to be led into evil.

☞ Frank Brown, who was stabbed some time since, died in this city on Thursday afternoon, Dec. 19. He was stabbed by a man named Manson, who is now in jail on a sentence of six months' imprisonment,—which light sentence was imposed by the S. J. Court at its late session here. Brown was 28 years of age, and leaves a wife.

☞ Our cold spell still hangs on. There is just enough snow to spoil the skating, but not enough to make sleighing out of the compact part of the city. The thermometer seems to have got frozen up, or rather down—for the ice and snow has scarcely thawed a bit in the sun, at noonday, since December came in. Ugh!

☞ We understand that the Court, in the case of Frank T. Pickering and Charles W. Nutter vs. F. W. DeRochemont, for amount claimed as due the wives of complainants, when defendant's wards, has been decided in favor of DeRochemont, that he owes plaintiffs nothing. Just as we expected,—but we do not learn whether this finally closes and settles the case, which has been in suit almost interminably—as an old friend told defendant at the commencement, so long as there was a cent of property left on either side. Those best acquainted with Mr. DeRochemont, feel sure he would never undertake to cheat anybody.

Communication.

Dear Chronicle:—Why cannot we have the City Steam Fire Engines play for about half an hour on the South Mill Pond, when it gets covered with snow? In several cities of this size, they have them play on some pond where the people can amuse themselves with skating. I do not see why they cannot play upon the Pond, instead of playing on the Parade, as they do once a month; this only makes it very disagreeable to persons on the street, and does no good whatever. Now, if they will flood the Pond, it would be doing a great kindness to lovers of the graceful sport of skating. SKATER.

☞ Hadley & Co. of Boston, opened their popular Gift Entertainment at the Temple last evening, to a large audience—and besides all the enjoyment of the sleight-of-hand performances, those who got the prizes were highly pleased of course. This show has just been exhibiting in Portland for two weeks with great success; and has been before the public for three years, and always well sustained, because giving good satisfaction. Performances this and to-morrow evenings, and Saturday afternoon.

☞ Among the numerous articles which would be acceptable for Presents, the Meat Cutter, or Chopper, advertised by Goodwin, Sweetser & Co., would materially assist in getting the mince pies, &c., ready for Christmas. It is a snug little iron machine, and is operated like a coffee mill, by turning a crank.

Fayette Laighton also, among the many ornamental articles advertised, suggests that something nice to eat may come as near touching some folks' feelings as anything.—We would'nt give a fig for better Figs than he sells, at any rate.

☞ We finish this morning, the publication of the list of Brigham Young's wives and children—such of them as live at home; or rather we did this yesterday, and now give an account of one he didn't get. The 29th and last wife, we have before stated, was a Miss Amelia Folsom of this city.

☞ The Lyceum closes next Thursday evening, with a Lecture by Dr. Holland.—We are requested by the manager to announce that if deemed desirable by ticket-holders generally, another Course of five Lectures or Concerts will be provided, at $1 the ticket.

☞ The freighting steamer Enterprise, which has been running the past season between Saco, Portsmouth and Boston, is withdrawn from the line for a short time, for repairs to her machinery.

☞ Mr. Henry Haines, mate of the schooner White Sea, which arrived here on Wednesday, died on board 4 days out from New York. His age was 35 years, and he belonged in New York.

☞ The Stockholders in the Rockingham Trotting Park, are notified by the Trustees to meet at the Franklin House on Saturday evening.

☞ Granite State Engine Company No. Five, announce a grand Ball at Congress Hall, for Christmas Eve,—Tuesday next.—Music, Elliott's Band.

☞ We have already called attention to the new counterfeit currency in circulation of the denomination of twenty-five cents, and again warn the public to be on their guard against them. The face of the script is poorly executed, but the backs are well done.

☞ We understand that about 30 men, employed in the Civil Engineer's department, were discharged from the Navy Yard, on Thursday.

☞ At Hadley & Co.'s gift show, Thursday evening, the elegant chamber set was given to Mr. Chas. E. Berry, 110 Market street.

POLICE COURT, Dec. 18.—Andrew Huff, for being intoxicated on Congress street, was fined $1 and $3.86 costs.

☞ The following may be applicable in other cities besides the commercial capital of Maine:

A Portland wife whose house was about being furnished, went with her sensible husband to a chair factory in that city to procure a set of chairs. But madam turned up her nose at the home-made goods, and insisted that her chairs should be bought in Philadelphia. At no small expense the husband procured from that city a set of chairs, costing 25 per cent. more than those offered at the Portland factory. The wife was in raptures when they arrived, and called her husband to see how much better and handsomer they were than those made at home. What was her chagrin and mortification when her husband turned up each chair and showed his spouse the mark thereon of the Portland manufacturer.

MARRIAGES.

DEATHS.

325 MILES
OF THE
UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD,
Running West from Omaha
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,
ARE NOW COMPLETED.

This brings the line to the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains, and it is expected that the track will be laid thirty miles further, to Evans Pass, the highest point on the road, by January. The maximum grade from the foot of the mountains to the summit is but eighty feet to the mile, while that of many eastern roads is over one hundred. Work in the rock-cuttings on the western slope will continue through the winter, and there is now no reason to doubt that the entire grand line to the Pacific will be open for business in 1869.

The means provided for the construction of this Great National Work are ample. The United States grants its Six Per Cent. Bonds to the rate of from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, for which it takes a second lien as security, and receives payment for the same if not to the extent of its claim in services. These Bonds are issued on each twenty mile section is finished, and after it has been examined by United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first class road, thoroughly supplied with depots, repair shops, stations and all the necessary rolling stock and equipments.

The United States also makes a donation of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, which will be a source of large revenue to the Company. Much of this land in the Platte Valley is among the most fertile in the world, and other large portions are covered with heavy pine forests, and abound in coal of the best quality.

The Company is also authorized to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to an amount equal to the issue of the Government and no more. Hon E. D. Morgan and Hon. Oakes Ames are Trustees for the Bondholders, and deliver the Bonds to the Company only as the work progresses, so that they always represent an actual and productive value.

The authorized capital of the Company is One Hundred Million Dollars, of which over five millions have been paid in upon the work already done.

Earnings of the Company.

At present the profits of the Company are derived only from its local traffic, but this already is much more than sufficient to pay the interest on all the Bonds the Company can issue, if no not another mile were built. It is not doubted that when the road is completed the through traffic of the only line connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States will be large beyond precedent, and as there will be no competition, it can always be on a reasonable rates.

It will be noticed that the Union Pacific Railroad is, in fact, a Government Work, built under the supervision of Government officers, and to a large extent with Government money, and that its bonds are issued under Government direction. It is believed that no similar security is so carefully guarded, and certainly no other is based upon a larger of more valuable property. As the Company's

First Mortgage Bonds

are offered for the present at NINETY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR, they are the cheapest security in the market, being more than 15 per cent. lower than U. S. Stocks. They pay

Six Per Cent. in Gold,

or over NINE PER CENT. upon the investment.

SUBSCRIPTIONS will be received in Portsmouth by FIRST NATIONAL BANK, and in New York at the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau street, and by

CONTINENTAL NAT. BANK No. 7 Nassau St.
CLARK, DODGE & CO., Bankers, 51 Wall St.
JOHN J. CISCO & SON, Bankers, 33 Wall St.

And by the Company's advertised Agents throughout the United States, of whom maps and descriptive pamphlets may be obtained on application. Remittances should be made in drafts or other funds par in New York, and the bonds will be sent free of charge by return express. n8—3m

A NEW PAMPHLET AND MAP, showing the Progress of the Work, Resources for Construction, and Value of Bonds, may be obtained at the Company's Offices or of its advertised Agents, or will be sent free on application.

AMERICAN
WATCHES.

This country has reason to be proud of this splendid specimen of American operative genius and enterprise. That it will work a revolution in the watch manufacturing of the world no one can doubt who examines the operations of the Waltham establishment, for it turns out watch movements at just about one half the cost of imported movements—besides the uniform reliability of the machine made watches must give them a great advantage over all others wherever known. A poor time-piece of the machine make will be as rare in the future as a good one of hand make has been heretofore, for machinery is arbitrary in its performance, and can make a perfect article just as easy as one that is worthless. It will be a cause of congratulation if this highly useful American Enterprise shall have the effect of driving out of market the thousands of trashy foreign articles miscalled time-keepers, by furnishing so excellent and economical a substitute.—N. Y. Times.

We have had one of the works of this Company in a case for a considerable time, and comparing them with former first class works of different manufacture possessed by us, they have established in our opinion their superiority over any ever introduced for correctness as time pieces.—The World.

We notice with regret (writing of the Paris Exposition) the absence of specimens of American manufacture, which, although only comparatively of recent birth among us, is already producing results the most satisfactory in character. The watches manufactured by the Waltham Company are certainly, so far as strength, durability and excellence as time-keepers are concerned, as good as anything produced by the French or Swiss manufacturers.—N. Y. Herald.

The beauty, the precision, the greater cheapness, the uniform excellence of a watch constructed by machinery so exquisite that the mere spectacle of its operation is poetic, gradually give the American Watches a public preference that will not be deceived.—Harpers' Weekly.

Every Watch fully Warranted.

Secure Profitable Investment.

THE
CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,
First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per Cent. Coupon Bonds.

Principal and Interest payable in Gold Coin, represent the prefered claim upon one of the GREAT HIGHWAYS OF THE CONTINENTATION IN THE WORLD as it is the sole link between the Pacific Coast and the Great Interior Basin, over which the immense overland travel must pass, and the Main Trunk Line across the Continent.

The Road is now nearly completed from Sacramento to the richest Mining Regions in the Salt Lake Basin, and is being rapidly carried forward by the largest force of laborers ever employed by any Railroad Company on this continent.

The natural, legitimate, commercial business of the road surpasses all previous expectation, and is profitable beyond parallel, even among the best roads in existence. The Earnings and Expenses for the Quarter ending Oct. 31, were as follows, IN GOLD:

GROSS EARNINGS,	OPERATING EXPENSES,	NET EARNINGS,
$593,847 92	$102,088 61	$491,729 31

The result, however, would have been far greater but for the inability of wagon teams to forward the freight and passengers from the temporary terminus in the mountains.

The United States Government and the State and Cities of California have so aided and fostered the Great Enterprise, that the Company will assume very light annual interest obligations, and will have following ample Resources at command for the Construction:

DONATIONS in Lands, Bonds, Concessions, &c. (without lien)	$12,800,000
CAPITAL STOCK, Net Earnings, &c. (no lien)	11,000,000
LOANS (subordinate lien)	3,000,000
U. S. SUBSIDY BONDS, 725 miles, (subordinate lien)	25,517,000
FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS	24,517,000
Resources first 725 miles	$77 83-,00

The FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS are in sums $1000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, and are offered for sale, for the present, at 90 per cent. and accrued interest from July 1st, in currency, at which rate they yield nearly NINE PER CENT. UPON THE INVESTMENT.

These Bonds, authorized by the same Railroad Acts of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same extent only as the Road granted by the Government, and are the prior lean upon the whole valuable property furnished by the above Resources. They possess special assurances and advantages over other Corporate Securities, and are offered as rank among THE BEST INVESTMENTS IN THE WORLD, from their unusual attractions of safety, soundness and profit.

CONVERSIONS OF GOVERNMENT SECURITIES INTO
Central Pacific First Mortgage Bonds,

now realize for the holders from 12 to 18 per cent. Advantage, with the same rate of interest.

Bonds can be obtained through the subscribers directly, or thro' responsible Banking agencies.

Morning Chronicle.

From "The Mormon Prophet and his Harem."
By Mrs. C. V. Waite.

BRIGHAM YOUNG'S HAREM: No. 7.

The Prophet in Love the Thirtieth Time.—Miss Selima Ureenbach is a native of Geneva, Switzerland, and with her parents and brother came to Utah in the fall of 1862. She is an accomplished musician, and at once became a favorite with the Mormons. Several concerts were given, at at which she figured as prima donna, and although she sang in French, the melody of her voice and the artistic character of her music gained for her an established reputation. Brigham heard, and was delighted. Her voice was music to his ravished ear, and, for the thirtieth time, the little god let slip his arrow, and launched it into the Prophet's heart.

Says a celebrated writer:—

"Now there are various ways of getting in love. A man falls in love just as he falls down-stairs. It is an accident. But when he runs in love, it is as when he runs in debt: it is done knowingly, intentionally, and very often rashly and foolishly, even if not ridiculously, miserably, and ruinously.

"The rarest and happiest marriages are between those who have grown in love. Take the description of such a love in its rise and progress, ye thousand and tens of thousands who have what is called a taste for poetry. Take it in the sweet words of one of the sweetest and tenderest of English poets, and then say whether this is not the way that leads to happiness and bliss.

"'Ah! I remember well (as how can I But evermore remember well) when first Our flame began; when scarce we knew what was The flame we felt. When as we sat and sighed, And looked upon each other, and conceived Not what we ailed,—yet something we did ail; And yet were well, and yet we were not well; And what was our disease, we could not tell. Then would we kiss, then sigh, then look; and thus, In that first garden of our simpleness, We spent our childhood. But when years began To reap the fruit of knowledge, ah, how then Would she with graver looks, with sweet, stern brow, Check my presumption, and my forwardness; Yet still would give me flowers, still would me show What she would have me, yet not have me know.'

"Falling in love, and running in love, are, as everybody knows, common enough, and yet less so than what I shall call catching love. Where the love itself is imprudent, that is to say, where there is some just, prudential cause or impediment, why the two parties should not be joined together in holy matrimony, there is culpable imprudence in catching it, because danger is always to be apprehended, which may have been avoided."

It is plain to be seen our Prophet did not walk into love,—he did not run into it. He caught it, as a man catches the measles. It broke out and showed itself all over, in smiles, bows, and sweet honeyed tones. It is also plain that he should not have caught it. Had he not the charming Amelia, dear Emeline, sweet Lucy, pretty Twiss, his darling Lucy No. 2, poetic Eliza, meek Zina, and his dear, dear Jemima, Martha, Ellen, Susan, Hattie, etc., etc. How could any man, much less a Prophet, wish for more?

But he said to himself, "I have not a French lady in the family to teach my daughters that charming language. I have no prima donna to conduct their musical education. Then my last love—my pretty naughty, bewitching Amelia—is so cross and fitful, she leads me such a crazy life, she frets and scolds, and I cannot drown her voice, even with my 'sacred fiddle.' [He had frequently boasted that with his violin he could put a stop to the scolding of any of his women.]

"Then my French lady is accomplished, She can receive my foreign guests. She is so clever, that she can assist me in my business projects and plans; and if she should prove unkind,—which God grant she may not,—and if her sweet lips should scold, I should have a great advantage,—I could not understand her. Then her name,—Selima! How poetical. None of my wives have such a poetical name. With her in my Harem I could rival the Sultan himself. Yes, sweet, adored Selima, you shall be mine. You shall be the high priestess of my affections, and all my common women shall serve you."

The Prophet plead his suit, but Selima was like a stone. He had a young man in his employ who dared to love Selima. The rival lovers met face to face. The Prophet was furious,—"She is not for you, sir, she is not for you. Leave my service, and never dare to aspire to that young lady's hand again."

Alas, that love so devoted, so pure and disinterested as Brigham's, should fail to be rewarded by the object of its choice. But no sooner had the poor singing-master, for such he was, left the Territory for California, than another rival appeared in the field,—a California volunteer,—a dangerous rival; one who would not fear to follow up any advantage he might gain over his spiritual competitor.

To destroy the romance of the whole story, Selima, charming but sensible Selima, becoming disgusted with the whole affair, soon after left for Switzerland again, leaving her lovers to settle the matter among themselves. For once in his life, Brigham Young was foiled, and that by a woman.

— A lunatic near Madison, Ohio, has made his home in a hollow log. His insanity consists in a belief that the State Government intends to make all the rivers and creeks of a uniform width and depth.

— Twelve hundred workmen were dismissed from the Brooklyn Navy Yard on Monday evening, and the commandant received orders stopping work on steamship Java.

—After twenty-seven years of confinement in a criminal lunatic asylum, during which no traces have appeared of mental aberration, Oxford, the potboy, who shot at Queen Victoria at St. James' Park, London, has been liberated. His own story has always been that the pistol which he fired was not loaded, and no bullet was ever found. A senseless desire to attain notoriety by some means, undoubtedly led him to perpetrate the cowardly outrage, which he has expiated by long imprisonment.

MOSES AND JOSHUA.—A great meeting of citizens of Boston, at Faneuil Hall, on Wednesday evening, nominated Gen. Grant for the next President. The resolution was brief and emphatic. Alpheus Hardy, Esq., in presenting it, very pleasantly remarked that Gen. Grant's platform could be found in his private letter addressed to the President. This allusion, and all the points made by the speaker, were promptly taken and cordially approved by the audience. He said:

"Mr. Lincoln was the man for the times, and no one who carefully reads history's record can fail to see that he was our Moses, leading a part of this nation from slavery, and all to a purer draft of freedom.—He was a leader who sought to be led by the nation's will and the nation's God.—Mr. Lincoln had his chosen Joshua, who led his armies and won his victories; and while he sleeps on fairer slopes than those of Moab, his Joshua lives to secure what he saw but did not grasp; and we purpose to repeat one chapter of Hebrew history, and make Lincoln's Joshua his successor and our ruler. Gen. Grant's generalship no one doubts. North or South, all admit and admire it. Gen. Grant's statesmanship is untried; but with the sagacity and tenacity of Napoleon, without his duplicity; with the generosity of a heart that forgets itself; with the power to discern the right and to select the man to secure it; with all his record before us, shall we not trust his statesmanship? His elevation to the Presidency would be hailed by the 'hands and brains' of this country, North and South, as an era of harmony, justice and posperity. What is his policy and platform? It is found in his letter on Sheridan's removal."

BASE AND MURDEROUS.—A man and woman calling themselves Mr. and Mrs. Brown, are in jail at Hartford, Ct., charged with the death of a child which they called theirs, and whose life they had insured.

In Canaan, N. Y., last week, a tenant house was destroyed by fire, and a girl 12 years of age was burned to death. From some suspicious circumstance, the reputed father and mother of the child, a Mr. and Mrs. Brown, were arrested on a charge of arson and murder, in setting fire to the house and causing the death of the girl, but they were discharged by the coroner's jury.

The parties had a life policy of $5000 on the deceased in the Travellers' Accidental Insurance Company of Hartford. It was a 3 months policy, and had but 12 days to run when the insured lost by life.

The parents applied for the amount of the policy, when the circumstances aroused the suspicion of the officer. They caused the body to be disinterred, and marks of violence were plain on the back of the child's head.

The culprits were re-arrested, as there are many circumstances which lead strongly to the belief that the child was stolen from the depot in Toledo, Ohio; that Brown and the woman took her to Canaan, got her life insured, and then at a convenient time beat her brains out and thrust her into a pantry in which a fire was kindled, with the intention of burning down the house and thus cover up the crime of murder.

—When distance lends enchantment to the view, at what time is enchantment expected to pay? At sight, of course.

— The dreadful destruction of life on the Railroad, at Angola, was caused by the breaking of a car wheel.

— Den. Wm. Seaver, of Ashland, since his election to the Legislature by the P. L. Ls., has resigned his office in the church, because of the opposition of his brethren to his position on the temperance question.—Chelsea Bulletin.

— The Fall River News is authorized to state, notwithstanding the rumors that have been in circulation concerning the rebuilding of the Globe Print Works, that nothing has yet been decided upon. About forty men are employed in removing the rubbish, but further than this the future will determine.

—The Senate Naval Committee has instructed its chairman to report favorably on the bill authorizing the President to appoint naval officers on the retired list, not above the rank of Commander, to consular positions under the Government. It is estimated that these appointments will save hundreds of thousands of dollars annually to the Government.

—It is now manifest that the daughter of Rev. E. W. Jackson of Gorham, Me., was not as reported, accidentally shot by her little brother, but that the pistol was discharged by being lifted from a box by the muzzle by the girl, and the hammer catching on the edge of the box as it was drawn toward her. The little boy did not see or touch it at all. When discharged it dropped from her hand back into the box.

THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.
The following names from its large list of purchasers are given for reference:

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1867.

☞ The Strafford District N. H. Medical Society held its sixtieth anniversary at the American House, Dover, Dec. 11th, 1867. President, Dr. A. G. Fenner; Orators, Drs. J. R. Ham and N. W. Woodhouse,—appointed at the last annual meeting. Subject of Dr. Ham's paper, Lead Poisoning; that of Dr. Woodhouse, Diphtheria. The President, Dr. Fenner, delivered the annual address. Dr. T. J. W. Pray read an able and interesting paper upon the Thermometry of Disease.

Extended remarks from Dr. Elliott upon the pernicious practice of bolting our cereals in their preparation for food, by which process the Silicates and Phosphates of Lime are lost. He thought he saw the injurious twelve years hence in the decreasing ability of the decayed teeth, in the numerous diseases of the bones, and in the chemic condition of large numbers of children. He recommended unbolted flour for family use.

Dr. Hill read an interesting paper upon tumors and morbid growths. Dr. Lougee next spoke of the beneficial effects of the preparations of the Sulphites of Soda, Lime and Potassa, in his own practice, in all the forms of Zymotic disease. He thought the Zymotic element entered in many more diseases than had generally been supposed, and he was much pleased with his success in prescribing these agents. An interesting discussion followed, all the members participating. Dr. Whittier related his experience in the treatment of Acute Articular Rheumatism in the army. The alkaline treatment was the most successful in his hands.

☞ Nothing like the excitement to hear Dickens read, was ever seen in this country. The line of people who form to buy tickets, is like the old times of California in getting at the Post office. Tuesday morning the tickets for his second series of four evenings were to be sold; so a crowd began to form Monday evening, and stood all night in the street, to be on hand when Tremont Temple opened, to buy checks for six seats each. The Salem Gazette says:

Salem is entitled to the credit of getting the first tickets. Messrs. Whipple & Smith despatched a burly policeman, with instructions to spare neither time, strength nor money, to procure good seats. On arriving at Tremont Temple on Monday afternoon, at 6 1-2 o'clock, he found two persons already waiting, and at once took his position, the line of ticket-buyers constantly increasing. After staying on the spot all night, and till 8 1-2 o'clock Tuesday morning, he succeeded in getting check No. 1 to enter the Hall, for which he was offered $25, and buying the first tickets. He had with him a list of the parties from Salem wishing tickets, the money accompanying, and tried hard to secure the whole number, but Agent Dolby was inexorable, and refused to allow him more than the twelve tickets. Messrs. W. & S. had other persons in the line, but the entire hall was sold before they were reached. There was rough work at the door on the opening, the Boston police using their clubs freely, and more than one broken head will long remember the Dickens tickets. Mr. Pearson, the Salem policeman, deserves credit for his energy, and will gain the sort of notoriety that Gen'l Dix did when he secured the first Jenny Lind tickets.

We don't think anybody deserves or will get much "credit" for this whole business—though the distinguished English writer will gain much cash. It shows the fools are not all dead yet—and will give Dickens ample basis for more American Notes, if he chooses to issue them. Of course this farore is little indication of love for the popular author—it is mainly the excitement of speculators and novelty seekers.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—It is regarded as doubtful, whether the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations will report favorably on the Danish treaty for the purchase of St. Thomas and St. Johns. There is much opposition to it.

Official information has been received that the British Government has transferred its mail packet station from St. Thomas to Jamaica. The French mail steamers will continue to touch at St. Thomas.

It is said that ex-Gov. Tom Ford of Ohio, who recently wrote a letter vouching for the temperate habits of the President, has been appointed Minister to Ecuador.

Jefferson Davis left Baltimore on Thursday, on a steamer for New Orleans, on his way to his old plantation. He will find it somewhat changed since he was last there.

The Resident Democratic Committee waited on the President Thursday evening, with a string of resolutions commending the Executive for his message on Gen. Hancock. Mutual admiration speeches were made on both sides. The same Committee are getting up a dinner for the 8th of January, at which they hope to have the leading speakers of their party, and select the time and place for holding their nominating convention. Some Democrats object to Gen. Hancock because he was a member of the Military Commission which tried the assassination conspirators, and advocate the nomination of Gen. Dix.

☞ Charles L. Frost, Esq., fell in the street in New York, a few days since, and broke his leg and dislocated his ankle.

Dr. Guilmette also fell in Boston and broke a leg; and Col. Greene of the Boston Post fell and injured his face.

☞ Some eminent friends of temperance gave Neal Dow a complimentary breakfast in Boston, Thursday morning. Wm. Lloyd Garrison and Rev. Dr. Miner were present.

☞ We learn from the Congregationalist that Putnam's Monthly is issued "under auspices calculated to secure the approbation of all Evangelical Christians."

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.—The December Law Term of the Supreme Judicial Court commenced in Dover Tuesday. Benton, of the N. H. delegation in Congress, appears to have voted against impeachment. Ela and Stevens voted for it.

Barnabee is giving his entertainment, "Patchwork of Song and Story," all about —and it is well received; of course it is, for so good a thing couldn't fail to please.

The Milford Foundry closed operations last week.

Col. Benjamin Cook, a highly respected and widely known citizen of Wakefield, died at the residence of his brother in that town on the 11th inst., at the age of 90 years and 6 days. Col Cook was prominent as a military man in the early days of the New Hampshire militia.

Chief Justice Ira Perley was born Nov. 9, 1799; Henry A. Bellows Oct. 25, 1803; Jonathan F. Sargent Oct. 23, 1816; Chas. Doe April 11, 1830; Jeremiah Smith July 14, 1837.

The winter has set in unusually early and with unusual severity. Lake Winnipisaukee very quietly submitted to the rule of hoary headed winter on the night of the 9th inst. The oldest inhabitants have never known the lake to close so early before. The usual time is from the 20th of December to the 1st of January. They had not yet had sufficient snow for good sleighing, at Wolfeborough, on the 16th inst.

The Wolfeborough News states that several of their most prominent citizens visited Boston last week, by invitation, and were entertained by the President of the Eastern Railroad, and others interested in the extension of the Great Falls and Conway road from Union to Wolfeborough; and we understand there is scarcely a remaining doubt that the enterprise will be carried through as soon as practicable.

Died in Gilford, Nov. 28, Mr. William Hunt, aged 85 years and 5 months. On his 85th birthday he took his scythe and mowed nearly half a day, and developed great vigor and energy for a man of his age. Later in the season he would husk some ten or twelve bushels of corn per day, but at last surrendered to the incroachments of death.

CLINGING TO THE JUG.—Mr. E. C. Woodbury of Lyme took the cars of the up train, at Nashua, a few mornings since, in an inebriated condition, with a jug of rum as his travelling baggage. Having no money to pay his fare, Conductor Chandler put him off the train at Manchester. Here he waited till the next train came along, when he entered the cars, and was again put off by Conductor Alexander, at Martin's Ferry. He then undertook to walk to Hooksett, and when he reached the bridge fell through it, a distance of twenty feet, into the water, and floated down about a rod to a rock, from whence a rope was thrown to him, and he was drawn up through the bridge, his hand still clasping the jug. It was found that he was not seriously injured, and the next day he was taken to Concord and forwarded to Canaan, his ducking being considered punishment enough.—Concord Monitor.

Well, that's nothing strange. We see plenty of men every day clinging to their jugs, which have dragged them nearer to ruin than this poor fool went.

IN CONGRESS, Dec. 19.—The Senate indulged in a discussion on the supply of stationery, including knives, gloves, portfolios and perfumery. The House insisted, a year since, on paying extra compensation to its clerks, although the Senate refused it to its clerks. Now the House has objected to the amount of the Senate's stationery bill, and propose to give each Senator and Representative $125 per annum for stationery and newspapers. The Senators were not disposed to submit to this, and after much talk on what had been supplied, it was voted that no stationery, nor any money wherewith to purchase stationery should be supplied.

In the House, Mr. Hooper reported from the Committee on Banking and Currency, a bill providing that National Bank notes may be taxed for State purposes. The measure meets with favor from the West, especially in Ohio, where the State claims the right to tax bank notes under the present law.

FROM MEXICO.—The National Congress was opened on the 8th inst. The hall was crowded with members and spectators.—President Juarez delivered the opening speech. He thanked the United States for the friendly feeling shown and the moral support given to Mexico during the war for independence; justified the executions at Queretaro as necessary acts of justice; returned into the hands of Congress the extraordinary powers which he had assumed and before they had expired; and promised that all foreigners should be protected, whether treaties were made with their governments or not.

Esiquel Montes, President of the Congress, replied, thanking the people of Mexico for their conduct during the war, declaring that the United States was their only ally; denying the accusation that prisoners of war had been ill treated; pronouncing the recognition of the Republic by foreign governments unnecessary, and concluding with the declaration that Mexico was fully able to defend herself.

An Envoy from Peru was on the road to Mexico to effect an alliance between the two countries.

NEW BOOKS, MAGAZINES, &c.

HARPER'S MONTHLY MAGAZINE, No. 212, (isn't it about time to drop the "New," Messrs. Harper?) for January 1868, is received direct from the publishers, and we have no doubt is as good as usual—but the leaves are not cut, and so we can't stop to get at the meat. We would thank no man for an uncut volume.

P. S.—We have just received another copy, from Mr. Shores, with the leaves cut, and find it is an attractive looking number indeed.

HAREM LIFE IN EGYPT AND CONSTANTINOPLE, by Emeline Lott, late Governess to his Highness the Grand Pacha Ibrahim. T. B. Peterson & Brother, Publishers, Philadelphia.

OLIVER OPTIC'S MAGAZINE.—Lee & Shepard, Boston, the publishers, send us the last weekly number for 1867. Oliver Optic is one of the best writers for the young, and the Magazine one of the most entertaining and valuable. $3.50 per year.

THE NEW YORK TEACHER, and American Educational Monthly,—devoted to popular Education and Literature. January 1868. J. W. Schermerhorn & Co., 430 Browne street, New York. $1.50 per annum.

DICKENS FOR THE MILLION.—D. Appleton & Co, New York, publish at once an entirely new and cheap edition of Charles Dickens' works. Each volume will be printed from clear type, and each work issued complete in a large octavo volume, with a new illustrated cover, and sold at the low price of 15 to 35 cents a volume, according to size, or $4.50 for a complete set. This will be one of the most popular and cheapest editions of the works of Charles Dickens ever printed.—Oliver Twist now ready, price 25 cents.

HEAVY DAMAGES.—In the United States Circuit Court at Knoxville, Tenn., Isaac T. Tinkham has obtained $25,000 damages against Gen. James B. Steedman. It appears that Tinkham, who is a citizen of Michigan, when Gen. Sherman took possession of Atlanta, rented, occupied and furnished the Trout House in that city at considerable expense. When Gen. Sherman left Atlanta, Mr. Tinkham, by his consent, moved back to Chattanooga, within the Federal lines, with his property. Gen. Steedman, being in command there, not only took possession of Mr. Tinkham's property, but had him arrested and put in jail. For this he brought suit and recovered, as stated.

ALABAMA.—The agent of the Associated Press, at Montgomery, recently telegraphed over the country that the Loyal League at that place had passed resolutions condemning its new Constitution. We read the story, but it looked strange to see the alleged defection of colored men in Alabama from the Union cause, and knowing that some of the agents down that way are given to lying, we did not burden our columns with the sensation, supposing it would soon be contradicted and disproved. Even so; for now it turns out that the resolutions were adopted by just fifteen persons, who were expelled from the Loyal League two weeks ago. The League in Montgomery is more than 300 strong, and is unitedly and enthusiastically for the new Constitution and the Republican cause.

☞ At San Francisco, a dispatch of the 19th says the Legislature has balloted unavailingly for the past three days in joint convention for a United States Senator to succeed Senator Conness. The Democratic Legislative Caucus cannot agree upon a candidate, although they have held nightly sessions since the 12th inst.

☞ John W. Chapman, a Boston merchant, residing in Malden, was one of the persons killed by the railroad disaster at Angola.

☞ The robber Time, that steals all sweetness from the fruits and flowers, is baffled by Phalon's Night-Blooming Cereus. Its aroma is less perishable than that of foreign extract, essence or toilet water, and incomparably more delightful.—Hartford Courier.

O, world, so few the years we live,
Would that the life which thou dost give,
Were life indeed.

What a sorry dyspeptic the poor fellow must have been who wrote these lines. With health attuning every nerve and bounding through every vein, life is life indeed. Would you enjoy life with a zest, use none other than Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus. 31

NO LOSS CAN BE MORE FATAL TO BEAUTY, especially in the female sex, than the loss of the Hair: glossy, luxuriant hair is one of the most powerful of all personal charms. When baldness or even a deficiency of hair exists, we naturally look for a dry and wrinkled skin, a faded complexion; when not actually seen, we see them in imagination. Why, then, not cultivate your hair? Encourage it and strengthen it; or if your hair is gray or white, the natural color can be restored by a few applications of Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S Improved (new style) HAIR RESTORER or DRESSING (in one bottle). Price $1. Every druggist sells it. d21–1m

☞ Of the $2,200,000,000 in United States Bonds, nearly $5,000,000 are in the National Banks and pay very high rates of National, State and Municipal taxation.—The amount of these bonds estimated to be held in Europe, is $600,000,000. The balance, $1,000,000,000, is held in this country and pays an income tax.

PROCLAMATION
For a Day of Merry-Making,
Congratulations and Rejoicing.

Be it known unto the good people of the city of ancient Portsmouth and its vicinity, that by and with the advice of all the Little Boys and Girls, and all the Big Boys and Girls, I have appointed

WEDNESDAY, THE TWENTY-FIFTH DAY

of this present month of December, as a day of General Merry-Making, Congratulations and Rejoicing. And I would ask of all the

Good Grand Fathers and Grand Mothers,
Fathers and Mothers, Uncles and Aunts,
Friends and Relations, to remember the day and to make a merry and happy day, by giving all kinds and descriptions of PRESENTS to their Grand-children, Children, Nephews, Neices, Relations and Friends.

And as they may be somewhat puzzled where to obtain all the various articles needed for so general a giving of Presents, I would further proclaim and make known to all, both small and great, old and young, that my friend,

JAMES F. SHORES, JR.,

Has almost everything that is necessary to answer the various wants of the dear people for

HOLIDAY GIFTS.

His stock is so large, his assortment is so numerous, that it would take more room than the publisher of this paper would allow, to enumerate them all; it is sufficient for me to say that Friend Shores has

Illustrated Standard Works, Miscellaneous Works, Bibles, Prayer Books, Children's Books, Toy Books, Games, Toys, Desks, Stationery, Work Boxes, Silver Fruit Knives and Napkin Rings, Card Receivers and Baskets, Stereoscopes and Views, Photographs,
Tintype and Photograph Albums,
Flower Vases in great variety, Inks, Ink Standsides, Pocket Books, Gold Pens, Rubber Pen-ills with Gold Heads,
Dressing Cases, Handkerchief and Glove Boxes, Parian Busts, &c., &c.

All of which he will sell you at the Lowest Prices. And I further request all my good friends to be sure and examine this splendid Stock of Goods which is now open for Free Exhibition at

No. 1 CONGRESS BLOCK,

Which No. 13 Congress Street, before they make their purchases, as unless they look at them, they will not know what a fine thing they are. They are so well arranged on the counters and shelves, that a few minutes will suffice to give a general idea of the various articles of Taste, Use and Amusement.

FAIL NOT to take heed to these words.

Given under my hand and seal at my council chamber (in every good chimney top) on this tenth day of December, A. D. 1867, and of the Independence of the United States the 92d.

PAIN KILLER A CURE FOR DIPHTHERIA!

All interested, please read the following extract from a letter from Mrs. Ellen R. Mason, wife of Rev. Francis Mason, Toungboo, Birmah:

* * * My son was taken violently sick with diphtheria, cold chills, burning fever and sore throat. I counted one morning ten little vesicles in his throat, very white, and his tongue towards the roots was like a watermelon, full of seeds; the remainder coated as thick as a knife-blade — So many children have died around here that I was afraid to call a physician, and thought I would try your Pain Killer for a gargle with small doses inwardly. I did so, and found the gargle invariably shut off the vesicles, and he raised them up often covered with blood. He was taken sick on Sunday; on Wednesday his throat was clear, and his tongue perfectly clean; of. I also used it as a liniment, with castor oil and hartshorn, for his neck. It seemed to me a wonderful cure, and I can but think it could be known to the many poor mothers in our land who are losing so many children by the dreadful disease.

I have found your Pain Killer one of the most valuable medicines ever used in Burmah. Once I was stung by a very large black scorpion; the pain was indescribable. I immediately applied the Pain Killer (for I never travel without it) again and again, and in half an hour my foot was well. d14—1m

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!

Charles Farmer, Druggist, writes from Ovid, Mich., "I have just sold the last bottle of Allen's Lung Balsam. It sells like 'hot cakes,' and gives Universal satisfaction.

Stanley & Skipper, Chippawa Falls, Wis., write, "We wish you would send us a good supply of Allen's Lung Balsam. It is fast becoming to be one of the necessary institutions of the country. It sells well and gives entire satisfaction to those using it."

F. L. Allen, a well-known druggist at New London, Conn., writes us that ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM is favorably received by the officials.—He says, "I have retailed nearly four dozens bottles over my counter, and it has given good satisfaction."

Many letters like the above are daily received from all parts of the country. The demand for it from California is large for a medicine so recently offered for sale. We have sold hundreds of dozens right to that far-of region of the West Coast, and that accounts for its Great Success. None use it who do not, in return, recommend it to their friends. Hence its great sale.

A SKETCH OF OLD TIMES, in the Children's Department of the Congregationalist, is a readable tale rather than a true history of actual facts; and the moral is that Puritans were not cowards, but that they could kill Indians as well as sing psalms. "Uncle Ned," the writer, however, makes the mistake of trying to write a historical novel on a small scale, with places, and dates, and circumstances, instead of beginning "Once on a time in a village not a hundred miles from Boston."

There was no Puritan Portsmouth in 1762; Portsmouth in Rhode Island, and that in Virginia certainly were not; and Portsmouth in New Hampshire, which seems to have been intended as the scene of the tale, was not a Puritan place by sentiment, tradition nor habits. "Sour-juiced Saints" did not abound there; no drum was beat for public worship, for church bells had been used there many years before that time; people were not all together in the meeting house, for there were four meeting houses; and there might have been an organ voluntary, for one of these houses was an Episcopal church, which had such an instrument. And so far was the leading influence from being "Puritan," that the Independent Church had recently been formed by seceders from the North and South Parishes, because, as they asserted, these two parishes did not stand on the Cambridge platform!

And finally, an Indian battle at a meeting house door in Portsmouth, though it might have been possible in 1762, was not much more probable than in 1867.

These statements are intended as suggestions to Uncle Ned, so that in writing Sketches of Old Times for children, he may paint things as they were, or at all events, as they might have been.

☞ Grant Hall, the Republican head quarters, in the New Bell Tavern Block, having been fitted for occupancy and decorated with appropriate engravings, was formally dedicated on Friday evening. Pithy speeches were made by Messrs. W. H. Y. Hackett, A. W. Haven and I. F. Waterhouse, and the Portsmouth Cornet Band discoursed excellent music.

Wm. R. Martin, Esq., was chosen chairman of the meeting, and Elbridge G. Peirce, Jr., secretary. The following resolutions were passed:

Resolved, That we heartily ratify the renomination of Gov. Harriman, and pledge our best efforts for his re election.

Resolved, That in General U. S. Grant we recognize a standard bearer, tried and true, whose actions render words needless: —and cordially endorse the resolution adopted at the Republican State Convention favoring his nomination for the Presidency.

Resolved, That the thanks of this meeting be and are hereby tendered to the Portsmouth Cornet Band, for the fine entertainment they have furnished us on this occasion.

A committee to report permanent officers for the Grant Club was chosen, to report on Friday evening next.

☞ Lieut. Commander Thomas Davidson, Jr., Constructor at this Naval Station, has been temporarily detached, as we are informed, to attend to the launching of U. S. frigate Monongahela at St. Thomas.

☞ A snow-storm began here about noon of Friday, and if it conducts itself as a decent snow-storm should, we shall have some sleighing for Christmas.

☞ An old-fashioned man says he should like to see some of the "Holidays," concerning which so much talk is made "about this time," of late years.

☞ Hadley & Co.'s Gift Entertainment will continue this afternoon and evening.—See advertisement. The Chamber Set Friday evening was given to Mrs. Allen Greenough, Rogers' Farm. The children all get a present this afternoon, and this evening their elders will wish to carry off some of the valuable gifts so liberally bestowed.

☞ The severely cold weather of late has made work for the ice cutters. We are told that Messrs. Fisher & Eldredge cut 130 tons of ice of good thickness from their pond on Friday, while last season the corresponding cutting was as late as the 15th of January.

— The owner of the tenement house in New York, in which so many lives were lost a few days since, has been held in bail to answer an indictment by the grand jury.

—Gen. Miles, Freedmen's Commissioner in North Carolina, writes Gen. Howard that at no period since the close of the war has the Bureau been of greater advantage than now, and that since the late election the most intense hatred is evinced by the whites towards the blacks.

—A suggestion was recently made by "A Protestant," to the City of Mexico, to obtain from the Governor "one of the many churches or vacant convents, for some kind of Protestant service." Baptists, Calvinists, Episcopalians, Lutherans, etc., are called upon to unite in making this appeal.

GOLD, Friday, 134.

— William Phelps, nineteen years old, and son of George H. Phelps, of Lee, Mass., was kicked on Saturday, and instantly killed, by a colt he was leading.

—John Eaglebouch, a resident of Canal street, New York, was arrested there Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, apparently intoxicated, and at 8 P. M., was found dead in his cell.

—On the 4th inst., Joseph Kellogg, on his way home to Woodford, Vt., from Brownington, was knocked off his wagon by one of his horses, striking his head heavily on the frozen ground, and inflicting injuries so severe there is little hope of his recovery.

—The friends of Gen. Dix, who is coming home from France in the spring, say he will be a candidate for the Presidency before the Democratic Convention, and that when Mr. Johnson finds that he can't reach it himself, he will throw his influence for Dix.

—A Washington special says there is no doubt of the passage of the Reconstruction bill in the Senate, and that its passage in the House has led to a better union in the Republican ranks. The measure is considered by the radicals as insuring a speedy restoration of the excluded States.

525 MILES
OF THE
UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD,
Running West from Omaha
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,
ARE NOW COMPLETED.

This brings the line to the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains, and it is expected that the track will be laid thirty miles further, to Evans Pass, the highest point on the road, by January. The maximum grade from the foot of the mountains to the summit is but 90 feet to the mile, while that of many eastern roads is over one hundred. Work in the rock-cuttings on the western slope will continue through the winter, and there is now no reason to doubt that the entire grand line to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870.

The means provided for the construction of this Great National Work are ample. The United States grants its six Per Cent. Bonds at the rate of from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, for which it takes a second lien as security, and receives payment to a large if not to the full extent of its claim in services rendered. These Bonds are issued as each twenty mile section is finished, and after it has been examined by United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first class road, thoroughly supplied with depots, repair shops, stations and all the necessary rolling stock and other appendants.

The United States also makes a donation of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, which will be a source of large revenue to the Company. Much of this land in the Platte Valley is among the most fertile in the world, and other large portions are covered with heavy pine forests, and abound in coal of the best quality.

The Company is also authorized to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to an amount equal to the issue of the Government and no more. Hon E. D. Morgan and Hon. Oakes Ames are Trustees for the Bondholders, and deliver the Bonds to the Company only as the work progresses, so that they always represent an actual and productive value.

The authorized capital of the Company is One Hundred Million Dollars, of which over five millions have been paid in upon the work already done.

Earnings of the Company.

At present the profits of the Company are derived only from its local traffic, but this already is much more than sufficient to pay the interest on all the Bonds the Company is now issuing, and another mile were built. It is not doubted that when the road is completed the through traffic of the only line connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States will be large beyond precedent, and as there will be no competition, it can always be done at profitable rates.

It will be noticed that the Union Pacific Railroad is, in fact, a Government Work, built under the supervision of Government Officers, and in large part with Government Bonds, and that its bonds are issued under Government direction. It is believed that no similar security is so carefully guarded, and certainly no other is based upon a larger or more valuable property. As the Company's

are offered for the present at NINETY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR, they are the cheapest security in the market, being more than 15 per cent. lower than U. S. Stocks. They pay

Six Per Cent. in Gold,

or over NINE PER CENT. upon the investment.

SUBSCRIPTIONS will be received in Portsmouth by FIRST NATIONAL BANK, and in New York at the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau street, and by

CONTINENTAL NAT. BANK No 7 Nassau St.
CLARK, DODGE & CO., Bankers, 51 Wall St.
JOHN J. CISCO & SON, Bankers, 33 Wall St.

And by the Company's authorized Agents throughout the United States, of whom maps and descriptive pamphlets may be obtained on application. Remittances should be made in Drafts or other funds par in New York, and the Bonds will be sent free of charge by return express. n8—3m

A NEW PAMPHLET AND MAP, showing the Progress of the Work, Resources for Construction, and Value of Bonds, may be obtained at the Company's Offices or of the advertised Agents, or will be sent free on application.

AMERICAN WALTHAM
WATCHES.

This country has reason to be proud of this splendid specimen of American operative genius and enterprise. That it will work a revolution in the watch manufacturing of the world no one can doubt who examines the operations of the Waltham establishment, for it turns out watch movements at just about one half the cost of imported movements—besides the uniform reliability of the machine made watches must give them a great advantage over all others wherever known. A poor time-piece of the machine make will be as rare in the future as a good one of hand make has been heretofore, for machinery is arbitrary in its performance, and can make a perfect article just as easy as one that is worthless. It will be a cause of congratulation if this highly useful American Enterprise shall have the effect of driving out of market the thousands of trashy foreign articles miscalled time-keepers, by furnishing so excellent and economical a substitute.—N. Y. Times.

We have had one of the works of this Company in a case for a considerable time, and comparing them with former first class works of different makers, we perceive by what they have accomplished in our opinion their superiority over any ever introduced for correctness as time pieces.—The World.

We notice with regret (writing of the Paris Exposition) the absence of specimens of American manufacture, which, although only comparatively of recent birth among us, is already producing results of the highest artistic merit. The watches manufactured by the Waltham Company are certainly, so far as strength, durability and excellence as time-keepers are concerned, as good as anything produced by the French or Swiss manufacturers.—N. Y. Herald.

The beauty, the precision, the greater cheapness, the uniform excellence of a watch constructed by machinery so exquisitely adapted to particle of its operation is poetic, gratifully give the American Watches a public preference that will not be deceived.—Harpers' Weekly.

Every Watch fully Warranted.

For Sale by all First-Class Dealers in the United States and British Provinces.

Secure Profitable Investment.
—OF THE—
CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,
First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per Cent. Coupon Bonds,

Principal and Interest payable in Gold Coin, represent the prefered claim upon one of the MOST IMPORTANT LINES OF COMMUNICATION IN THE WORLD as it is the sole link between the Pacific Coast and the Great Interior Basin, over which the immense overland travel must pass, and the Main Trunk Line across the Continent.

The Road is now nearly completed from San Francisco to the Sierra Nevada Mountains in the Salt Lake Basin, and is being rapidly carried forward by the largest force of laborers ever employed by any Railroad Company on this or any other Continent.

The natural, legitimate, commercial business of the road surpasses all previous expectation, and is profitable beyond parallel, even among the oldest roads in existence. The Earnings and Expenses for the Quarter ending Oct. 31, were as follows, IN GOLD:

Gross Earnings,	Operating Expenses,	Net Earnings,
$393,847 92	$102,08861	$291,729 31

The result, however, would have been far greater but for the inability of wagon teams to forward the freight and passengers from the temporary terminus in the mountains.

The United States Government and the State and Cities of California have so aided and fostered the Great Enterprise, that the Company will assume very light annual Interest obligations, and will have following unique Resources at command for the Construction:

DONATIONS in Lands, Bonds, Concessions, &c. (without lien)	$12,800,000
CAPITAL STOCK, Net Earnings, &c. (no lien)	11,000,000
LOANS (subordinate lien)	5,000,000
U. S. SIX PER CENT BONDS, 725 miles, (subordinate lien)	25,517,000
FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS	24,517,000
Resources first 725 miles	$77 83 ,00

The FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS are in sums $1000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, and are offered for the present at 95 per cent. and accrued interest from July 1st, to currency, at which rate they yield nearly NINE PER CENT UPON AN INVESTMENT.

These Bonds, authorized by the Pacific Railroad Acts of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same extent only as they are granted by the Government, and are the prior lean upon the whole valuable property furnished by the above Resources. They possess the utmost confidence and are preferred over other Corporate Securities, and are destined to rank among THE BEST INVESEMENTS IN THE WORLD, from their unusual attractions of safety, soundness and profit.

CONVERSIONS OF GOVERNMENT SECURITIES INTO

Morning Chronicle.

"OLD TIMES."

There's a beautiful song on the slumbrous air,
That drifts through the valley of dreams;
It comes from a clime where the roses were,
And a tuneful heart and bright brown hair
That waved in the morning beams.
Soft eyes of azure and eyes of brown,
And snow white foreheads are there;
A glimmering cross and a glittering crown,
A thorny bed and a couch of down,
Lost hopes and locketa of prayer.

A breath of spring in the breezy woods,
Sweet waifs from the quivering pines—
Blue violet eyes beneath green hoods,
A bubble of brooklets, a scent of buds,
Bird warblers and clambering vines.
A rosy wreath and dimpled hand,
A ring and a slighted vow—
Three golden links of a broken band,
A tiny track on the snow-white sand,
A tear and a silent brow.

There's a tincture of grief in the beautiful song,
That sobs on the slumbrous air,
And loneliness felt in the festive throng,
Sinks down i.. the cool as it trembles along
From a clime where the roses were.
We heard it first at the dawn of day,
And it mingled with matin chimes,
But years have dimmed the beautiful lay,
And its melody floweth from us away,
And we call it now Old Times.

A CLERGYMAN SWINDLED.—A Western preacher, whose credulity seems to have been stronger than his judgment, writes the following account of the way in which he was swindled by some sharpers having an office in New York. No doubt there are similar cases. He says:

"Last summer a New York firm sent out an advertisement of a g it enterprise, which appeared on its face so just and honorable an undertaking, that we was induced to send them ten dollars for eleven tickets. The tickets were received, and soon after the men sent him eight more, requesting him to distribute them. His family took five and three of his neighbors took the others.—They next sent sixteen more tickets, which the reverend returned. In a short time the sixteen tickets were sent back by the lottery men, with the offer that if he would pay for them, and they did not draw a valuable prize, they would make him a handsome present. This bait took, and ten dollars were paid for them. Another sixteen tickets were finally sent to this greenborn, who was told they were the last, as the million and a half of tickets had been sold.—If ten dollars were sent to the lottery men, they guaranteed him a prize worth two hundred dollars at the grand drawing, which was to take place on the 24th of October. The money was sent, and the various sums were acknowledged. Early in November, the minister received a letter, saying that one of his tickets had drawn a prize worth two hundred dollars, but that they levied five per cent. on the prizes, and that ten dollars more must be sent on before the prize would be forwarded. This ten dollars was also sent, but was never acknowledged, and the minister heard nothing more from his friends."

—Speaking of an election which was only for assessors, a country paper says that they elected only the first two syllables.

—Why is an alarm of fire in the night or at church, like a clothes brush? Because it spoils the nap.

—The heaviest woman in Paris, Elizabeth Veronges, has just died. She weighed 520 English pounds.

—"In an old churchyard at Little Compton, R. I., is sleeping the first white woman born in this country. On her tombstone is the following: "Here lyeth the body of Elizabeth, the wife of William Pabodie, who slyed May ye 31, 1717, and in the 94th year of her age. This is the first white female born in this country."

Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, Bonds, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms, with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS; every one of which was decided in his favor by the Commissioner of Patents.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."—ELIAS MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they can not employ a man more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of getting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN Applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part, leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful personal attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

THE WEDDING FIASCO IN WASHINGTON.—The stories relative to the mysterious disappearance of Col. Parker, the Indian chief on Gen. Grant's staff, are quite contradictory. The Washington Star says that on Friday last Col. Parker visited the mother of his intended bride, who resides in the country, and his exposure to the severe weather brought on a violent cold.—After his return, on Saturday, he was very much indisposed, and on Sunday was unable to leave his bed. A physician was summoned and forbid Col. P. leaving his room, hence the wedding was postponed.—He is still quite ill, but it is hoped he will be out in a few days, when the wedding will take place.

The Washington correspondent of the Advertiser, who has made careful inquiry into the facts, tells an altogether different story. He says:

Col. Parker's disappearance was known to his associates on the staff Sunday morning, and some search was made for him that day. When Monday morning came, the fact that he was missing was communicated to Gen. Grant, and soon after to the expectant bride and her father. Diligent search was instituted at once for Col. Parker, and kept up throughout the day and evening, but without finding the least trace of him.

On the following morning, before the time set for the wedding, the near friends of both parties were notified of his disappearance, and accordingly none of them went to the church. Search was kept up all day by experienced officers, but no tidings of the missing man could be obtained. Early in the evening of that day he appeared at one of the leading hotels and was given a room, from whence he sent word of his whereabouts to headquarters.

A hundred stories as to the cause of his disappearance have been set afloat, nearly all of which reflected upon his character as an officer and gentleman. He is at present sick and under medical care. The facts will doubtless be established in a few days. At present it may suffice to say that his explanation fully relieves him from the terrible stigma of dishonor with which he has been charged. It is, in a word, that he is the victim of certain Indians of the tribe to which he belongs, who are bitterly hostile to his marriage with any woman of his own choosing. He says they waylaid him on Saturday evening as he was returning from Gen. Grant's, enticed him to their room, their drugged him heavily and kept him in that condition for sixty hours, and then abandoned him with the expectation that he would die from the effects of the dose administered. This story, strange as it appears, is credited at headquarters.

The tribe want him to marry one of their Indian girls. The affair is being investigated by Gen. Grant, to the end that Parker may establish his blamelessness or else be dismissed from his staff in disgrace.

Colonels and other officers should not suffer themselves to be enticed into doubtful places, nor to touch dangerous drinks, for fear of drugs.

A "DEAD BEAT" PROFESSOR.—A Berkshire professor, who is famous for his love of a joke, even if against himself, bought a railroad ticket at the Pittsfield depot, on Monday morning, on his return home after his Sunday labors, and, as he retired from the window, inadvertently put his wallet into an unaccustomed pocket. Discovering shortly after, as he thought that it was gone, he returned to the window, where he found an inoffensive young man in the act of paying for a ticket from a wallet which was the counterpart of his own. Instantly he seized upon it, to the utter amazement of his victim. The latter, however, regaining his wits, grappled with the Professor, and soon regained his property. About this time the Professor discovered his own pocket-book, and quickly retired with the best grace he could, while the victorious youth exclaimed: "You dead beats can't play your grab games on me. I've traveled!"—Springfield Republican.

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a Stove of merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.
The following names from the large list of purchasers are given for reference:

MONDAY, DECEMBER 23, 1867.

GOVERNMENT BONDS AND NATIONAL BANKS.—Our types, on Saturday, somewhat unceremoniously reduced the resources of the National Banks. They then said that the banks held $5,000,000 of Government Bonds. Instead of five millions, they hold between three and four hundred millions of dollars of these bonds.

The people who complain that these bonds are not taxed, do not seem to be aware that the U. S. Bonds which constitute the capital of the National Banks, pay a higher tax than perhaps any other property.

As we understand the matter, they pay a tax to the State and to the United States, to an amount, reckoned in currency, of more than one-half the interest on the bonds. They transfer and disburse the money of the Government without expense, and what is of more importance to the people, they furnish the best paper currency we ever had. It is of uniform value throughout the country, and of undoubted soundness.

INCREASE OF BURDENS.—The reader may remember that we gave, last week, a hint on the probable increase of our debt and taxes, if the Confederated Rebels and Copperheads could succeed in getting a majority in Congress. Since that writing, Ben: Perley Poore has telegraphed the following from Washington to the Boston Journal:

A gentleman who has arrived here from a tour through the Southern States, says that the secessionists are nearly as bold and defiant as they were in 1860. In every State a list of slaves emancipated is being compiled, and it is proposed to pay the owners in State bonds, which, it is expected, will be assumed by the United States Government when the Democrats come into power.

This, we repeat, is the natural effect of the Johnson policy, and of the victories of the Democratic party. If any man in New Hampshire wishes to pay the rebel debt and pay for their negroes, let him vote the regular Democratic ticket.

A SHREWD TRICK.—Perley's Washington dispatch of Dec. 20, says:

Andrew Johnson is a cunning "cross-roads politician," and he is doubtless jubilant to-night over his having outflanked Congress on the removal of legal disinctions of color in this District. In July last, when Congress passed a bill striking the word "white" from all laws of the District, Mr. Johnson retained it until after the close of the session and it was lost. At the commencement of the present session the bill was again passed, and the President's friends promised speedy action on it by him. Day after day has the veto been promised, and it was so confidently expected to-day that a large number of the members had made their preparations to leave. Mr. Johnson, finding that Congress would not prolong its session, adroitly availed himself of the chance to again "pocket" the bill.—He has, however, only delayed action and caused unnecessary expense, for Congress will certainly pass the bill a third time, and when it has been vetoed will enact it by a large majority.

We think the joke is a good one; surely Congress ought to have learnt, before this time, that "the President's friends" in Washington are a pack of liars, as base as can be found any where, and that the friends' promises are of no more value than those of the President himself.

☞ The woman, Brown, who, with her husband, is charged with murdering a girl, and firing a house at Canaan, N. Y., to get $5000 life insurance, has made a partial confession. The girl was not their own child. When the body was found in the closet after the fire, the closet door was found locked, and it was discovered that the child had been wrapped up in combustible materials, in order that she might surely be burned to death—if she was not dead already from the effects of laudanum. A baser murder was never committed.

☞ It is said that about a dozen missionaries of the P. L. L. democracy, of Boston, have been holding a secret meeting with kindred spirits in New Hampshire, at Concord, hoping to influence the coming election in that way.

☞ Rev. J. F. Lovering, of the Unitarian Society at Concord, N. H., has received a call to the Unitarian Society at Taunton, Mass., which has been without a settled pastor since Rev. Mr. Brigham resigned to go to Ann Arbor, Mich.

MEXICO.—The mail dates from the capital are up to the 11th inst. There was great excitement over the withdrawal of the British legation and consuls, and the matter was freely commented on by all the press. According to the instructions, Mr. Middleton is to leave British subjects under the protection of Mexico herself. It was expected all the European legations would follow the example of Great Britain, and leave the United States the sole occupant of the diplomatic field in Mexico.

Rich mines have been discovered in the State of Vera Cruz. Several have also been discovered near the town of Urez in Sonora. They consist of eight gold mines, thirty-five silver mines, and two copper mines, besides thirty others of different character.

YORK COUNTY.—The friends of Thomas Jenkins of Saco propose to meet at his house on the 14th of next month, to celebrate his 100th birthday.

Nathaniel Kimball of Kennebunkport has a cat 15 years old which shows no signs of old age.

The levee of the ladies of the Biddeford Universalist Society was continued three evenings, and was repeated in Saco by request. A good round sum was realized for the benefit of the society in building their new church; $460 received in Biddeford and $105 in Saco.

At Camden, Me. Thorndike, aged 94 years, and blind, was so severely burned by her clothes taking fire while lighting her pipe, that she died next morning.

NEW YORK ITEMS.—A morning paper contains an account of a swindle perpetrated on Judge Barnard, by which a bogus diamond broker obtained $40,000 from the Judge.

An injunction has been issued against a Swiss firm, prohibiting them from counterfeiting the name of the American Watch Comany.

All vessels arriving within the past three days report damage in the late storm. Ship David Crockett, from San Francisco, arrived last night, lost Charles Moore of Boston and a Norwegian seaman overboard on the 15th.

Ship City of Sydney has been ten days on the coast in fearful gales. She shipped heavy seas, one of which washed one man overboard and injured six others.

Ship Universe, from Liverpool, reports, during a gale on the 9th, J. F. Kenny, seaman, of Boston, fell overboard, and Henry Wilson, carpenter, and A. Hay, seaman, attempted to save him in a boat, but both fell overboard and all three were drowned. The Universe brought to port the captain and crew, six in all, of schooner Caleb Stetson, from Philadelphia for Braintree, Mass. They were so badly frozen and disabled at the time of rescue that they had to be taken on board the ship by ropes, having been ten days on the wreck, four days without fire or water, and their provisions destroyed by the sea.

SCENE IN A KENTUCKY COURT HOUSE. In the good old times in Kentucky, "when substantial justice" was administered in a log cabin, after a very free and easy manner, a suit was brought to recover certain moneys which it was alleged plaintiff had been defrauded out of by the ingenious operation known as "thimble rigging." In the course of the trial, plaintiff's counsel, who happened to be an "expert," undertook to enlighten the court as to the modus operandi of the performance. Putting himself into position, he produced the three cups and "the little joker," and proceeded, suiting the action to the word:

"Then may it please the court, the defendant placing the cups on his knee thus, began shifting them so, offering to bet that my client could not tell under which cup was the 'little joker,' meaning thereby, may it please the court, this ball, with the intention of defrauding my client of the sum thus wagered. For instance, when I raise the cup so, your honor supposes that you see the ball."

"Suppose I see!" interrupted the judge, who had closely watched the performance and was sure that he had detected the ball, as one of the cups was accidentally raised.—"Why any fool can see where it is and bet on it, and be sure to win. There ain't no defraudin' thar."

"Perhaps your honor would like to go a V on it?" insinuated the counsel.

"Go a V? Yes, and double it too, and here's the rhino. It's under the middle cup." "I'll go a V on that," said the foreman of the jury.

"And I, and I," joined in the jurors, one after the other, until each one had invested his pile.

"Up!" said his honor.

"Up" it was, but the "little joker" had mysteriously disappeared. Judge and jury were enlightened, and found no difficulty in bringing in a verdict in favor of the plaintiff, on the ground that it was the "derndest kind o' defraudin."

THURSDAY SPECTATOR AND BOSTON WEEKLY ADVERTISER.—This paper, which we advertise this morning, has just appeared, not only with new and elegant type, but in a new form, a quarto of eight pages—a form well adapted to a weekly paper, and much preferable to the very large pages—This is one of the best papers of the kind in the country, both for its judicious selections and its excellent editorials, and is given to those who subscribe for the Daily Advertiser—as per the advertisement.

— What key opens the gate to misery? Whiskey.

— Major G. W. Nichols, author of Sherman's March to the Sea," is said to be engaged to Miss Longworth, daughter of the late Mr. Longworth the Cincinati millionaire. She is the wealthiest unmarried lady in the country.

— The Fall River Times says that during the war of 1812-15 the late Welcome Johnson, who lived in Somerset, was employed as a ship carpenter at the Navy Yard in Charlestown. For thirteen months Mr. Johnson walked every Monday morning from his residence to the Navy Yard, a distance of fifty miles, and after performing his six days' labor, returned home every Saturday night on foot.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

BOSTON, Dec. 19, 1867.

A day or two spent in Boston will convince any close observer of a fact that has long been patent to many of the most knowing ladies of old "Strawberry Bank," that as a place to do "shopping," Portsmouth is far preferable for the retail purchaser, except in some few specialties. The courteous and unruffled demeanor of your own dry goods clerks is hard to be found at the "Hub" outside of a single store, while the prices will fail to make up the difference in railroad fare, refreshments, time, travel and wear of mind and body. I bear in mind a case recently coming to my knowledge, of a newly arrived couple in your city, who had been told they would have to "go to Boston if they wished to buy anything," but who returned after an afternoon's trial among your shops, well pleased with its results, having expended a number of hundred dollars to such good purpose that the lady declared she could "shop" as well in Portsmouth as in New York, while the dealers were extolled for their deportment toward all, whether purchasers or not. No doubt the infatuation which brings so many people from all sections to harrass the shopkeepers of large cities with their search for bargains, has much to do with this difference in manners, but it is a difference not easily overlooked.

As in your city, so here, "Holiday" goods are the attractions most prominent; but even in these, there seems to be a slight depression —in the sale, not in the prices.

St. Paul's Lodge, F. A. M., of South Boston, installed officers on Tuesday evening, on which occasion much interest was added by the fine music furnished by a choir under Prof. Charles W. Birch, organist, (of the firm of Birch & Henderson). The exercises were followed by a pleasant dance to the music of Hall's Band.

The fraternity in this vicinity well understand how to arrange such matters, and seem as desirous for the presence of representatives of the press on all such occasions, as some of the order are urgent for their exclusion when anything of the kind takes place in Portsmouth.

Next to the new bridge over the Merrimac, one of the most noticeable improvements on the line of the Eastern Railroad, is the new refreshment saloon at Ipswich, which from the uniform excellence of viands served to its patrons, is winning a reputation among travellers similar to that formerly enjoyed by the "Maassasoit" at Springfield, though on not quite so extended a scale. ION.

A ROWLAND FOR AN OLIVER.—In the U. S. House of Representatives, December 20, Gen. Butler, in a debate on granting lands to Southern railroads, made a reply to Chandler of New York, who tauntingly called him "the hero of New Orleans." The Gen. replied that he simply desired to say to the gentleman from New York, and to all others, that he did not claim to be the hero of New Orleans; that honor belonged to Farragut. He did claim, however, to be the hero of New York, for in 1864 he did have a fair election there, something that the people of New York have never had either before or since. This retort provoked a general roar of laughter.

☞ In London, Dec. 20, the Coroner's inquest on the bodies of those who were killed by the explosion at the Clerkenwell prison, was concluded. The jury rendered a verdict charging Timothy Desmond and Jerry Allen, who were arrested on the 13th inst., with the crime of murder, in having caused the explosion which resulted in the death of the deceased.

The prisoners, English, Mulvaney, O'Keefe and W. Desmond, were brought before a Justice for examination on the 20th. The testimony, so far as elicited, goes to show that they had something to do with the Clerkenwell explosion. They were remanded to jail for further examination.

☞ It is said Gen. Hancock's friends have discovered that some of the Democrats who are opposed to him as their Presidential candidate, have put into circulation a story that he served on the Assassination Conspiracy Commission, which it appears is not true.

☞ Strawberries grown in the open air are among the articles now daily offered for sale in the New Orleans market.

—Theodore Tilton had just entered a hotel in a Western town, and was going up stairs very travel-stained to change his toilet preparatory to lecturing, when he encountered on the second floor an overdressed and vulgar woman. "Are you the porter?" questioned the woman, laying her hand upon Theodore's arm. "No, madam," was the quiet response, "are you the chambermaid?"

A GIFT WOTH GIVING.—Four Certificates of the Washington Library Company of Philadelphia, in aid of the Riverside Institute for educating orphans, costing four dollars, with the fine engraving, "The Perils of our Forefathers;" each certificate secures also one present at the Great Distribution by the Company, making four presents, one or more of which may be worth thousands of dollars.—Read advertisement.

Tickets and circulars may be obtained in Portsmouth, at E. A. Joy's Music Store.

THE FIVE SENSES.—It has been a disputed point which of the five senses affords the most pleasure, but it is generally conceded to be either feeling or tasting. Without disputing the felicity of the sense of feeling, we do believe that all persons who are favored with pies, puddings, cakes and biscuits raised with Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus must decide on the pleasure of taste. 3t2

HOW TO GET RICH.—In every purchase be sure and get the worth of your money, and live within your income. If you are housekeeper, always ask your grocer for Pyle's O K Soap which saves labor, time and money. 33

— The New York Times styles "Broadway as a perfect hell of drunkenness—a howling, staggering pandemonium of brutalized men."

—A religious body having resolved to build a new church, the pastor went about begging very zealously, accepting not only the widow's, but the child's mite. In the Sunday School one Sunday, while instructing them, he compared himself to a shepherd, and then inquired what the latter did with his flock.—One bright-eyed little fellow promptly replied, "He shears them."

PROCLAMATION

For a Day of Merry-Making,

Congratulations and Rejoicing.

Be it known unto the good people of the city of ancient Portsmouth and its vicinity, that by and with the advice of all the Little Boys and Girls, and all the Big Boys and Girls, I have appointed

WEDNESDAY, THE TWENTY-FIFTH DAY

of this present month of December, as a day of General Merry-Making, Congratulation and Rejoicing. And I would ask of all the

Good Grand Fathers and Grand Mothers,
Fathers and Mothers, Uncles and Aunts,
Friends and Relations, to remember
the day and to make a merry
and happy day, by giving all kinds
and descriptions of PRESENTS to their Grand-children, Children, Nephews, Nieces,
Relations and Friends.

And as they may be somewhat puzzled where to obtain all the various articles needed for so general a giving of Presents, I would further proclaim and make known to all, both small and great, old and young, that my friend,

JAMES F. SHORES, JR.,

Has almost everything that is necessary to answer the various wants of the dear people for

HOLIDAY PRESENTS.

His stock is so large, his assortment is so numerous, that it would take more room than the publisher of this paper would allow, to enumerate them all; it is sufficient for me to say that Friend Shores has

All of which he will sell you at the Lowest Prices. And I further request all my good friends to be sure and examine this splendid Stock of Goods which is now open for Free Exhibition at

Which No. 13 Congress Street, before they make their purchases, as unless they look at them, they will not know what there is. They are so well arranged on the counters and shelves, that a few minutes will suffice to give a general idea of the various articles of Taste, Utility and Amusement.

PAIN KILLER A CURE FOR DIPHTHERIA!
All interested, please read the following extract from a letter from Mrs. Ellen B. Mason, wife of Rev. Francis Mason, Tounghoo, Birmah:
* * * My son was taken violently sick with diphtheria, cold chills, burning fever and sore throat. I counted one morning ten little vesicles in his throat, very white, and his tongue towards the roots was like a watermelon, full of seeds the rennet was not as thick as a knife-blade—So many children have died around here, I was afraid to call a physician, and thought I would try your Pain Killer for a gargle with small doses inwardly. I did so, and found the gargle invariably cut off the vesicles, and he raised them up, often covered with blood. He was taken sick on Sunday; on Wednesday his throat was clear, and his tongue rapidly clearing off. I also used it as a liniment, with the accord all around his throat and neck. It seemed to me a wonderful cure, and I can but wish it could be known to the many poor mothers in our land who are losing so many children in this dreadful disease.
I have found your Pain Kiler one of the most valuable medicines ever used in Burmah. Once I was stung by a very large black scorpion; the pain was indescribable. I immediately applied the Pain Killer (for I never travel without it) again and again, and in half an hour my foot was well.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!
Charles Farmer, Druggist, writes from Ovid, Mich. That he has sold the last bottle of Allen's Lung Balsam. It sells like 'hot cakes,' and gives Universal Satisfaction.
Stanley & Skipper, Chippawa Falls, Wis., write, "We wish you would send us a good supply of ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM, as it is getting to be one of the necessary institutions of this country. It sells well and gives entire satisfaction to those using it."
F. L. Allen, a well-known druggist at New London, Conn., writes us that ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM is favorably received by the afflicted.—He says, "I have retailed nearly four dozen bottles over my counter, and it has given good satisfaction."
Many letters like the above are daily received from all parts of the country. The demand for it from California is large for a medicine so recently offered for sale. We have sold hundreds of dozens to go to that far-of region of gold. It CURES, and that accounts for its Great Success. Some use it who do not, in return, recommend it to their friends. Hence its great sale.

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.

SORE CHEST AND COUGH CURED,
DR. ALLNOCK.—Sir: In May last I was visiting my cousin in Corning, who got me one of your Porous Plasters for my chest. I was so sore through me at the time, I could hardly speak or breathe. It was not more than three hours after I put it on before I felt comfortable. I had suffered very much from soreness of the chest, with cough and hoarseness, for months; but your Plaster has cured me, and my health is better than it has been for years. Yours respectfully,

Local.

☞ Advertisers should bear in mind that notices may appear in either our Daily or Weekly papers, or both, as they prefer; and contracts by the year, for Advertising in the Gazette are solicited, on the most reasonable terms; and all such will be inserted once gratis in the Daily.

☞ One of the most attractive display windows in the city, is that of Mr. G. F. Melcher's Jewelry Store, on Congress Street.—His advertisement in another column sets forth in general terms the nature of the goods which he offers in great variety and of excellent patterns, suitable not only for the holidays, but for all seasons. From his long residence among us, Mr. M. needs no introduction as an attentive and suave person behind his counter, and those who visit his establishment will but echo the general decision when they pronounce it a bijou of a jewelry store.

☞ The wagon load of mutton we mentioned a few days ago as being sold in our market for 8 cents per pound, was frozen and brought from a distance. We learn that a man from Eliot delivered mutton in the city, not frozen, but cut to suit, for 9 cents per pound, the same day. At these rates, we should think people might "return to their mutton" without complaining.

☞ The Portsmouth Ice Company has built a new and capacious ice house near the Concord Railroad Station in this city, which they will this week begin to fill with ice cut in Raymond. We understand they will probably not cut much, if any, at their ponds in this city and Newington, as they can procure it cheaper at Raymond, and of better quality.

☞ Mr. R. K. Oxford on Saturday presented us with half a dozen handsome Bartlett Pears, fully ripe, well preserved, and as fresh to the eye and tooth as if just from the tree. How he kept them, does not appear; but he calls them Winter Bartletts. Who says it isn't worth while to live in the suburbs?

☞ The display of holiday gifts by many of our city dealers is not only large, but even more than usually tempting. In our advertising columns may be found the cards of numerous dealers, who wish to call especial attention to their preparations for the gift season. Those wishing to select presents for nestowal will do well to peruse our advertising columns ere making a choice.

☞ One hundred and one men were discharged from the Navy Yard on Saturday; ninety-nine having been employed by the Bureau of Construction, and two by the Civil Engineer's Department.

☞ A beautiful assortment of vases, perfume stands, and fancy articles in glass, parian ware, china, and other materials, may be found at Mr. Sise's store on Market Square.

☞ The Eastern Railroad Company and the New Hampshire Eastern have declared a dividend of 4 per cent. payable Jan. 1 to holders of stock Dec. 20.

☞ Friday night's snow brought us no sleighing. It was grub and go on Saturday, and a great deal more grub than go, for the few runners there were out.

☞ Carpenter Joseph E. Cox has been detached from duty on board the Sabine, and ordered to the Piscataqua.

☞ THE LAW TERM for the First Judicial District closed its December term on Wednesday. The following named cases from this neighborhood were disposed of:
Thomas H. Grenville vs. Joseph J. Berry and others. In Equity. Bill dismissed. Hatch and Goodall for Plff. W. H. Y. Hackett for Defts.
Mark G. Ham vs. Eliza A. Ham. Libel for divorce. Divorce decreed. W. H. Y. Hackett for Libellant. Frink for Respondent.
Alice A. Roofe vs. George Roofe. Libel. Divorce decreed. Goodall for Libellant.
State vs. Charles D. Towle, for contempt in treating Jurors attending Court who had tried and were liable to try a case to which he was party. Fined $50 and costs. Small for State. Frink and Towle for Respondent.
William Mayberry vs. Concord Railroad. Verdict for Plaintiff set aside. New trial. Hatch for Plff. Wm. H. Hackett, S. N. Bell for Defts.
Sarah Jane Howard vs. Nathaniel T. Howard. Libel for divorce. Divorce decreed for desertion. W. H. Y. Hackett for Libellant.

OUR LYCEUM has been poorly attended the present season. The names of "great stars" from abroad has not had the effect of filling the seats. It was pleasant to find that the interest taken in the lecture by one of our townsmen last week, gave as good an audience as we have noticed in the winter course. It reminded us of the early days of the Lyceum, some thirty years ago, when the old Cameneum was crowded to listen to gratuitous lectures of our own townsmen exclusively, and the audiences were as well instructed as by the hundred-dollar "wandering stars" of the present day. There now come up before us the names of our Burroughs, Peabody, Ladd, Holt, Ballou, Haliburton, Cheever, Haven, Woodbury, Bartlett, Hayes, Goodrich, Coues, Hackett, Pierrepont, Long and others, who devoted no little labor to their work—for they felt more pride to stand well among their own townsmen than can be expected of a stranger. Thirty years have gone by and a new generation has sprung up. Cannot a dozen be found now in Portsmouth, who will sustain an old-fashioned Lyceum next winter? —Journal

— A trial trip—a trip with two Saratoga trunks, four band boxes and a—woman.

— Thieves are prowling round the West stealing hair for eastern jewelers. Two ladies in Indiana were forcibly shorn.—Ex.
Well, they needn't steal any more, for every woman and girl in the East has got a bunch bigger than her head now.

☞ Hadley & Co. closed their season of three nights at the Temple, on Saturday evening. The fairness of the gentlemen is unquestioned, and the numerous gifts they dispensed must have equalled in cost a sum nearly allied to their reciepts. Mr. Daniel W. Marden, 62 Islington street, was presented with an elegant Chamber Set, a most lavish return for his investment. We understand the Company will return to this city ere long, and we bespeak for them a liberal patronage.

☞ On Satuaday morning a railroad train near Walpole, Mass., bound to Boston, was damaged by a broken rail. The smoking car and one passenger car were thrown from their trucks, and one passenger car thrown over on one side and set on fire, but was soon extinguished. No one was killed; about a dozen persons hurt.

GOLD, Saturday, 133 3-8.

— Rev. W. L. Gage has declined the call extended to him from the Richmond Street Church in Providence.

—It is said that the "whiskey ring" have determined to spend half a million dollars to push their plans through Congress.

— There would be no evil speakers, if there were no evil hearers. It is as scandal as in robbery—the reciever is as bad as the thief.

—The man who earns his living by the sweat of his brow, complains that it is hard times just now, when the thermometer is down toward zero.

— Cotton socks next to the skin and woolen socks outside them, are represented as a sure cure for cold feet. At night the cotton socks will be quite dry and the outside ones damp.

— An old minister, while one day pursuing his studies, was suddenly interrupted by his wife asking him the question—one which has puzzled the oldest divines—"Do you think we shall know each other in heaven?" Without a moment's hesitation he replied: "To be sure we shall. Do you think we shall be bigger fools there than we are here?"

— A merchant, who was absent from home, received a telegram informing him of his wife's safe delivery of a little girl; at the same time a letter from his partner advised him that a draft had been presented for $5000, and the signature seemed rather doubtful. The merchant replied to both letters, but misdirected them. The astonishment of the wife may be imagined when she read: "I know nothing about it; it's a swindle." The partner received a hearty congratulation on her safe deliverance.

525 MILES
OF THE
UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD,
Running West from Omaha
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,
ARE NOW COMPLETED.
This brings the line to the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains, and it is expected that the track will be laid thirty miles further, to Kenosha pass, the highest point on the road, by January. The maximum grade from the foot of the mountains to the summit is but eighty feet to the mile, while that of many eastern roads is over one hundred. Work in the rock-cuttings on the western slope will continue through the winter, and there is now no reason to doubt that the entire grand line to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870.
The means provided for the construction of this Great National Work are ample. The United States grants its Six Per Cent. Bonds at the rate of from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, for which it takes a second lien as security, and receives payment to a large if not to the full extent of its claim for services. These Bonds are issued as each twenty mile section is finished, and after it has been examined by United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects first class road, thoroughly supplied with depots, repair shops, stations and all the necessary rolling stock and other equipments.
The United States also makes a donation of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, which will be a source of large revenue to the Company. Much of this land in the Platte Valley is among the most fertile in the world, and other large portions are covered with heavy pine forests, and abound in coal of the best quality.
The Company is also authorized to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to an amount equal to the issue of the Government and no more. Hon. R. D. Morgan and Hon. Oakes Ames are Trustees for the Bondholders, and deliver the Bonds to the Company only as the work progresses, and that they always represent an actual and productive value.
The authorized capital of the Company is One Hundred Million Dollars, of which over five millions have been paid in upon the work already done.
Earnings of the Company.
At present the profits of the Company are derived only from its local traffic, but this already is much more than sufficient to pay the interest on all the Bonds the Company can issue, if not another mile were built. It is not doubted that when the road is completed the through traffic of the only line connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States will be large beyond precedent, and as there will be no competition, it can always be done at profitable rates.
It will be noticed that the Union Pacific Railroad is, in fact, a Government Work, built under the supervision of Government Officers, and to a large extent with Government money, and that its bonds are issued under Government direction. It is believed that no similar security is so carefully guarded, and certainly no other is based upon a larger or more valuable property. As the Company's
are offered for the present at NINETY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR; they are the cheapest security in the market, being more than 15 per cent. lower than U. S. Stocks. They pay
Six Per Cent, in Gold,
or over NINE PER CENT. upon the investment.
SUBSCRIPTIONS will be received in Portsmouth by FIRST NATIONAL BANK, and in New York at the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau street, and by
CONTINENTAL NAT. BANK No. 7 Nassau St.
CLARK, DODGE & CO., Bankers, 51 Wall St.
JOHN J. CISCO & SON, Bankers, 33 Wall St.
And by the Company's advertising Agents throughout the United States, of whom maps and descriptive pamphlets may be obtained on application. Remittances should be made in drafts or gold funds par in New York, and the bonds will be sent free of charge by return express. n8—3m
A NEW PAMPHLET AND MAP, showing the Progress of the Work, Resources for Completion, and Value of Bonds, may be obtained at the Company's Offices or of its advertised Agents, or will be sent free on application.

AMERICAN
WATCHES.
This country has reason to be proud of this splendid specimen of American operative genius and enterprise, that it will work a revolution in the watch manufacturing of the world no one can doubt who examines the operations of the Waltham establishment, for it turns out watch movements at just about one half the cost of imported movements—besides the uniform reliability of the machine made watches must give them a great advantage over all others wherever known. A poor time-piece of the machine make will be as rare in the future as a good one of hand make has been heretofore, for machinery is arbitrary in its performance, and can make a perfect article just as easy as one that is worthless. It will be a cause of congratulation if this highly useful American Enterprise shall have the effect of driving out of market the thousands of trashy foreign articles miscalled time-keepers, by furnishing so excellent and economical a substitute.—N. Y. Times.
We have had one of the works of this Company in a case for a considerable time, and comparing them with former first class works of different manufacture possessed by us, they have establish in our opinion their superiority over any ever introduced for correctness as time pieces.—The World.
We notice with regret (writing of the Paris Exposition) the absence of specimens of American manufacture, which, although only comparatively of recent birth among us, is already producing results of the most satisfactory character. The watches manufactured by the Waltham Company are certainly, so far as strength, durability and excellence as time-keepers are concerned, as good as anything produced by the finest French or Swiss manufacturers.—N. Y. Herald.
The beauty, the precision, the greater cheapness, the uniform excellence of a watch constructed by machinery so exquisite that the human fingers cannot operate it poetic, gradually give the American Watches a public preference that will not be deceived.—Harpers' Weekly.
Every Watch fully Warranted.
For Sale by all First-Class Dealers in the United States and British Provinces.

Secure Profitable Investment.
—THE—
CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,
First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per Cent. Coupon Bonds.
Principal and Interest payable in Gold Coin, represent the preferred claim upon one of the most important LINES OF COMMUNICATION IN THE WORLD as it is the sole link between the Pacific Coast and the Great Interior Basin, over which the immense overland travel must pass, and the Main Trunk Line across the Continent.
The Road is now nearly completed from Sacramento to the richest Mining Regions in the Salt Lake Basin, and is being rapidly carried forward by the largest force of laborers ever employed by any Railroad Company on this Continent.
The natural, legitimate, commercial business of the road surpasses all previous expectation, and is profitable beyond parallel, even among the best roads in existence. The Earnings and Expenses for the Quarter ending Oct. 31, were as follows, IN GOLD:

GROSS EARNINGS,	OPERATING EXPENSES,	NET EARNINGS,
$593,347 02	$102,088 61	$491,729 31

The result, however, would have been far greater but for the inability of wagon teams to forward the freight and passengers from the temporary terminus in the mountains.
The United States Government and the State and Cities of California have so aided and fostered the Great Enterprise, that the Company will assume very light annual Interest obligations, and will have following ample Resources at command for the Construction:

DONATIONS in Lands, Bonds, Concessions, &c. (without lien)	$12,800,000
CAPITAL STOCK, Net Earnings, &c. (no lien)	11,000,000
LOANS (subordinate lien)	5,000,000
U. S. SUBSIDY BONDS, 736 miles, (subordinate lien)	25,517,000
FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS	24,517,000
Resources first 736 miles	$77 831,00

The FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS are in sums $1000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, and are offered for sale at present at 95 per cent. and accrued interest from July 1st, in currency, at which rate they yield nearly TWENTY-SEVEN PER CENT. GOLD INTEREST. These Bonds, authorized by the Pacific Railroad Acts of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same extent only as the bonds granted by the Government, and are the prior lean upon the whole valuable property furnished by the above Resources. They possess all the safeguards and guarantees over other Corporate Securities, and are destined to rank among THE BEST INVESTMENTS IN THE WORLD, from their unusual attractions of safety, soundness and profit.
CONVERSIONS OF GOVERNMENT SECURITIES INTO
Central Pacific First Mortgage Bonds,
now realize for the holders from 12 to 18 per cent. Advantage, with the same rate of interest.

PAT AND THE DEACON.—Some months ago, as Deacon Ingalls of Swampscott, R. I., was travelling through the western part of the State of New York, he fell in with an Irishman, who had lately arrived in this country, and was in search of a brother, who had come before him and settled in some of the diggings in that part of the country.

Pat was a strong man, a true Roman Catholic, and had never seen the interior of a Protestant church. Ingalls was a pious man. He told Pat he was going to church, and invited his new-made friend to keep him company thither, his destination being a small meeting-house near by. There was a great revival there at the time, and one of the deacons, who was a very small man in stature, invited brother Ingalls to a seat in his pew. He accepted the invitation, followed by Pat, who looked in vain for the altar, &c. After he was seated, he turned around to brother Ingalls, and in a whisper that could be heard all around, he inquired: "Shure, and isn't this a heretic church?"

"Hush!" said Ingalls, "if you speak a word they will put you out."

"Divil a word will I speak at all at all," said Pat.

The meeting was opened by prayer by the pastor. Pat was eyeing him very closely, when an old gentleman, who was standing in the pew directly in front of Pat, shouted "Amen!"

"Hist, ye divil," rejoined Pat, in his loud whisper, which was heard by the minister, "be dacent, and don't make a blockhead of yourself!"

The person grew more fervent in his devotions, when the deacon uttered an audible groan—"Amen!"

"Hist, ye blackguard! have you no dacency at all?" said Pat, at the same time giving him a punch in the ribs, which caused him to lose his equilibrium.

The minister stopped, and extending his hands in a suppliant manner, said; "Brethren, we cannot be disturbed in this way.—Will some one put that man out?"

"Yes, your riverance," shouted Pat, "I will do it." And suiting the action to the word, he collared the deacon, and to the utter horror of the pastor, brother Ingalls, and the whole congregation, he dragged him up the aisle, and, with a tremendous kick, sent him into the vestibule of the church.

THE THURSDAY SPECTATOR
—AND—
BOSTON WEEKLY ADVERTISER.

MESSRS. DUNBAR, WATERS & CO. have just issued the first number of a First Class Family Weekly, entitled THE THURSDAY SPECTATOR AND BOSTON WEEKLY ADVERTISER. While taking the place of the present Weekly Advertiser, and employing in part the matter of the Daily Advertiser, this will be an entirely distinct paper, having its own editor, who will carefully select its contents from the columns of the Daily, adding much original matter prepared expressly for the Thursday Spectator. It will be printed in the giving to its patrons Eight Pages and Forty-Eight Columns of reading matter every week. No effort will be spared to make the paper just what is wanted in the family of a New England household, with provision for every need and every variety of taste.

The News of the Week, will be presented in a careful and comprehensive summary; the more important matters being given in full, and care being taken to give in ever Thursday's issue the Latest News.

New England Matters

will receive especial attention, in a department by themselves, with all available items of intelligence arranged by States; while

of general interest will be faithfully chronicled. In the department of the conductors of the Thursday Spectator confidently believe that their facilities cannot be excelled. Writers and representatives at London, Paris, Florence and other points in Europe, a careful and trustworthy correspondent at Washington, and equally active agents and competent letter-writers at New York, Chicago, Portland, Augusta, Concord, N. H., Hartford, etc., they will also be represented by special reporters at any scene of temporary interest.

EDITORIAL ARTICLES

will discuss all topics of current interest as they arise treating of social subjects as well as those of a political nature. The department of

will be made a specialty, and the critisms of the paper will be unbiassed and unspoken. Arrangements are in progress which will probably ensure the early beginning of a by an eminent English author, to appear only in the Thursday Spectator simultaneously with its publication in England.

SHORT SKETCHES.

both original and selected from the best foreign sources will also be made a constant feature.

The Agricultural Department will be in charge of a special and well-qualified editor, and the paper will not only contain for the benefit of the farmer carefully prepared articles on agricultural topics, but a weekly report of the CATTLE MARKET at Cambridge and Brighton, and such a COMMERCIAL RECORD

of transactions in Boston as will furnish a complete and trustworthy source of information as to the prices of produce and the important staples of merchandise.
The Thursday Spectator will be issued from the Daily Advertiser Building in Court street, and will be mailed to subscribers at TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.
Twelve dollars paid in advance at the counting room will entitle to a copy of the DAILY ADVERTISER and a copy of the THURSDAY SPECTATOR for one year. Dec. 21

[From the Great Falls Journal.]

"As HEATHENISH as PAGANS."—At a Convention of the Young Men's Christian Association recently held in New York, Rev. Mr. Church, formerly Presiding Elder, states, in New Hampshire there were fifty towns which had no settled ministry, and no settled worship: that one-third of the population were as heathenish as Pagans, and if something was not done immediately the State would be a wide waste.

This is rather rough as well as tough on the Granite State: but, is it true? The New York correspondent of the Boston Journal first reported this story from Mr. Church, and it certainly has a bad look.

Rev. A J Church is the P. E. referred to, formerly attached to the N. H. Methodist Conference,—more recently, agent of the State Temperance League, which position he vacated, as we heard him state publicly in Haverhill, Mass., because Orthodox or Congregational ministers in this State did not, except in rare instances, afford him any aid and comfort in the good work.

This assertion, like the one at the heading of this article, was surprising to us; we hardly know how to characterize either statement. We can only cite the attention of the New Hampshire Bible Society, the Strafford County Bible Society and every other Bible Society—all the Temperance Leagues, Lodges and Divisions, inclusive—to these startling statements of Mr. Church. If we are realy relapsing into the barbarism noted, there is home missionary work enough for all to do. But this benighted statement we have made our text, is challenged by the Granite State Free Press, published at Lebanon, in this wise:

"The truth about New Hampshire is bad enough, but this picture is evidently overdrawn. New Hampshire will compare well with other States in the virtue, piety and intelligence of her people, Mr. Church to the contrary notwithstanding. We do not say she stands first; we could hardly expect that, her population being so scattered as not to admit of the educational advantages which some other States enjoy; but she is certainly not behind them all, and they all draw largely upon us for their best educators.

With a constant exodus of our best teachers, ministers, doctors, &c., who have gone to educate the people of other States, it is no wonder that our home interests suffer. But it is a libel upon our people to say that one-third of them are as heathenish as pagans, and New Hampshire people will hardly overlook the extravagant statement, so publicly made, if it be not modified.'

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—As the night express from New York, via Springfield, was coming in toward Boston Sunday morning, it ran into a freight train at Wellesley station, between Auburndale and Natick. A brakeman named James McCurdy, of the express train, while putting on his brakes, was jammed between two cars, and was so badly injured that he died in the course of the day. McCurdy was a faithful man, and leaves a mother, whose home is at Kenne, N. H., and a brother in Worcester, Mass.

Four passengers were more or less bruised, all returning Californians belonging in Maine.

Different stories are told as to the cause of the collision; one of a broken wheel which made the freight train late, and as it was snowing fast at the time, the hour being about 6 1-2 o'clock A. M., and the atmosphere thick and dark, the red lantern, which was sent back from the freight train, was not seen by the engineer of the other train soon enough to prevent the crash, though his speed was greatly slackened.—Such was the speed of the engine of the passenger train, however, that the cow-catcher ran underneath the rear car of the freight train, throwing that car directly on top of the engine of the passenger train, staving the smoke-stack into pieces, and barely giving the engineer and fireman time to escape by retreating to the tender.

—A Washington dispatch says that since the publication of Grant's private letter to the President, the latter has become more open in his criticisms of the General. He does not hesitate to denounce him in private, seeing, as he does, that Grant is certain to be the Republican candidate for the next President. The General, however, is as reticent as ever, and says he must be judged by his record.

THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 24, 1867.

FASHION.—The Evening Post has a timely rebuke of the practice of certain journals, to indulge in personal remarks to an unwarrantable extent. It specifies the publication in one paper of the names of gentlemen and ladies in society who are understood to be "engaged." It certainly is not easy to imagine anything more utterly repulsive to good taste, or more likely to excite the disgust and indignation of the parties whose names are thus used, if they themselves have any just notions of propriety. The same paper, we presume, also indulges in the publication of the style of dress worn by young ladies in walking, names, residences, etc., being given in full.

The excuse is sometimes made for such publications, that they are sought, and even furnished by the ladies concerned; and we have little doubt that this is sometimes true, for young ladies can be found who are silly enough for anything. But any editor who pretends to a respectable position, ought to have sense enough to overrule the desire of a giddy gal to make herself ridiculous. It is certainly a very paltry ambition in any journalist to make himself the organ of communication between girls who are foolish enough to seek such notoriety, and the fools who relish such intelligence.—N. Y. Times.

Now we don't see why the fashions of pretty girls, and their marital affairs, may not be as interesting to some folks, and as important, as the political or business movements of stupid men. And if there be anything improper or indelicate in announcing an engagement, then there must be in making or consummating it. If the ladies don't object to having their uniform and their beaux put in the newspapers, we don't see why anybody else need to. Why not devote a little space to the beautiful, when so much is given to the disagreeable and horrible?

THE TALMUD AND THE NEW TESTAMENT.—In the October number of the London Quarterly Review, there is a powerful article on the Talmud, written by a nominally Christianized Jew, which has attracted much attention. The article is one of great power, inspired by a deep intensity of Jewish enthusiasm, and enriched with much learning. Its defect is, that in its aim to exalt the character and influence of the Talmud, it, unintentionally perhaps, but really, detracts from the authority of the teachings of the New Testament, by intimating that many of the precepts of our Saviour and the Apostles had a Talmudic origin, and that they are, therefore, essentially Jewish, and not distinctively Christian. This, one would say, it must be difficult to prove, since the Talmudic traditions, so called, were not reduced to writing until the third century of the Christian era.

We give the above as we find it in an exchange. But in our simplicity, (says Uncle Toby,) we have never supposed the chief value of the Christian doctrines and precepts to consist in their novelty, but in their truth, simplicity, and adaptation to human wants and human happiness.

Jesus himself says he came not to destroy the law nor the prophets,—and if he, and Moses, and some writers of the Talmud, all happen to agree on some points in doctrine and morals, so much the better for the Talmudists. It is a favorite idea of ours that the New Testament dispensation does not clash with the Old—and we are not much disturbed, as some writers appear to be, by attacks made upon either or both.

We do not believe that the Talmudists of the former day are any less fallible than the Commentators of to-day; and we are quite confident that no array of Doctors or Rabbis can destroy the confidence which pious readers have in the teachings that have formed their characters and governed their lives.

THE ADDITIONAL RECONSTRUCTION BILL. Mr. Stevens' bill to amend the Reconstruction act, by modifying the provision which requires first a majority of all the registered votes to be cast at the election, and then a majority of those cast to be for the constitution, is a wise one, and we trust will be as promptly passed by the Senate as it has been by the House. At present, those opposed to the adoption of the new constitutions are reinforced by all who fail to vote, whether from intimidation, fraud, force, illness or other cause of absence from the polls. The question, like all others, should be decided by those who vote, not by those who do not vote. The provision requiring members of Congress to be elected at the same time will facilitate the speedy readmission of the Southern States, and the only wonder is that so manifest a necessity should have been overlooked in the original bill.

The new bill in the House, like all the previous reconstruction measures, was passed by a strict party vote, 104 to 47, even Gen. Cary, the working men's representative from Ohio, voting with the Republicans. The effect of its provisions will be to insure the speedy restoration of the seceded States to the Union.

HEAVY LOSS.—On Saturday night, at Toledo, Ohio, the Michigan Southern and Northern Indiana Railroad Company's grain elevator in that city was destroyed by fire. About 80,000 bushels of grain, mostly wheat, was consumed, involving a loss of $300,000, on which there is insurance to the amount of nearly $208,000, about all in New England companies.

— Dr. P. S. Ten Broek, Surgeon in the U. S. Army, and stationed at Fort Preble, son of Rev. P. S. Ten Broek, formerly rector of St. Paul's Church in Concord, died on Thursday, Dec. 19, of inflammation of the brain, at Portland.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.—Mr. Edwin P. Horn was severely injured while starting up the machinery in one of the Great Falls mills. While engaged in shipping a belt, by means of a pole which he held high above him, the pole became entangled in the belting and was thrown down against the collar bone with such force as to drive that and the first rib down behind the second rib, breaking the tissue of the lung in its progress. Through the aperture the air escapes from the lung, causing the swelling of the neck and face to frightful proportions. Such was the force of the blow that the pole, of hard wood, was shivered to pieces. The accident is a peculiar one, and there are but two similar cases on record.

Col. Whitcomb French and wife, of Peterborough, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage last week. Of eight children, all living, five were present. One of the absent ones, a daughter, resides at Salt Lake City, Utah; one son in Iowa.—Mr. French is widely known in the vicinity, having conducted a first class hotel in Peterborough for several years. They acknowledge the receipt of valuable golden presents from all present and invited guests.

S. Plympton Brackett, the Great Falls confectioner, has gone to Cuba, with a view of posting himself more thoroughly in the cigar and tobacco business, and to see the country and people generally. He was on board the famous Kearsarge, and helped to sink the infamous Alabama.

A course of lectures is to be given at Rochester during the winter. They were proposed by Rev. Mr. Stratton, and among the names and subjects, we notice that Rev. Mr. Kellogg of this city will talk of Trifles.

In Lebanon, the Lyceum consists of a Debating Society.

The Wilton Cornet Band has again secured the valuable services of Mr. Carl Krebs as leader and conductor.

Governor John Wentworth was appointed Colonial Governor of New Hampshire when 31 years of age. He lived to be 84; dying in Halifax, April 8, 1820.

Election sermons were preached before the Legislature of New Hamshire from 1784 to 1831, both inclusive, except in 1793; the first by Rev. Samuel McClintock, D. D., of Greenland, and the last by Rev. President Lord, D. D.

New Hampshire derives its name from Hampshire, England, where John Tufton Mason lived. Mason claimed to be proprietor of much of the State, and gave it the name it has always borne.

Rev. Amos W. Burnham, D. D., of Rindge, has just closed a pastorate of forty-six years.

It is expected that the set of bells to be placed in the tower of the Episcopal Church, Concord, will cost about $2500; the number to be nine, and the largest to weigh about thirteen hundred pounds.—There is no chime in New Hampshire.

Mr. Daniel Blake of Wolfeborough, a delegate from that town in the Republican State Convention, weighs 400 pounds.

E. B. Dodge, Esq., and two other men visited the ponds in Rindge on Wednesday, and took therefrom ninety-two pickerel, which weighed 68 1-2 pounds.

The Strafford County Bible Society held its Fortieth Anniversary in the High Street M. E. Church in Dover, last week. Hon. Asa Freeman of Dover, now deceased, has been President from the beginning. The following officers were chosen for the ensuing year: Hon. Jeremiah Smith, President; Rev. E. N. Hidden and G. W. Wendell, Vice Presidents; Rev. R. S. Stubbs, Secretary; Deacon E. J. Lane, Treasurer.

The Concord Monitor "learns that it is in contemplation to erect a hotel, next season, upon the site of the American House. There is no pleasanter location for a hotel in the city."

WASHINGTON ITEMS, Sunday.—A special dispatch to the Boston Journal says, it is not true that Col. Parker has been dismissed from Gen. Grant's staff on alleged unofficer-like conduct in regard to his contemplated marriage. Many of the statements relative to this affair do not appear to have had much foundation. Col. Parker is lying ill there at the National Hotel.

It appears that three bills have been lost in the President's hands by the recess, though they are all of unimportant interest except the Equal Rights bill. Congress will have to pass them over again.

Officers of the Freedmen's Bureau report that organizations are being formed throughout the Gulf States to fix the value at which the freedmen must work. The members pledge themselves not to hire any one who leaves or who is discharged by another member; not to lease their land to Freedmen, or to permit their hands to keep animals, and to insist upon labor on every week day from sunrise to sunset. The wages for first-class hands are $12 per month and rations, or $18 per month without rations. One-third of the pay to be retained until the end of the year.

☞ A typhoon at Hong Kong, destroyed and damaged the shipping, and a few lives were lost. The American steamer Monocacy, and a British steamer saved many lives. At Manilla the typhhon was accompanied by great rains, flooding the island, and it is said 10,000 Indians were drowned in the province of Ilavos.

DISCHARGING WORKMEN FROM NAVY YARDS.—A correspondent who has no personal interest in the matter, suggests the propriety of an immediate movement to get up a petition to the Navy Department, or Congress, or both, requesting no more discharges this winter,—which petition he says should be signed not only by the workmen on the Yard, but by our citizens generally. We perceive that something of the same sort is done elsewhere. Perley, of the Boston Journal, says in his dispatch of Saturday:

The workmen at the Navy Yard are actively engaged in endeavoring to procure the rescinding of an order from the Navy Department discharging two-thirds of their number at the end of this month. Mr. Stevens of New Hampshire and other members of the Naval Committee have written letters to Secretary Welles, urging him to rescind his order; and yesterday afternoon Mr. Pike of Maine, Chairman of the Committee, went with a delegation of them to the Navy Department to intercede in their behalf. The order was in accordance with a resolution of the House directing the suspension of work at the Navy Yards.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY, FIRE AND MURDER.—On Monday morning, at Haverhill, Mass., at 3 o'clock, an alarm of fire was sounded, caused by the burning of a paint shop. Among others, Joseph Burnham and Isaac S. Scates, watchmen, employed by the town, started to go to the fire. The conrse they pursued took them near the Merrimac National Bank, and when opposite, their attention was attracted by a loud explosion which seemed to come from that building. Visions of burglars and robbery were at once suggested to their minds, and in the performance of their duty they crossed the street, eager to capture the burglar. Mr. B. said to his companion, "you remain in front and watch, and I will go to the rear of the building." As he was passing to the rear, he saw a man jump from one of the windows of the bank, and springing towards him he exclaimed, "I have you now!"

The robber replied, "Not yet," at the same time leveling a revolver and firing at Mr. B., the ball taking effect in his head and killing him instantly. The burglar then fled, and up to 9 o'clock had not been apprehended, nor is there any clue to his identity.

Near the bank was found a ladder, by means of which the burglar had obtained access to the bank. This ladder was taken from the paint shop which was set on fire, which fact leads to the supposition that the burglar was also an incendiary, and had applied the torch in order to distract attention while he prosecuted the robbery. The lock of the outer door of the bank vault had been loaded with powder and ignited, as the door was blown open a couple of inches.—No robbery, however, was effected.

The death of Mr. Burnham has cast a cloud of gloom over the town, as he was a well known and much respected citizen, and a faithful officer. He was about 45 years of age and leaves a widow and children.

FOREFATHERS' DAY.—Sunday was the 247th Anniversary of the Landing of the Pilgrims, and notice of the occasion was taken in several of the churches of New England.

☞ The robber Time, that steals all sweetness from the fruits and flowers, is baffled by Phalon's Night-Blooming Cereus. Its aroma is less perishable than that of foreign extract, essence or toilet water, and incomparably more delightful.—Hartford Courier.

HAWTHORNE ON POLITICIANS.—I pray that in one year more I may find some way of escaping from this unbleat Custom House, for it is a very grievous thraldom. I do detest all offices—all, at least, that are held on a political tenure. And I want nothing to do with politicians. Their hearts wither away and die out of their bodies.—Their consciences are turned to India rubber, and their to some substance as black as that, and which will stretch as much. One thing, if no more, I have gained by my Custom House experience—to know a politician.—It is a knowledge which no previous thought or power of sympathy could have taught me, because the animal, or the machine rather, is not in nature.—Atlantic Monthly for January.

I recently paid a visit to a newly-wedded pair. I found the wife—an accomplished, beautiful and intellectual lady—pale and dejected. The husband, whom I had known a noble, whole-souled fellow, now peevish and fault finding beyond endurance. Supper came; sour, black, bullet biscuit, reeking with the fumes of foul alkalies. Now, thought I, for the peace-maker. I went out a purchased a paper of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus and presented it to the dejected wife, who is no famous for her skill in housewifery, possesses the full affection of her husband, and blesses the inventor of the Gold Medal Saleratus. 33

NO LOSS CAN BE MORE FATAL TO BEAUTY, especially in the female sex, than the loss of the Hair; glossy, luxuriant hair is one of the most powerful of all personal charms. Why, then, not cultivate your hair? Encourage it and restore when it or if your hair is gray or white, the natural color can be restored by a few applications of Mrs. S. A. PROCLAMATION

For a Day of Merry-Making,

Congratulations and Rejoicing.

Be it known unto the good people of the city of ancient Portsmouth and its vicinity, that by and with the advice of all the Little Boys and Girls, and all the Big Boys and Girls, I have appointed

WEDNESDAY, THE TWENTY-FIFTH DAY

of this present month of December, as a day of General Merry-Making, Congratulations and Rejoicing. And I would ask of all the Good Grand Fathers and Grand Mothers, Fathers and Mothers, Uncles and Aunts, Friends and Relations, to remember the day and to make a merry and happy day, by giving all kinds and descriptions of PRESENTS to their Grand-children, Children, Nephews, Neices, Relations and Friends.

And as they may be somewhat puzzled where to obtain all the various articles needed for so general a giving of Presents, I would further proclaim and make known to all both small and great, old and young, that my friend,

JAMES F. SHORES, Jr.,

Has almost everything that is necessary to answer the various wants of the dear people for

HOLIDAY GIFTS.

His stock is so large, his assortment is so numerous, that it would take more room than the publisher of this paper would allow, to enumerate them all; it is sufficient for me to say that Friend Shores has

Illustrated Standard Works, Miscellaneous Works, Bibles, Prayer Books, Children's Books, Toy Books, Games, Toys, Desks, Stationery, Work Boxes, Silver Fruit Knives and Napkin Rings, Card Receivers and Cases, Stereoscopes and Views, Photographs, Tintype and Photograph Albums, Flower Vases in great variety, Toilet Sets, Standsides, Pocket Books, Gold Pens, Rubber Pencils with Gold Heads, Dressing Cases, Handkerchief and Glove Boxes, Parian Busts, &c., &c.

All of which he will sell you at the Lowest Prices. And I further request all my good friends to be sure and examine this splendid Stock of Goods which is now open for Free Exhibition at

Which No. 13 Congress Street, before they make their purchases, for unless they look at them, they will not know what there is. They are so well arranged on the counters and shelves, that a few minutes will suffice to give a general idea of the various articles of Taste, Utility and Amusement.

FAIL NOT to take heed to these words.

Given under my hand and seal at my council chamber (in everybody's chimney top) on this tenth day of December, A. D. 1867, and of the Independence of the United States the 92d.

PAIN KILLER A CURE FOR DIPHTHERIA!

All interested, please read the following extract from a letter from Mrs. Ellen B. Mason, wife of Rev. Francis Mason, Toungboo, Birmah:

* * * My son was taken violently sick with diphtheria. Cold chills, burning fever and sore throat. I counted one morning ten little vesicles in his throat, very white, and his tongue towards the roots was like a watermelon, full of seeds; the remainder coated as thick as a knife-blade. So many children have died around here, I was afraid to call a physician, and thought I would try your Pain Killer for a gargle which would flow inwardly. I did so, and found the gargle invariably cut off the vesicles, and he raised them up, often covered with blood. He was taken sick on Sunday; on Wednesday his throat was clear, and his tongue rapidly clearing off. I also used it as a liniment and bathed on and between my legs his neck. It seemed to me a wonderful cure, and I can but wish it could be known to the many poor mothers in our land who are losing so many children by that dreadful disease.

I have found your Pain Killer one of the most valuable medicines ever used in Burmah. Once I was stung by a very large black scorpion; the pain was indescribable. I immediately applied the Pain Killer (for I never travel without it) again and again, and in half an hour my hand was well. d14—1m

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!

Charles Farmer, Druggist, writes from Ovid, Mich., that he can not sell Dr. Allen's Lung Balsam. It sells like 'hot cakes,' and gives Universal Satisfaction.

Stanley & Skipper, Chippewa Falls, Wis., write, "We wish you would send us a good supply of ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM, as it is getting to be one of the necessary institutions of the country. It sells well and gives entire satisfaction to those using it."

F. L. Allen, a well-known druggist at New London, Conn., writes us that ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM is favorably received by the afflicted.—He says, "I have retailed nearly four dozen bottles over my counter, and it has given good satisfaction."

Many letters like the above are daily received from all parts of the country. The demand for it from California is large for a medicine so recently offered for sale. We have sold hundreds of dozens to go to that far-of region of gold. It CURES, and that accounts for its Great Success None use it who do not, in return, recommend it to their friends. Hence its great sale.

There will be public services at the Unitarian Church on Christmas morning at the usual hour, and in the evening a Sunday School and social assemblage at the Sunday School Room

The North Parish Sabbath School and Society will have a social gathering and festival on Christmas evening at Congress Hall.

A GOOD HIT.—We recollect hearing Rev. Dr. Peabody, on one occasion in his pulpit in this city, say that he hoped nobody would get out of their sphere,—but thought those in the sphere of the City Government, ought to see to it that the laws were enforced and crime punished. So in the brief but earnest, sensible and pertinent report of City Missionary Waterhouse, as published in the Journal, we find these very sad and very suggestive items—particularly suggestive at this time, in view of the recent elections in Massachusetts and elsewhere:

Licentiousness and intemperance abound, and young men and women, boys and girls, are sailing in the circles of sin and being borne to a certain and swift destruction. We have no prohibitory law here, to make men sell and drink strong drinks, as we are told is the case in other places; but they sell and drink nevertheless. There is no law which from mere force of contrariness they will violate, but nevertheless drunken men may be seen almost daily in our streets—and frequently drunken women also. Places for vending liquors spring up like magic, not alone in the low and degraded parts of our city, but as well amid the wealth and intelligence of it.

Constantly there are springing into existence these places where men and women are impoverished and ruined; and taking the word of city officials for it, there is not moral principle enough in the city to check the alarming increase. Much might, and by somebody ought to be said, concerning this low state of moral sentiment among us, and unless there shall be a change for the better, we shall be overrun by sellers and buyers of strong drink.

The same need exists concerning houses of ill-fame, and the same remarks will apply.—There ought to be, and unless we want our sons and daughters ruined in souls and bodies, and ourselves as parents crushed with shame, there must be an awakening among the lovers of morality and rectitude, and that right speedily.

A GOOD ACT.—The thaw of Sunday and the frost of Sunday night, gave our streets a thorough coating of ice, which made dangerous walking. Early on Monday morning, many of our citizens spread coal ashes or sand on the sidewalks near their dwellings; and the city authorities employed men and teams in the same service on a larger scale,—thus, no doubt, preventing many falls.

☞ Granite State Fire Engine Company, No. 5, are to have a grand ball at Congress Hall this evening, with Elliott's Quadrille Band for music. A grand time is anticipated, and the dancers will usher in Christmas right merrily.

☞ The Ventilating Inner Soles advertised in our paper, are valuable means for keeping the feet warm and dry, a luxury most people will thoroughly appreciate. They may be found at the store of Chas. E. Shedd & Co., Congress street.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—"An Evening Walk," and "Trust in God,"—verses, declined.

AN INTERESTING CASE will doubtless be brought to light, in a few weeks, relative to murder and other crimes. A woman, who has lately been sent to the almshouse, in Eliot, by a man whom she called her husband, has made a confession of certain crimes. The name of the man, whom the woman claims as her husband, is James Straw, alias James Strong, alias James Stone, and Jim Swart. He is said to be a native of N.-whfld, Me. He has a brother-in-law in Manchester, not of the most reputable character, who is said to have served one term in the Concord State Prison, for burglary of a house in Franklin.—His accomplice has several aliases.

The woman says she is from Philadelphia, and says they have been living in the woods all around. She tells several very severe things against her husband and his accomplices, among others a murder. The attention of the citizens was first drawn to the matter by her confession to some persons after she reached the almshouse. The services of U. S. Detective Kent of Portsmouth were sought, who, after an investigation into the matter, recommended that the whole affair should be put into the hands of Deputy Sheriff Bartlett, of Kittery, to work up, and he is now very busy in the matter, and promises to be successful. The two men have been arrested at Dover and are now in jail.

— Joseph and Josephine Brown, charged with the murder of a child, on whose life an insurance of $5000 had been effected, in order to obtain the insurance, and then firing the house to conceal the crime, have been taken from Hartford to Hudson, N.Y., for trial. The woman, who accuses Brown of the crime, says he had insured her life for $5000 also, and she believes he intended to destroy her too.

☞ A fire at Salem, Saturday night destroyed the old Pickman Mansion and four stores. Loss $30,000. Partly insured.

—A Jewish proverb says, "Commit a sin twice, and you will think it perfectly allowable."

— The new Democratic Senator from California, Eugene Casserly, is an old Free Soiler of the days of 1847–48, of N. York.

— A Catholic Church, for a colored congregation exclusively, is to be dedicated in Charleston.

— Mrs. S. M. Weld, the relict of the Hon. Stephen M. Weld, died at her residence in West Roxbury on Saturday last, having survived her husband only eight days.

525 MILES

OF THE

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD,

Running West from Omaha

ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

ARE NOW COMPLETED.

This brings the line to the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains, and it is expected that the track will be laid thirty miles further to Evans Pass, the highest point on the road, by January. The maximum grade from the foot of the mountains to Evans Pass is but eighty feet to the mile, while that of many eastern roads is over one hundred. Work in the rock-cuttings on the western slope will continue through the winter, and there is now no reason to doubt that the entire grand line to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870.

The means provided for the construction of this Great National Work are ample. The United States grants its Six Per Cent. Bonds at the rate of from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, for which it takes a second lien as security, and receives payment to a large if not to the full extent of its claim in services. These Bonds are issued as each twenty mile section is finished, and after it has been examined by United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first class road, thoroughly supplied with depots, repair shops, stations and all the necessary rolling stock and other equipments.

The United States also makes a donation of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, which will be a source of large revenue to the Company. Much of this land in the Platte Valley is among the most fertile in the world, and other large portions are covered with heavy pine forests, and abound in coal of the best quality.

The Company is also authorized to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to an amount equal to the issue of the Government and no more. Hon. E. D. Morgan and Hon. Oakes Ames are Trustees for the Bondholders, and deliver the Bonds to the Company only as the work progresses, so that they always represent an actual and productive value.

The authorized capital of the Company is One Hundred Million Dollars, of which over five millions have been paid in upon the work already done.

Earnings of the Company.

At present the profits of the Company are derived only from its local traffic, but this already is much more than sufficient to pay the interest on all the Bonds. The Company can now put another mile were built. It is not doubted that when the road is completed the through traffic of the only line connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States will be large beyond precedent, and as there will be no competition, it can always be done on profitable rates.

It will be noticed that the Union Pacific Railroad is, in fact, a Government Work, built under the supervision of Government Officers, and to a large extent with Government money, and that its bonds are issued under Government direction. It is believed that no similar security is so carefully guarded, and certainly no other is based upon a larger of more valuable property. As the Company's

are offered for the present at NINETY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR, they are the cheapest security in the market, being more than 15 per cent. lower than U. S. Stocks. They pay

Six Per Cent. in Gold,

or over NINE PER CENT. upon the investment.

SUBSCRIPTIONS will be received in Portsmouth by FIRST NATIONAL BANK, and in New York at the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau street, and by

AMERICAN

WATCHES.

This country has reason to be proud of this splendid specimen of American operative genius and enterprise, that it will work a revolution in the watch manufacturing of the world no one can doubt who examines the operations of the Waltham establishment, for it turns out watch movements at just about one half the cost of imported movements—besides the uniform reliability of the machine made watches must give them a great advantage over all others wherever known. A poor time-piece of the machine make will be as rare in the future as a good one of hand make has been heretofore, for machinery is arbitrary in its performances, and can make a perfect article just as easy as one that is worthless. It will be a cause of congratulation if this highly useful American Enterprise shall have the effect of driving out of market the thousands of trashy foreign articles miscalled time-keepers, by furnishing so excellent and economical a substitute.—N. Y. Times.

We have had one of the works of this Company in a case for a considerable time, and comparing them with former first class works of different manufacturers possessed by us, they have established in our opinion their superiority over any ever introduced for correctness as time pieces.—The World.

We notice with regret (writing of the Paris Exposition) the absence of specimens of American manufacture, which, although only comparatively of recent birth among us, is already producing results of the most satisfactory character. The watches manufactured by the Waltham Company are certainly, so far as strength, durability and excellence as time-keepers are concerned, as good as anything produced by the French or Swiss manufacturers.—N. Y. Herald.

The beauty, the precision, the greater cheapness, the uniform excellence of a watch constructed by machinery so exquisite that the mere spectacle of its operation is poetic, profoundly give the American Watches a public preference that will not be deceived.—Harpers' Weekly.

Every Watch fully Warranted.

Secure Profitable Investment.

THE

CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,

First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per Cent. Coupon Bonds,

Principal and Interest payable in Gold Coin, represent the preferred claim upon one of the most important LINES OF COMMUNICATION IN THE WORLD as it is the sole link between the Pacific Coast and the Great Interior Basin, over which the immense overland travel must pass, and the Main Trunk Line across the Continent.

The Road is now nearly completed from Sacramento to the Richest Mining Regions in the Salt Lake Basin, and is being rapidly carried forward by the largest force of laborers ever employed by any Railroad Company on this continent.

The natural, legitimate, commercial business of the road surpasses all previous expectation, and is profitable beyond parallel, even among the oldest roads in existence. The Earnings and Expenses for the Quarter ending Oct. 31, were as follows, IN GOLD:

GROSS EARNINGS,	OPERATING EXPENSES,	NET EARNINGS,
$593,847 92	$102,088 61	$491,729 31

The result, however, would have been far greater but for the inability of wagon teams to forward the freight and passengers from the temporary terminus in the mountains.

The United States Government and the State and Cities of California have so nobly assisted and fostered the Great Enterprise, that the Company will assume very light annual interest obligations, and will have the following ample Resources at command for the Construction:

DONATIONS in Lands, Bonds, Concessions, &c. (without lien)	$12,800,000
CAPITAL STOCK, Net Earnings, &c. (no lien)	11,000,000
LOANS (subordinate lien)	3,000,000
U. S. SUBSIDY BONDS, 726 miles, (subordinate lien)	25,517,000
FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS	24,517,000
Resources first 726 miles	$77 834,00

The FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS are in sums $1000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, and are offered for sale, for the present, at 95 per cent. and accrued interest from July 1st, in currency, at which rate they yield nearly NINE PER CENT. UPON THE INVESTMENT.

These Bonds, authorized by Congress Railroad Acts of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same extent only as the Bonds granted by the Government, and are the prior lien upon the whole valuable property furnished by the above Resources. They possess special insurances and advantages over other Corporate Securities, and are destined to rank among THE BEST INVESTMENTS IN THE WORLD, from their unusual attractions of safety, soundness and profit.

CONVERSIONS OF GOVERNMENT SECURITIES INTO

Central Pacific First Mortgage Bonds,

now realize for the holders from 12 to 18 per cent. Advantage, with the same rate of interest.

Bonds can be obtained through the subscribers directly, or thro' responsible banking agencies.

Morning Chronicle.

BANKS.—The Comptroller of the Currency reports the total number of national banks organized up to October last to be 1673. Of this number, six never completed their organization, eleven have voluntarily closed, seven have consolidated with other banks, and ten have failed, through the foolish management or dishonesty of the bank officers—leaving in active operation sixteen hundred and thirty-nine banks.

Of this number, thirty-nine banks are in the state of New Hampshire, the whole number organized. Nearly all these banks are simply changes of our old state banks into national associations, and are, therefore, under the management of the same bank officers as the state banks, with the same stockholders, and possessing all the advantages derived from the long experience in banking under the state charters.

The thirty-nine national banks of New Hampshire have a paid up capital $4,735,000, and a circulation of $4,223,355, to secure the payment of which, the banks have on deposit with the U. S. Treasury, bonds to the amount of $1,772,000. This deposite of bonds for the prompt payment of circulating notes, forms an additional security to the people over and above all guaranties the people of the state had under the state bank system.

To off-set this advantage to the people, is the withdrawal from the business public, of the amount of capital invested in the bonds deposited to secure the circulation, which, on the first of October, amounted to $4,772,000. This heavy withdrawal of capital from business has not as yet been seriously felt in the state, partially because of the inflation by the issue of legal tenders, and partially because of increased business accommodation by our prospering savings banks.

In the year 1862,—the year prior to the organization of any national banks,—there were fifty-two state banks, of which all are now closed, or closing, except the Salmon Falls Bank at Rollinsford, the Warner Bank, and the Valley Bank at Hillsborough.

The state banks then had an available amount of $9,385,681 to accomodate the people of the state and effect exchanges and redemptions, the latter being a much more difficult task than under the present system. The national banks have $11,373,534, plus their surplus, $416,320, making $11,789,854.

But from this amount there should be deducted $5,439,300 invested in bonds to secure circulation and deposites, and $995,780 reserve, which leaves available for loans, $6,495,080, or nearly three millions less than available amount in 1862. This shrinkage will be felt upon a return to specie payments, but it is not felt now, nor wanted, as the loans of the national banks on the first of October were but $3,972,784. The state bank circulation outstanding, of these national banks, is $52,788.

The petition from the Richmond convention represents that negroes who are hired, are compelled to sign agreements to vote as their employers dictate.

A resolution has been passed by the Grand Army of the Republic, urging the retention of soldiers in the service of the Departments.

Mr. Stanton is writing a reply to the President, in which he will state that he would long ago have retired from the Cabinet, had he not received a letter signed by most of the Republicans in Congress, asking him to retain his seat.

☞ Among the public improvements in Rochester, none has for years been accomplished more important than the late introduction of a hydrant upon Central Square, connected by pipes with the force pump of the Norway Plains Company's mills. It insures an unfailing supply of water from Cocheco river, sufficient, without the necessity of a fire engine, to extinguish any ordinary fire near the centre of the village.—A trial was made on Thanksgiving day, which proved the experiment a success.—The pipes will probably, at a future day, be extended through some of the principal streets.

A SEA-SICK TRAGEDIAN.—Sea-sickness is a sad leveller, to which the strongest minds succumb, leaving nothing but the desire to touch terra firma again. An "eminent tragedian," who has recently made a most successful tour in California, returned East by steamer. Scarcely had the ship got out of sight of land before the Thespian was laid by the heels with mal de mer. In the depths of his despair he called for the Captain, and when that worthy arrived the tragedian gazed at him for a few moments and then asked: "Ar-r-e you the Captain?"

"I have that honor," said the son of Neptune.

"Ve-r-ry well, sir-r-r. Tie her to a rock then, and stop this blasted rolling."

Being assured that this was impossible, the wretched actor retired to his state-room, and lying there in mortal agony, cursed the sea and all that appertained to it with oaths both loud and deep.

Now it so happened that the Rev. Mr. Chadband, who had collected a large sum of money in California to purchase fine-tooth combs and tracts for the Digger Indians, was on his way East to invest his funds, and occupied the state room next to the actor's. Horrified at the roars of the sick lion, he walked into his state room just as he let off another volley of anathemas, which extorted a deep groan from Chadband.

"Halloo!" said the player, "are you sick?"

"Sick at heart, brother," was the reply, "to hear you use such bad language."

"It is a bad habit," said the wretched artist, "but, hang it sir, here I've been turned inside out three days, thrown up everything possible, and, if I'm sick any longer, curse me if I don't think I shall throw up my engagement in New York. Blast the sea."

"Don't, my dear sir, don't curse so. Remember One who was patient under much greater suffering than yours."

The tragedian rose to his full height, and, running his fingers through his hair, as he chewed his voice for a moment, replied:

"I do remember Him, sir; and I remember that when He was caught at sea he got out and walked, and I wish I could follow His example, in that respect at least."

Mr. Chadband concluded that any more missionary effort in that direction would not be very profitable.

ASHLEY ON THE ASSASSINATION PLOT.—Mr. Ashley of Ohio has written a letter, in which he deprecates and denies the current charges that he ever publicly accused President Johnson of any complicity in the assassination plot. He did suspect Mr. Johnson of some guilty knowledge of the event, and has said so in private, and still thinks so. He has done all in his power to unravel this matter, and is ready to avail himself of all further opportunities to prosecute the investigation. He says:

"The testimony on the assassination trials disclosed the fact that on the night of Mr. Lincoln's murder, there were a hundred armed men in Washington to co-operate with the conspirators in the horrible work of assassination. That it was a wide-spread conspiracy is now well known. Evidence which cannot be disputed has established that fact. No effort worthy of the name has ever been made by the government to arrest and bring to justice any one of the conspirators now at large. Surratt was captured and brought home, despite the indifference of the administration, as was shown in the report of the Judiciary Committee submitted by Mr. Woodbridge; and it is believed by many that he will never be convicted, because the Government refuses or neglects to conduct the case as they would an ordinary suit involving a few thousand dollars. It is believed by many that the conviction of Surratt would lead to disclosures which would lift the veil which to-day conceals and shields many of the conspirators. Hence the extraordinary efforts to prevent his conviction."

SCARCITY OF WATER.—The Montreal News says that an idea of the widely prevalent scarcity of water may be formed from the fact that for seventy four miles along the line of the Grand Trunk (east), not a drop of water is in the tanks, and the company are put to great straits to obtain it. Driving cattle eight and ten miles to water is now of common occurrence, even with the snow on the ground.

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 25, 1867.

WORKMEN IN NAVY YARDS.—A Washington dispatch of Monday evening says:

The endeavors to arrest the partial suspension of work at the Navy Yard here will not probably be successful.

If this be so, probably the same result will take place elsewhere. We have understood that in some Yards pains have been taken by Johnsonian wire-pullers, to put on workmen of peculiar policy, in anticipation of this reduction, and with the purpose of dismissing others when the order comes. This may not be strictly correct, but something like it has no doubt been planned by the "vermin" who burrow in that way. Such plans, however, sometimes react on those who do the engineering.

WASHINGTON ITEMS, Dec. 23.—Col. Parker is to be married to-morrow, if the 'big Injun' of his tribe does not again keep him from the hymenial altar.

Orders have been issued by the commanders of the Military Districts at the South to the commandants of posts, directing them to have their available force in readiness during the holidays to repress any riotous demonstrations.

Reliable accounts from the South agree in stating a dearth of provisions, and the determination of white owners to only employ the freedmen at such prices, and under such regulations, as their associations have agreed upon.

The Democrats propose to hold their National Convention at Indianapolis, the railroad centre of the Mississippi valley, and to invite white delegates from the Southern States.

Secretary Stanton returned from Ohio to-day, and announces his intention of appearing in person before the Senate Committee on Military Affairs, to answer the charges contained in the President's special message.

President Johnson received an unusually large number of visitors to-day, among them Senator Pomeroy, Jerry C. Black, D. C. Voorhees and other notable politicians.—The President expresses himself positively that Congress has adjourned over the holidays, and has not taken a recess, and that consequently the bill striking the word 'white' from the District law has failed.

The President is preparing a brief message, announcing to Congress the bills that failed to reach him in time to be signed or vetoed.

The Internal Revenue receipts are showing a gradual daily increase, and the lowest estimates for the fiscal year do not now fall below two hundred millions of dollars. Thus far they have reached ninety millions, and to-day were over seven hundred thousand dollars.

Thad. Stevens has not gone home to Pennsylvania, but remains here to perfect his bill relating to confiscation. He intends to speak in favor of the purchase of Alaska.

☞ The agent of the Associated Press gives an unfavorable view of the Georgia reconstruction convention, but an item from Macon, Dec. 23, says:

A detachment of troops left here to-night for Milledgeville. This movement is supposed to have some connection with the Treasurer's refusal to pay money at the order of Gen. Pope and the Convention.

We shall hear from this again.

—In President-making circles it is said that the friends of Chief Justice Chase are determined, should they not carry the Chicago Convention, with the aid of delegates from the ten reconstructed States, to withdraw, and to have a new convention at St. Louis, which they can control.—Exchange.

That is, in copperhead circles such things are said; but like a thousand other such sayings, they are not very probable.

—The President is of the opinion that Congress has adjourned over the holidays, and has not taken a recess, and that consequently the bill striking the word "white" from the District laws has failed.—Exchange.

Well, we hope nobody will trouble himself about the opinion; but Congress should promptly take up and pass the bill over again, reading only the title, and present it once more to His Majesty for a veto.

—The coal belonging to the New Haven Gas Company has been on fire for several weeks, and the company is carting it away to save all that is possible of it. The fire originated spontaneously, it is said, from the coal being put in while wet.

—Pennsylvania passed a law last winter making nine hours a day's work. The Reading Railroad Company have carried it into effect in all branches of their business, reducing the wages of their workmen in a corresponding ratio.

—Ex-Lieut. Gen. James B. Magruder was before the Jefferson Market Police Court in New York last week, having been arrested in Broadway the night before for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. He was discharged with "an admonition."

—During the Presidential canvass of 1864, the National Union Committee collected and disbursed about $300,000, and not a dollar of it was paid to any member of the committee, either for services, travelling expenses or anything else.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.—That portion of Exeter people who came out in the storm to hear Rev. Mr. DeNormandie's lecture, were much pleased with it, and the News Letter hopes for its repetition.

The News Letter is informed that at a meeting of the agents and attorneys of Betsey Farmer's mother's cousin's children, held at the last law term, it was arranged that Hon. Wm. C. Patten of Kingston in behalf of the Collins branch, Joseph Farmer of Salem in behalf of the Farmer branch, and John Evans of Amesbury in behalf of the Kimball branch, should forthwith be empowered to sell and convey the large real estate, so as to divide the proceeds among the one hundred and five heirs.

Christopher Whiting of Nashua, died on Tuesday of last week. A telegraphic dispatch was sent to the West, for his son, J. C. Whiting, to come to the funeral; but he was severely injured in the railroad crash at Angola, and remains ill.

Rev. T. H. Miller is to preach at Fremont, Jan. 5, at the Union meeting house.

FROM SOUTH AMERICA, we learn that there has been a series of battles between the Allies and Paraguayans, to the ultimate damage of the latter, and with loss of life to both.

Perhaps ere the coming of the new year the Paraguayan war will have terminated. The cholera had disappeared from among the Allied troops.

The small pox had killed 3168 persons in the province of Matte Grosse to Sept. 26, of whom 2200 died in the town of Cuyaba alone.

The U. S. steamer Pawnee, at Bahia, had many cases of small pox among her crew.—By consent of the authorities the sick were placed in hospitals on shore.

A conspiracy had been discovered among the crew of a Portuguese coolie ship, to kill the captain and others who refused to join them, and turn the vessel into a pirate and finally sell her in the Pacific. Seven of the conspirators were placed in irons and subsequently delivered to the authorities, while the eighth jumped overboard and was drowned.

WANT OF MONEY IN GEORGIA.—The Savannah Republican tells the following story concerning a sale of property at Honesville, the county town of Liberty county, Georgia, on the 10th instant:

"Col. Quarterman of this county deceased, and his executor was compelled to close the estate. The property was advertised as required by law, and on last court day it was sold. A handsome residence at Walthourville, with ten acres attached, out-houses and all the necessary appendages of a first-class planter, presidence, were sold for sixty dollars. The purchaser was the agent of the Freedmen's Bureau. His plantation, four hundred and fifty acres of prime land, brought one hundred and fifty dollars; sold to a Mr. Fisher. Sixty-six acres of other land near Walthourville brought three dollars; purchaser, Mr. W. D. Bacon. These were all bona fide sales. It was court day, and a large concourse of people were present. The most of them were large property owners, but really had not five dollars in their pockets, and of consequence would not bid, as the sales were for cash."

DEATH OF A MEMBER OF CONGRESS.—A Washington item of Monday says:

A gloom has been cast over the few Republican Representatives now in the city, by the information that their colleague and political associate, Cornelius S. Hamilton, was shot dead this morning by his son, who is deranged. He left here early last week to take this young man, who is eighteen years old, to a lunatic asylum. Mr. Hamilton was born in Ohio in 1821, was a self-educated lawyer, and at one time edited the Marysville Times. He was elected to the 40th Congress by 1852 majority as the successor of James R. Hubbell.

FATAL LOCOMOTIVE EXPLOSION.—At Reading, Pa., Dec. 23, The locomotive Iowa, belonging to the Reading Railroad Company, and used for shifting purposes, exploded, instantly killing the engineer, Albert Kline, and so burning the fireman, John Schmable, that he survived but half an hour. The boiler of the locomotive was torn to pieces and heavy fragments were throw considerable distances. Both of the men killed left families.

—It is stated that three foolish young men in Berlin have died from attempting to pass seven days and seven nights without sleep.

— The Baltimore Printers' Union threaten a strike, unless it can exclude apprentices from the composing rooms of the morning papers.

— The extensive works of the Camden Rolling Mill Company in the northern part of Camden, N. J., were completely destroyed by fire Monday afternoon. The fire was accidental. Loss $70,000; insured $35,000.

—The Springfield Republican states the case of a young man who obtained a marriage license from the City Clerk, bargaining for the right to return it if the lady should not say "yes" to his proposition. In about a week he returned with the remark, "It was no go; but give me another; I guess I've got a sure thing this time."

—A Lewiston correspondent of the Bangor Whig says one of the mills has suffered a loss of $10,000 in one day's manufacture, by the fall in cotton. But it has paid, and doubtless must again. As an instance: a man invested five years since, $60,000 in the stock of one of the Lewiston Mills. He has since received $110,000 as dividends, and his stock can be sold for $120,000.

Chronicle Correspondence.

EXETER, Dec. 24.

Old Exeter is as quiet as usual. The only thing that interests the people at present is the building of one or two new Churches.—The new Episcopal Church was opened Sunday. It is not very large, but is finished handsomely inside with chestnut, and has stained glass windows. The opening sermon was delivered by Rev. Dr. Huntington of Boston, formerly of the Unitarian belief. The Church cost about eleven thousand dollars.

The Unitarian Society is also erecting a new Church, to cost, as your correspondent is informed, about $10,000.

The new Depot of the Boston & Maine Railroad at this place, was first opened yesterday. It is one of the finest and best arranged depots in New England, and has extensive and elegant ding saloons.

Yours truly, CAROLUS.

A SHORT STORY, BUT INTERESTING:—No genuine European extract for the handkerchief could be afforded here under the present tariff, at less than twice the price of Phalon's "Night-Blooming Cereus"—A more delicious, permanent and healthful perfume than any of them.—Gazette.

☞ The Phrenological Journal for January is rich in good reading, and profusely illustrated with portraits. Only $3 a year, or 30 cents a number. Address S. R. Wells, 389 Broadway, New York.

THE EARTHQUAKE.—The World has carefully compiled data connected with the recent earthquake. The shocks were felt very distinctly in Canada, Vermont and in Central New York, extending from northwest to southeast, and in many places were sufficiently violent to awaken many persons from their sleep, to find the windows and doors rattling and their very beds vibrating as though upon an uneasy and miserable foundation. The farthest point northerly which was affected seems to have been Belleville, Canada, from whence it extended as far south as Albany, New York. The first shock at Belleville was felt at 2.40 A. M., last Wednesday, and the last of which information has been had at 3.15 A. M., thus passing through thirty-five minutes time in the movement of the earthwave from one extreme to the other.

—Mayor Horton of Mobile has been fined $250 by Judge Busteed of the United States Court, for banishing a negro from the city.—He paid the fine.

—Wooden legs cost the Government last year $36,200.50. Wooden heads (says an unreconstructed exchange) cost the Government more than that.

—Gen. Grant's father says Ulysses was never known to have a personal quarrel with any one, either as boy or man; and also that he was never known to use a profane word.—This can be said of very few army officers.

'Twas thus a husband said one morn,
While breakfasting at early dawn,
"My dear, your bread is very nice,
Your cakes delicious, rare;
By what new art or sly device
Did you this food prepare?"
A merry lad, grown wond'rous wise,
While looking on with roguish eyes,
Lisped out in glee, "O, papa, see,
The biscuit warm await us,
I'll tell the secret for mama,
Gold Medal Saleratus."

A CHRISTMAS GIFT.—Four Certificates of the Washington Library Company of Philadelphia, in aid of the Riverside Institute for educating orphans, costing four dollars, with the fine engraving "The Perils of our Forefathers," each Certificate secures also one present at the Great Distribution by the Company, making four presents, one or more of which may be worth thousands of dollars—Such a gift will make a friend gay and merry and perhaps wealthy. SOMETHING BETTER THAN GOLD.—Good health, a good reputation, ease and contentment are all better than gold; so is Pyle's Saleratus, that prepares food completely adapted to the health and comfort of mankind, which all other kinds fail to do. Sold by grocers everywhere, in pound packages. 3t

"RUM DID IT."—On Wednesday night last a man named Philip McDermott, over whose head but 24 summers had passed, applied for lodgings at the First Police Station, and asked as a favor that he be sent to the House of Industry, as he was unable to support himself and knew not how or where to pass the winter. Strong drink had left its furrows on the man's brow; he was indeed a pitiable object, and appeared to be utterly unfit for life's duties. The officers, thinking it an act of charity, acceded to his wishes, and yesterday morning, while the prisoners were ascending the stairs in the Station House preparatory to being conveyed in the "Black Maria" to the Tombs, the wretched man dropped dead. Coroner Moore was called, but deemed an inquest unnecessary, thinking, as one of the patrol remarked, that "he died from too good love of rum."—Boston Herald.

☞ Atchison, Kansas, came very near being blown up one day last week. It seems that two thousand pounds of powder had been stored on the second floor of a warehouse. The floor upon which the powder was stored caught fire from a stove in the story below, and the flames got under good headway within a few feet of the powder before they were discovered. The fire was extinguished, happily, by the heroism of a man who entered the room with water.

"Hello, Bill, lend me five dollars?"—"You're mistaken in the man, sir, I'm not a five dollar Bill."

PAIN KILLER A CURE FOR DIPHTHERIA!

All interested, please read the following extract from a letter from Mrs. Ellen B. Mason, wife of Rev. Francis Mason, Tounghoo, Birmah:

* * * My son was taken violently sick with diphtheria, cold chills, burning fever and sore throat. I counted one hundred ten little vesicles in his throat, very white, and his tongue towards the roots was like a watermelon, full of seeds; the redness could be traced as a knife-blade. So many children have died around here, I was afraid to call a physician, and thought I would try your Pain Killer for a single with small doses inwardly. I did so, and found the gargle invariably cut off the vesicles, and he raised them, up, often covered with blood. He was taken sick on Sunday, on Wednesday his throat was clear, and his tongue rapidly clearing off. I also used it as a liniment, with castor oil and bartshorn, for the neck. It seemed to me a wonderful cure, and I can but wish it could be known to the many poor mothers in our land who are losing so many children by this dreadful disease.

I have found your Pain Killer one of the most valuable medicines ever used in Burmah. Once I was stung by a very large black scorpion; the pain was indescribable. I immediately applied the Pain Killer (for I never travel without it) again and again, and in half an hour my pain was well. d14—1m

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!

Charles Farmer, Druggist, writes from Ovid, Mich., "I have just sold the last bottle of Allen's Lung Balsam. It sells like hot cakes, and gives Universal Satisfaction.

Stanley & Skipper, Chippawa Falls, Wis., write, "We wish you would send us a gross of Allen's Lung Balsam, as it is getting to be one of the necessary institutions of the country. It sells well and gives entire satisfaction to those using it."

F. L. Allen, a well-known druggist at New London, Conn., writes us that ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM is favorably received by the afflicted.—He says, "I have retailed nearly four dozen bottles over my counter, and it has given good satisfaction."

Many letters like the above are daily received from all parts of the country. The demand for it from California is large for a medicine so recently offered for sale. We have sold hundreds of dozens of this far-of region of gold. It CURES, and that accounts for its Great Success. None use it who do not, in return, recommend it to their friends. Hence its great sale.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Daily Chronicle Office. Price 6 cents—$2 per year; for balance of this year free to new subscribers.

CHRISTMAS is coming to be more and more generally "observed" in New England every year; and the festivities, both social and religious, are constantly spreading and increasing. This, take it in any view, is well; for, religiously, what event is more worthy of celebration, than the Nativity of Christianity? and socially, what season could be more charming than Christmas—the harbinger of peace on earth, and good will to men.

Besides the services in decorated churches, on the Eve and Day of Christmas; and the Trees which bear a harvest of social fruit more precious than any other in nature—in this city; the custom of keeping Christmas is this year being adopted in the towns around us, more generally than ever heretofore. So mote it be.

We wish all our friends, readers, and everybody else, a Merry Christmas; and let us all, not only give the greeting by word of mouth, but do what in us lies, to work out the happy consummation, each for all others with whom we come in contact.

☞ The Concord & Portsmouth Railroad has declared its usual dividend of 3 1-4 per cent. Stockholders in this vicinity will receive their dividends at the office of William H. Hackett, on Friday, 27th inst. from 10 1-2 A. M. to 4 o'clock P. M., only.

CHRISTMAS POULTRY.—Small Turkeys, on Saturday, were sold from 25 to 28 cents per pound; on Tuesday, well fatted birds, fit for a Christmas dinner, brought 30 cents per lb. on Market Square.

☞ As we keep Christmas for one of our too few holidays, we shall issue no Daily Chronicle on Thursday. The Gazette is ready for delivery this morning.

☞ A very brilliant and beautiful Meteor was seen in a southerly direction from this city, Saturday evening about 6 o'clock. To a couple riding in a carriage, it appeared almost precisely like a shot from a Roman candle at a little distance—illuminating the whole scene for an instant with a blue light, and exploding and vanishing in the same manner as the said pyrotechnic.

☞ In Portland, on Saturday evening, a boy named Dennis McCann, stabbed Capt. Henly, while emerging from Deering Hall. On Tuesday morning Conductor Sanborn telegraphed to Marshal Heald that the boy had got on board his train for the westward, at Oak Hills station. Information was telegraphed to the police of this city, and on the arrival of the train McCann was arrested by Marshal Johnson and Officer Shannon. He says that he passed Monday night in Biddeford, and returned to Oak Hills (Scarboro') by the laborers' train on Tuesday morning. Dep. Marshal Irish arrived in this city on Tuesday evening, and took the culprit back to Portland by the return train, and reports Capt. Henley as being in a critical situation.

☞ Another discharge of men was made at the Navy Yard on Tuesday; as we are informed, 75 carpenters, 40 hole borers and 30 laborers.

☞ A grand fox hunt it is said will take place in this city to-day. In the outskirts, of course.

☞ Batchelder & Co. have one of the largest and most elegant stores in the city; and advertise a great variety of rich goods for Presents, &c.

☞ Dr. Holland of Springfield, (the well known eloquent Timothy Titcomb,) is to deliver the closing lecture before the People's Lyceum, on Thursday evening Dec. 26th. Subject—The Mission of Conflict.

☞ Philharmonic rehearsal Thursday evening, at half past 7.

GRANT'S LIFE BEFORE THE WAR.—The new Life of Gen. Grant, written by Col. Badeau, of his staff, thus sketches the ante-war life of the now foremost man in the country:

"Thus, when the civil war broke out, Grant was a private citizen, earning his bread in an insignificant inland town. He was of simple habits and tastes, without influence and unambitious. Having never been brought in contact with men of eminence, he had no personal knowledge of great affairs. He had never commanded more than a company of soldiers, and although he had served under both Scott and Taylor, it was as a subaltern, and without any opportunity of intercourse with those commanders. He had never voted for a President but once; he knew no politicians, for his acquaintance was limited to army officers and western traders; even in the town where he lived he had not met the member of Congress who represented the district for nine successive years, and who afterward became one of his most intimate personal friends. Of his four children, the eldest was eleven years old. He lived in a little house at the top of one of the picturesque hills on which Galena is built, and went daily to the warehouse of his father and brother, where leather was sold by the wholesale and retail. He was thirty-nine years of age before his countrymen became acquainted with his name."

GOLD, Tuesday, 133 3-4.

☞ A Washington dispatch, of Tuesday, informs the reader that Col. Parker and Miss Sackett were married privately on Monday evening, and set out for New York.—A fashionable crowd gathered in the church at Washington, Tuesday noon, when the above fact was announced.

☞ One thousand men were discharged from the Philadelphia Navy Yard last week.

ABOUT EDITING.—Editing a local newspaper is very much like making a fire—everybody supposes he can make it a little better than anybody else. In our experience we have known people to doubt their fitness for various occupations, such as peddling clams, picking rags or tending sawmill; but we have rarely met with an individual who did not think he could double the circulation of any paper in two months. We have in mind at present writing, half a dozen such chaps. How we should like to put them in the traces—make them face the music and be responsible. Dorpian.

525 MILES
OF THE
UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD,

Running West from Omaha

ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

ARE NOW COMPLETED.

This brings the line to the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains, and it is expected that the track will be laid thirty miles further, to Evans Pass, the highest point on the road, by January. The maximum grade from the Platte valley to the summit is but eighty feet to the mile, while that of many eastern roads is over one hundred. Work on the road-bed goes on the western slope will continue through the winter, and there is now no reason to doubt that the entire great line to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870.

The means provided for the construction of this Great National Work are ample. The Company's Grants grants its Six Per Cent. Bonds at the rate of from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, for which it takes a second lien security, and receives payment to a large if not to the full extent of its claim in services. These Bonds are issued as each twenty mile section is finished, and after it has been examined by United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first class road, thoroughly supplied with depots, repair shops, stations and all the necessary rolling stock and other equipments.

The United States also makes a donation of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, which will be a source of large revenue to the Company. Much of this land in the Platte Valley is among the most fertile in the world, and other lands are heavily covered with heavy pine forests, and abound in coal of the best quality.

The Company is also authorized to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to an amount equal to the issue of the Government and no more. Hon. E. D. Morgan and Hon. Oakes Ames are Trustees for the Bondholders, and deliver the Bonds to the Company only as the work progresses, so that they always represent an actual and productive value.

The authorized capital of the Company is One Hundred Million Dollars, of which over five millions have been paid in upon the work already done.

Earnings of the Company.

At present the profits of the Company are derived only from its local traffic, but this already is much more than sufficient to pay the interest on all the Bonds the Company can issue, if not another mile were built. It is not doubted that when the road is completed through traffic of the only line connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States will be large beyond precedent, and as there will be no competition, it can always be done at profitable rates.

It will be noticed that the Union Pacific Railroad is, in fact, a Government work, built under the supervision of Government Officers, and to a large extent with Government money, and that its bonds are issued under Government direction. It is believed that no similar security is so carefully guarded, and certainly no other is based upon a larger of more valuable property. As the Company's

are offered for the present at NINETY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR, they are the cheapest security in the market, being more than 15 per cent. lower than U. S. Stocks. They pay

Six Per Cent, in Gold,

or over NINE PER CENT. upon the investment.

AMERICAN WALTHAM WATCHES.

This country has reason to be proud of this splendid specimen of American opensive genius and enterprise. That it will work a revolution in the watch manufacturing of the world no one can doubt who examines the operations of the Waltham establishment, for it turns out watch movements at just about one half the cost of imported movements—besides the uniform reliability of the machine made watches must give them a great advantage over all others wherever known. A poor time-piece of the machine make will be as rare in the future as a good one of hand make has been heretofore, for in point of regularity in its performance, and can make a perfect article just as easy as one that is worthless. It will be a cause of congratulation if this highly useful American Enterprise shall have the effect of driving out of market the thousands of trashy foreign artificial miscalled time-keepers, by furnishing so excellent and economical a substitute.—N. Y. Times.

We have had one of the works of this Company in a case for a considerable time, and comparing them with former first class works of different manufacture possessed by us, they have established in our opinion their superiority over any ever introduced for correctness as time pieces.—The World.

We notice with regret (writing of the Paris Exposition) the absence of specimens of American manufacture, which, although only comparatively of recent birth among us, is already producing results of the most satisfactory character. The watches manufactured by the Waltham Company are certainly, so far as strength, durability and excellence as time-keepers are concerned, as good as anything produced by the French or Swiss manufacturers.—N. Y. Herald.

The beauty, the precision, the greater cheapness, the uniform excellence of a watch constructed by machinery so exquisite that the mere spectacle of its operation is poetic, gradually give the American Watches a public preference that will not be deceived.—Harpers' Weekly.

Every Watch fully Warranted.

For Sale by all First-Class Dealers in the United States and British Provinces.

Secure Profitable Investment.

THE

CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,

First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per Cent. Coupon Bonds.

Principal and Interest payable in Gold Coin, represent the perfect claim upon one of the MOST IMPORTANT LINES OF COMMUNICATION IN THE WORLD as it is the sole link between the Pacific Coast and the Great Interior Basin, over which the immense overland travel must pass, and the Main Trunk Line across the Continent.

The Road is now nearly completed from Sacramento to the Richest Mining Regions in the Salt Lake Basin, and is being rapidly carried forward by the largest force of laborers ever employed by any Railroad Company on this continent.

The natural, legitimate, commercial business of the road surpasses all previous expectations, and is profitable beyond parallel, even among the oldest roads in existence. The Earnings and Expenses for the Quarter ending Oct. 31, were as follows, IN GOLD:

GROSS EARNINGS.	OPERATING EXPENSES.	NET EARNINGS.
$653,347 92	$302,058 31	$351,729 31

The result, however, would have been far greater but for the inability of wagon teams to forward the freight and passengers from the temporary terminus of the mountains.

The United States Government and the State and Cities of California have so aided and fostered the Great Enterprise, that the Company will assume very light annual interest obligations, and will have following ample Resources at command for the Construction:

DONATIONS in Lands, Bonds, Concessions, &c. (without lien)	$12,800,000
CAPITAL STOCK, Net Earnings, &c. (no lien)	11,000,000
LOANS (subordinate lien)	3,000,000
U. S. SUBSIDY BONDS, 730 miles, (subordinate lien)	25,517,000
FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS	24,517,000
Resources first 730 miles	$77,834,00

The FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS are in sums $1000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, and are offered for sale, for the present, at 95 per cent. and accrued interest from July 1st, in currency, at which rate they yield nearly NINE PER CENT. UPON THE INVESTMENT.

These Bonds, authorized by the Pacific Railroad Acts of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same extent only as the Bonds granted by the Government, and are therefore the most valuable paper that can be furnished by the above Resources. They possess special assurances and advantages over other Corporate Securities, and are destined to rank among THE BEST INVESTMENTS IN THE WORLD, from their unusual attractions of safety, soundness and profit.

CONVERSIONS OF GOVERNMENT SECURITIES INTO

Central Pacific First Mortgage Bonds,

now realize for the holders from 12 to 18 per cent. Advantage, with the same rate of interest.

Bonds can be obtained through the subscribers directly, or thro' responsible Banking agencies.

THE LITTLE BOOTS.

Only two little boots by the fire so bright,
Only two little stockings to mend to-night;
The one who owns them is snug in bed,
Where the moonbeams dance on his curly head.

These little boots gave me troubles to-day;
Bringing in mud from out-door play;
Scattering pebbles over the floor,
Tracking dirt in at the great hall door.

These little boots gave me sorrow to-day,
Straying from mother's sight away;
Climbing trees and wading streams,
Chasing shadows and sunny beams.

These little stockings, so worn and gray,
Have these tiny treasures caused trouble to day?
Ah! indeed they have, in racing about,
In joining plays and merry shout.

Alas, I have had trouble to-day,
And yet would I give these treasures away?
Would I have the places empty to-night
Of the little boots with the toes so bright?

Ah, me! my very heart will break,
If away from my sight these boots you take;
My home would be dreary, my young heart sad,
And there would nothing to make me glad.

So there's only two little boots so bright,
Only two little stockings to mend to-night,
Only one little flower so feeble and slight,
Only one to smile with so sliver a light.

There was a time when four were there,
When four little faces peeped over my chair,
Four pairs of boots, so shiny and bright,
And four pairs of stockings so pure and white,

Hung near the fire and chimney tall; [small.
For the feet that wore them were dimpled and
But my children are gone, their spirits have fled,
And they are sleeping undisturbed with the dead.

I sadly miss those three loved ones,
Who are resting to-night in their silent tombs;
I miss their shouts and merry play,
For three little forms are not here to-day.

NIGHT SCENE IN A BOARDING HOUSE.—A lady, whose husband is in California, Calcutta, or Chicago, suddenly awakened from her sleep the other morning, about two o'clock, and springing from her bed, dashed out of her room, en dishabille, screaming "Murder! Help! Murder! Man in my room," etc., etc. Under the circumstances this was quite natural, inasmuch as more than one mistake of the kind had happened in the house recently. Now, it appeared, no less than three husbands were absent when they should have been there, and consequently there was more or less of wonder, mixed with a species of apprehension, on the part of three wives, each one wondering whether it was her husband who had thus forgotten himself or the room.

"Oh, come up quickly," shouted the terrified female, holding on to the outside door-knob, "I've got him in."

"If it's my Josey," said another disconsolate, "I'll learn him better. Confound these night suppers; now he's been at one of them and has mistaken the room, and I've been alone all night. Has he got whiskers?" anxiously asked the wife upon reaching the landing upon the upper floor.

"Yes, ma'am; great bushy whiskers laying right alongside of my cheek when I awoke. Dear me, if my Alexander was here, he'd learn him better, I'll warrant you."

"Joseph! Joseph! Josey!" shouted the neglected wife at the door. No answer came; not even a grunt, incident to inebriation.

"Maybe he has jumped out of the window," suggested the four or five females, all at once, who made a splendid group of long white drapery.

"Here—help! bring a light—bring a light!" shouted several of the females.—Presently a light was brought, and several male boarders appeared, all armed to give the thief or robber such treatment as he had justly earned for himself.

The door was opened, and in rushed the valient squad, and sure enough the fellow was still in the bed, with the top of his head just peeping above the sheet. "Come out of here, you scoundrel!" said one of the men, at the same time grasping him by the hair. The tableau was strikingly interesting and graphic.

The resolute boarder almost fell from the impetus he had given himself; for instead of jerking out a man, it was nothing more than a "frizzled chignon," which the lovely occupant of the bed had forgotten to take off when she retired for the night. It had been a detached in her sleep, and grazing her cheek had awakened her. The alarm of course was quite natural. The boarders had a hearty laugh, and all retired to happy dreams.—Philadelphia Press.

HEAT IT HOT, SAM.

Colonel McHatten went from Virginia to Illinois in the early settlement of the country, when roadside inns were unknown, and every dweller in the wilderness kept a sort of traveller's home. The Colonel, by a lucky investment in wild land, became in time a rich man, but he kept up his habits of hospitality; and if the guest was well-to-do in the world, did not object to turning an honest penny in that way.

One cold, blustering winter evening, a horseman drew up to the house and asked accommodation for the night. A half-grown lad answered in the affirmative, and ushered him into the sitting room. After supper the landlord made his appearance by the fire of time. He was hearty, hale and rosy, as any boniface should be, but he was bent and crippled in his gait. He explained by saying that he had taken a cold which had settled in his back.

"I don't mind the pain so much," he continued, "but it is so inconvenient. I have been recommended to try a poor man's plaster, and if you will excuse me I will have it put on. Sam! Samuel! Samuel McHatten!"

"Here, father!" said the lad before mentioned, hastily swallowing a huge piece of mince pie, which he had been quietly enjoying.

"Here, Sam, my boy, heat this plaster for me and put it on my back. Heat it hot, Sam."

Saying which, he handed the plaster to his son, and seating himself astride his chair with his back to the fire, threw his suspenders back and his shirt over his head. "Now, Sam," said he, "if the poor man's plaster is hot, you may put it on; but you may wait a little; I'm afraid it is not hot enough.—Heat it hot, Sam, beat it hot. Can you tell," he continued, turning to the traveller, who was seated in the corner, "can you tell why this is called the poor man's plaster—sometimes the poor man's friend? eh? give it up?"—laughing to himself—"because it sticketh closer than a brother! eh?"

Poor Sam, who had been watching his chance to speak without interrupting his father, now ventured to say: "I guess it's hot enough now, father."

"What do you know about it?" asked the old man, testily; "I say, heat it hot, Sam, beat it hot!"

Sam, whose face was at a red heat, had held the plaster to the fire until it ran and dripped down on the hearth, but made no reply.

"Well," said the old man, looking around, "maybe it will do now, Sam. Clap it on."

Sam, armed with the plaster, approached him; and my word for it, he did clap it on. The old man gave a yell like a wild Indian, and jumped clear over the back of his chair, kicking his old-fashioned breeches off his feet, and dancing around with pain. The traveller laughed until he cried, and the more mine host roared, the more he laughed. When the first agony was over, the Colonel began to swear, and the traveller thought it would be prudent for him to retire, lest he should share wrath with Sam, whom he observed making good his distance.

The next morning, when leaving, he handed the Colonel five dollars, saying, with a twinkle in his eye: "I don't want any change. It is cheap at that." When he was seated upon his horse and out of range, he called: "Heat it hot, Sam, heat it hot. It sticketh closer than a brother, eh?"

— Horace Isbell, of Woodbury, Conn., 72 years of age, has 'bagged' during his life 1245 foxes, 3000 muskrats, 400 coons, 200 minks, 3 otters, and smaller game too numerous to count.

—A revivalist encountered a large-sized African, and asked him: "My good man, have you found the Lord?" to which Sambo replied, in a surprised manner, "Golly, Massa, is de Lord lost?"

—Dr. Johnson compared plaintiff and defendant, in an action of law, to two men ducking their heads in a bucket, and daring each other to remain the longest under water.

—Some one tells a story of a steamboat passenger watching a revolving light of a lighthouse on the coast, and exclaiming, "Gosh! the wind blows that light out as fast as the man can strike it."

—Whatever else you borrow, never borrow trouble. It never does you any good, and when you return it you get no thanks.

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.
The following names from its large list of purchasers are given for reference:

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1867.

IN A BAD STATE.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune says that dispatches have been received at the War Office within the last few days, stating that the soldiers sent to take possession of the icebergs are in a most destitute condition; that no preparations whatever had been made for their reception, and that the prospect is that they will be frozen to death or maimed for life before supplies can reach them. Gen. Grant and Gen. Sherman had a consultation a few days ago on the subject. Gen. Grant stated that he had had nothing to do with the affair; that the President ordered the troops there, and that he had no authority to act. It appears that there is no way now to relieve them, and that all access to our Northern paradise is barred by the eternal snow and ice. Gen. Rousseau, who commanded the expedition, left for Washington Territory some time ago. [We give this as we find it; but it has an incredible sound.]

THE HAVERHILL, MASS., MURDER.—Patrick C. Daly of Lawrence is arrested on suspicion of being the murderer of Policeman Burnham. Robert Barrett is under arrest as an accomplice.

A NEW MORTARA CASE: THE TABLES TURNED.—It appears from a letter addressed to M. Lous Veuillot, of the Univers, that Paris had been the scene of a new Mortara case, with this difference, that the Jewish Rabbi has in the present instance played the role of Pope. The facts are as follows: M. Rosenthal, a Polish Jew, placed his son, aged 12 years, in a Catholic school in the Batignolles. The father of M. Rosenthal, who happens to be the Chief Rabbi, on hearing this, consulted the Jewish Consistory in Paris, and it was decided that the lad should be removed from the Catholic seminary. Accordingly, one morning, as he got out of the omnibus which conveyed him to school, he was seized and carried off. The boy's father made a complaint to the Chief Rabbi, who returned for answer, "You will see him no more." The facts were laid before the Procureur Imperial, the Perfect of Police and the Minister of Justice, but no satisfaction has yet been obtained by M. Rosenthal. As a last resort, he wrote to the Univers, complaining of the violence done to him as a father, and asking whether it is to be endured that the paternal authority can be thus openly defied and annulled in the very centre of Paris.—The point of the matter is that M. Louis Veuillot, who strongly maintains the right of the Pope to take away the son of a Jew from his father, as strongly protests against the Chief Rabbi doing the same thing.—Either, says M. Veuillot, the father must recover his son, or he must know, and we must know, why his paternal rights are not respected.

—Plymouth has lost $50,000 the past year in the cod fishing business. Only a half dozen vessels paid expenses.

—Brignoli was hissed in Philadelphia the other day for keeping the audience waiting fifteen minutes. Good!

—Up to the 2d of December, five hundred shocks of earthquake had been felt at St. Thomas. The man who says that Sec. Seward's last purchase is no great shakes, is clearly mistaken.

—Among the killed by the Angola railroad accident was John W. Chipman of Ipswich. He was a widower, and brother-in-law to Green, the Malden murderer, and is reported to have been on his way to marry Green's widow.

—The news received from the West Indies, by telegraph and otherwise, is regarded in diplomatic circles as indicating a readiness and earnestness throughout all the islands for immediate annexation to the United States.

—Within sixteen years the two colonies of Victoria and New South Wales have produced a supply of gold amounting in value to one hundred and fifty million pounds sterling, two-thirds of which have been the produce of Victoria alone.

—Charles Dickens, a high authority, leans to the position that first impressions are usually correct, and also says, "I have known a vast quantity of nonsense talked about bad men not looking you in the face. Don't trust that conventional idea. Dishonesty will stare honesty out of countenance any day in the week, if there is anything to be got by it."

—Some time ago a cow ran in front of a train in Indiana, threw it from the track, and caused the injury of several persons.—The railroad company sued the owner of the cow and recovered $4,000 damages.—The Supreme Court of the State has affirmed the verdict on appeal.

—Gov. Morton has received and accepted an invitation to address the Soldiers' and Sailors' Union of Washington on the political issues of 1868, on Monday evening.—He will not express any preference as to candidates, as he regards Grant as already nominated.

—Gen. Grant, in conversation, said he was very much vexed that Gen. Ord should have issued his recent order in relation to the destitution in Mississippi without consulting higher authorities. He added that he had information from reliable sources that the condition of things was not half as bad as set forth by Gen. Ord.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.—A correspondent at Farmington, under date of Dec. 24, informs us that the snow there was about four inches deep.

Arrngements are making to establish a Republican newspaper at Lake Village.

Zaccheus Greeley, father of Horace Greeley, died near Buffalo, last week. He was a native of this State.

—Seward annexed Walrussia, and we have had an arctic snow storm in December; he purchased St. Thomas, and we have had an earthquake—although that, it must be confessed, was no great shakes; let him acquire Cuba and we shall probably have the yellow fever.

☞ At the annual meeting of the New Hampshire Agricultural Society, at Nashua the 25th of this month, the following named officers were selected:

President, Frederick Smyth; Secretary, Aaron Young of Portsmouth; Treasurer, Geo. W. Riddle of Bedford; Directors, Natt Head, David Gillis, Warren F. Daniel, Edward Gustine, James W. Coggswell.

The Report of the Treasurer was received and accepted. It shows that the Society is in a normal condition, and has about $2000 in the treasury.

A vote of the new Board was had in relation to the time and place of holding the next State Fair, which resulted as follows: that the Fair should be on the 15th, 16th and 17th of Sept., 1867; that the city or town offering the greatest inducements, should be selected. Portsmouth, Manchester or Concord will undoubtedly be chosen.

The meeting was a very large one, and great interest shown.

—It is said that Grant's recently published letter to the President was written by E. B. Washburne, the original of which is now in the possession of a gentleman in Chicago.—Exchange.

"It is said" is not the best authority; but it is said that Jerry Black & Co. write the most fiery documents which are signed A. Johnson. No matter how many clerks a merchant has, he is himself responsible for all the letters he signs.

☞ Wilkes' Spirit of the Times is a favorite paper with us, as with everybody who sees it—when we can get it; but it is the hardest to get, of any on our large exchange list. Either their mail clerk passes us, or somebody on the post route spirits the paper away. Please order it up in our favor, Mr. Spirit.

—Laziness will cover your garden with weeds. Hard drinking, if you keep it up, will cover your wife with rags.

—A musical dog in New Albany, Ind., plays on the piano and howls. So does a young lady living next door.

—Judge Erskine of Georgia having refused to allow Mr. Robert Toombs to practice in his Court, Mr. T. is reported to have retorted that the Judge was "abject, cowardly and perjured."

—A Kentuckian who had, after a protracted courtship, made up his mind to propose to a young lady, carried his resolution into effect. The young lady, with some hesitation, replied: "I am partially engaged, but mother wants to marry."

— A child two and a half years old, was playing with her father's walking-stick, which had a crooked handle; he asked her what she was doing with that cane. "It isn't a cane," she replied. "Well, what is it?" he asked. "It is an umbrella without any clothes on," she answered.

—Nothing like love and hunger to drive a man mad or make him happy. Next to a feast upon a seventeen year old pair of lips under a grape vine, by moonlight, is a foray upon a platter of cold beans after fishing all day for suckers. The one fills the poetic heart and the other an empty stomach.

—Some editor says that the destiny of the world often hangs on the smallest trifles. A little miff between Charles Bonaparte and his love Letitia might have broken off a marriage that gave birth to Napoleon and the battle of Waterloo. To which a contemporary adds, "Yes, that is a fact. Suppose a miff had taken place between Adam and Eve! What then?"

—A fellow, on being asked to write a testimonial for a patent clothes wringer, produced the following: "I bought your clothes wringer and I am immensely pleased with it. I bought a jag of wood which proved to be green and unfit to burn. I run the whole load through your clothes-wringer, and I have used the wood for kindling ever since."

— A deputy sheriff in Keene some years ago, had a habit when anything occurred to him which he had forgotten to state, of quickly raising his right hand the forefinger extended, and prefacing his remarks with the exclamation, "By the way!" It being once his duty as crier to give notice of the opening of the court, he began, "O, yez all persons having anything to do before the Court of Common Pleas, will draw nigh and hearken to the evidence." Here he sat down, but remembering that he had forgotten the finishing touches, instantly rose and exclaimed, "By the way, God save the State."

— In Bridgeport, Conn., a young lady called into the store of a young gentleman for the purpose of being escorted up the street by him. Of course, the young man was all excited and confused, especially as he was at that moment just going to the revenue office to procure a store license. He picked up his hat and hastily started for the door, remarking to the young lady as follows:

"Just wait a minute, until I go to the revenue office for a license; I will not be gone long." The lady called him back, and astonished him by saying, "Hold on, I am not ready for a license yet. Wait a few days." The young man is still waiting, but the probability is he will not have to remain in doubt much longer.

FINANCIAL PROSPECTS.—The aggregate revenue of the United States is now less than five millions of dollars per week, or $250,000,000 per annum. The expenditures are over $350,000,000 per annum, but are to be reduced, we all hope, at the present session of Congress, to three hundred millions per annum. We are thus rushing toward a deficit of one hundred millions per annum, which we expect to reduce to fifty millions. Whereupon every body seems intent on appropriating the surplus to the relief of their own peculiar interest.

The Cotton-growers ask a total remission of the tax on their product, which now yields more than twenty millions per annum to the Treasury.

The Manufacturers want the present tax of five per cent. on their products wholly abolished.

The Whiskey-makers, more modest, only ask a reduction of the tax on distilled spirits from $2 to twenty-five cents per gallon, intimating that they would pay the smaller rate, instead of evading it, as they do the present tax. We don't believe they would.

The Tobacco men want the tax on their product reduced.

The Importers want the Tariff cut down to what they call a Revenue standard, though no Revenue Tariff, so called, ever produced half so much revenue as this does.

The Shipbuilders want all their materials admitted free of duty.

The payers of Income tax (who are about one-fourth of those who should pay it) want that tax abolished.

The Philosophers want the duty of 15 per cent. on Philosophical instruments wholly remitted.

And so on to the end of the chapter.

"My friend," said an old legislator to his young successor, "the people are fools.—Always vote for every appropriation of money that is asked for—that will make you friends, and gain you credit for liberality. Then find some excuse for voting against every tax bill. That will make the people believe you are anxious to shield them from oppressive taxation. So you will gain friends on all sides.

We trust Congress will make haste very slowly in repealing or reducing taxes, until it sees how the Treasury is to be kept solvent. If we were paying off one hundred millions per annum of our national debt, we could renew our loans almost on our own terms. If we are scarcely meeting our interest, it will be difficult to renew our loans as they fall due on any terms. Fearful will be the cost of any approach to repudiation. Tribune.

☞ Steamship Raleigh, from New York for Charleston, was burnt on Tuesday twenty miles from land. Thirteen lives lost, including the captain. 25 are missing, on boats, etc, 18 persons landed at Charleston by a steam tug.

"If to the hero, when his sword,
Has won the battle for the free,
The thanks of millions yet to be are due,"
how much is due the man who by the invention of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus, has been the means of giving to the toiling millions healthy bread, biscuit, pies and cake, and of banishing from so many households those poisonous alkalies which have slain their thousands? 35

A NICE HOLIDAY GIFT.—Four Certificates of the Washington Library Company of Philadelphia, in aid of the Riverside Institute for educating orphans, costing four dollars, with the fine engraving, "The Perils of our Forefathers;" each certificate secures also one present at the Great Distribution by the Company, making four presents, one or more of which may be worth thousands of dollars.—Read advertisement.

☞ The Concord & Portsmouth Railroad has declared its usual dividend of 3 1-2 per cent. Stockholders in this vicinity will receive their dividends at the office of William H. Hackett, on Friday, 27th inst. from 10 1-2 A. M. to 4 o'clock P. M., only.

A SHORT STORY, BUT INTERESTING.—No genuine European extract for the handkerchief could be afforded here under the present tariff, at less than twice the price of Phalon's "Night Blooming Cereus"—A more delicious, permanent and healthful perfume than any of them.—Gazette.

NO LOSS CAN BE MORE FATAL TO BEAUTY, especially in the female sex, than the loss of the Hair; glossy, luxuriant hair is one of the most powerful of all personal charms. PAIN KILLER A CURE FOR DIPHTHERIA!

All interested, please read the following extract from a letter from Mrs. Ellen B. Mason, wife of Rev. Francis Mason, Toungboo, Birmah:

* * * My son was taken violently sick with diphtheria, cold chills, burning fever and sore throat. I counted one morning ten little vesicles in his throat, very white, and his tongue towards the roots was like a watermelon, full of seeds; the remainder coated as thick as a knife-blade — So many children have died around here, I was afraid to call a physician, and thought I would try your Pain Killer for a gargle with small doses inwardly, and found the gargle invariably out off the vesicles, and he raised them up, often covered with blood. He was taken sick on Sunday, on Wednesday his throat was clear, and his tongue rapidly coming off. I also used it as a liniment, with castor oil and hartshorn, for his neck. It seemed to me a wonderful cure, and I once but wish it could be known to all the many poor mothers in our land who are losing so many children by this dreadful disease.

I found your Pain Killer one of the most valuable medicines ever used in Burmah. Once I was stung by a very large black scorpion; the pain was indescribable. I immediately applied the Pain Killer (for I never travel without it) again and again, and in half an hour my foot was well.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!

Charles Farmer, Druggist, writes from Ovid, Mich., "I have just sold the last bottle of Allen's Lung Balsam. It sells like 'hot cakes,' and gives Universal Satisfaction.

Stanley & Skipper, Chippawa Falls, Wis., write, "We wish you would send us a good supply of ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM, as it is getting to be one of the necessary institutions of this country. It sells well and gives entire satisfaction to those using it."

F. J. Allen, a well-known druggist at New London, Conn., writes us that ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM is favorably received by the afflicted.—He says, "I have retailed nearly four dozen bottles over my counter, and it has given good satisfaction."

Many letters like the above are daily received from all parts of the country. The demand for it from California is large for a medicine so recently offered for sale. We have sold hundreds of dozens to go to that far-of region of gold. It Cures, and that accounts for its large sales. None use it who do not, in return, recommend it to their friends. Hence its great sale.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Daily Chronicle Office. Price 6 cents—$2 per year.

ON CHRISTMAS EVE, the Universalist Sunday School held their Christmas Service, Concert and Presentation, in their meeting house, which was brilliantly lighted and handsomely dressed for the occasion, and filled with parishioners and friends of the church. The services were opened with an organ voluntary, followed by singing, and prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Miller. Rev. Mr. Ambler, the present pastor, and Rev. Mr. Patterson, the late pastor, gave brief addresses; also several young ladies connected with the school; and some of the younger boys also took parts which added to the interest of the occasion. The singing by the School, and the presentation from the trees and otherwise, completed the pleasures of a long evening, to the satisfaction of all concerned.

The sermon at the Unitarian Church on Christmas morning, was by the pastor, Rev. Mr. De Normandie, from Luke 2:7; "laid him in a manger, because there was no room for him in the inn." There seemed to be, in the crowd and rush of human struggle and strife, no room left for Christ Jesus in the business or commercial world, in the political world, or the Theological. Not that this is positively designed; but that false views of life exalt gain, policy and sect, into the great business of life, leaving little or no space for Christian development and healthy pious action. The proper improvement would be to reverse the proportions, seeking first the kingdom of God and his righteousness, and then other needful things.

The music was appropriate and tasteful, as was also the decoration of the house.

On Christmas evening, the Unitarian Sunday School room was finely decorated, and valuable presents bestowed on all the scholars; accompanied with appropriate services, and enlivened by the presence of many parents and friends.

The North Parish had a grand social gathering at Congress Hall on Christmas evening, where a substantial and attractive supper was enjoyed by all the scholars of their Sabbath School, who were attended and waited upon in the best manner by their elders. Then the parishioners of a larger growth sat down to a supper equally good; and then presents to the juveniles, and a good time generally, were the order of the evening, which was on the whole an enlivening and enjoyable scene.

We learn from traders, that the sales of confectionery, toys, and presents generally, were great beyond example here, during the last few days; from which we infer that Christmas-keeping, in some form, is here after to be one of our institutions, to a much larger extent than it has been previously.

The usual stated Christmas services at the Episcopal and Catholic Churches, were well attended, including the early mass at St. Mary's, before daylight; the churches being handsomely decorated for the occasion.

☞ As a matter of record for all, and of present interest to many readers not at home, the newspapers give frequent weather items. Christmas was mild, but the snow and ice so thin that wheels run better than sleighs, and the warm rain at night left the ground almost bare Thursday morning. The inference drawn by some weatherwises, that we are to have an open winter, is not borne out by facts in past experience; as sleighing of late years does not generally begin until after Christmas.

☞ The great fox hunt on Christmas day terminated anything but fatally—for the foxes. The beating of the woods began at Greenland, and pandemonium itself would have been startled by such a noise as the hunters are said to have made. Four foxes are said to have been started, but at "Ballyhack," near Rye Poor-house, owing to disarrangement of the skirmish line, every Reynard made his escape to the rear. The conduct of one gentleman in overloading and destroying a valuable presentation gun, which he had borrowed for the occasion, is held to be highly reprehensible by the community of fox hunters. It is astonishing How-ill some people treat borrowed property.

☞ We understand that the bond filed with the Collector of Internal Revenue for Nelson's Distillery in this city, has been approved, and that the establishment will go into operation within a few days,—immediately on the completion of the few necessary arrangements. Mr. John S. Howell will act as Warehouse Inspector on the part of the Government. It will be located in one of the high wharf stores on Bow street and the river.

☞ The Ball of Granite State Fire Co., at Congress Hall, on Christmas eve, was a successful and very enjoyable affair, and we desire to return thanks to the management for complimentary courtesies extended us.

☞ New counterfeit $10 bills on the National Bank of Commerce, New York, are in circulation—well executed. Look out for 'em.

☞ Some months since the citizens in this vicinity were warned against a gang of prowlers, who left this city very suddenly on finding themselves subject to strict surveillance. Since then we have it from good authority that suspicion strongly indicates the same gang as being implicated in the Norway Bank robbery, in the rifling of a safe at Cornish, Me., and in the recent attempted bank robbery and murder at Haverhill, Mass.

Now we wish to caution our citizens to look rather closely to the fastenings of their doors. On Tuesday evening, a lady resident in Daniel street, aroused by a noise in the entry, made an investigation as to its cause, and found a man had entered the house and ascended to the second story, with the evident intention to plunder from the premises. The offender is said to be a ci-devant printer, who in times past has had trouble with the police here, who has been guilty of swindling operations elsewhere while assuming the name of a native of this city, and who has recently stolen two overcoats in Dover, if guiltless of any further crimes against the community.

FORTS IN PORTSMOUTH HARBOR.—"Perley," in the Boston Journal, describes the work for 1867, on the Forts in New England, from which we copy what relates to the forts here:

Fort Constitution.—The work performed during the year comprises the laying of one course of the scarp wall of the north front, the building of the scarp of the northeast front to the reference of (15minutes), the construction of two embrasures and commencement and almost completion of the other on that front, the laying of the flagging between four main piers upon the southeast front, and the construction of two embrasures on the south front. No appropriation asked for the next fiscal year.

Fort McClary.—The work executed comprises the excavation for ditch, by blasting out the rock on the north and west fronts, which has been nearly completed; the preparations for laying the first courses of the scarp wall upon those fronts; the taking down of a portion of the scarp of the southwest front and the commencement of its reconstruction. It is proposed during the present year to complete the rock excavation of the ditch on the north and west fronts; to build the entire scarp wall of those fronts, including the two flanking casponnieres, with their entrances and the adjacent magazines; to complete the alteration of the west end of the scarp on the south front, and to continue this wall to form the revetment of the foot of the ditch of the west front. Appropriation asked for the next fiscal year, $100,000.

☞ On Christmas day the robins appeared in large numbers in the woods situate in the lower part of this city and Rye, and on Thursday one was seen flying about a gentleman's garden at the South End, twittering merrily in the warm sunshine.

☞ Certain parties (can anybody tell us who?) have been leaving at houses in this city, Circulars and Tickets for a "Grand Matinee of the Washington Library Company of Philadelphia, in aid of the Riverside Institute for the education of orphans of soldiers and sailors,"—at which Matinee a large money lottery, it is asserted, will be drawn. We have no doubt these tickets are bogus, and the professed agents who have them, swindlers. A distribution of valuable real estate and other property, on the old Art Union principle of a nice picture to each ticket holder, has been for months advertised in the papers—ours among the rest, under the above name of Washington Library Company: and Mr. E. A. Joy is the Agent in this city; this, we presume, from what we know of the parties, is being conducted honorably—and it is announced to be decided on the very day as the counterfeit "Matinee" alluded to above.

If people like to risk a few dollars for the chance of getting many, (and almost everybody does like it), not to mention the charitable and patriotic features presented in this case, we suppose they will continue to do it. But let all who propose to invest a dollar or ten in this way, go to Mr. Joy's Music Store and our advice is, never put money in a lottery at any rate, (and the rule will hold good with many other things), unless you know the parties, and are sure you stand a chance to win as well as to lose.

EARLY MAIL.—Through the exertions of Postmaster Adams, our business men can now forward their letters to the Westward by an earlier train than heretofore. A mail will be taken by the 9 o'clock morning train, this arrangement having gone into effect on Thursday morning for the first time.

This is only a through mail to Boston and beyond. No way mails are sent at that time.

☞ The fare on the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad is to be reduced on the 1st of January—so that from Portsmouth to Newmarket Junction it will be 30 cents, and to Concord $1.80.

☞ The catch of Codfish on our coast this winter, is said to be abundant and profitable.

3 CONGRESS BLOCK, PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

d16—tf

525 MILES

OF THE

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD,

Running West from Omaha

ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

ARE NOW COMPLETED.

This brings the line to the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains, and it is expected that the track will be laid thirty miles further, to Evans Pass, the highest point on the road, in January. The maximum grade from the foot of the mountains to the summit is but eighty feet to the mile, while that of many eastern roads is over one hundred. Work in the rock-cutting on the western slope will continue through the winter, and there is no reason to doubt that the entire grand line to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870.

The means provided for the construction of this Great National Work are ample. The United States grants its Six Per Cent. Bonds at the rate of from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, for which it takes a second lien as security, and receives payment to a large if not to the full extent of its claim in services. These Bonds are issued as each twenty mile section is finished and after it has been examined by United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first class road, thoroughly supplied with Rolling Stock—repair shops, stations and all the necessary rolling stock and other equipments.

The United States also makes a donation of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, which will be a source of large revenue to the Company. Much of this land in the Platte Valley is among the most fertile in the world, and other large portions are covered with heavy pine forests, and abound in some of the best quality.

The Company is also authorized to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to an amount equal to the issue of the Government and no more. Hon. E. D. Morgan and Hon. Oakes Ames are Trustees for the Bondholders, and deliver the Bonds to the Company only as the work progresses, so that they always represent an actual and productive value.

The authorized capital of the Company is One Hundred Million Dollars, of which only five millions have been paid in upon the work already done.

Earnings of the Company.

At present the profits of the Company are derived only from its local traffic, but this already is much more than sufficient to pay the interest on all the Bonds the Company can issue, if not another mile were built. It is not doubted that when the road is completed the through traffic of the only line connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States will be large beyond precedent, and as there will be no competition, it can always be done at profitable rates.

It will be noticed that the Union Pacific Railroad is, in fact, a Government Work, built under the supervision of Government Officers, and to a large extent with Government money, and that its bonds are issued under Government direction. It is believed that no similar security is so carefully guarded, and certainly no other is based upon a larger or more valuable property. As the Company's

are offered for the present at NINETY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR, they are the cheapest security in the market, being more than 15 per cent. lower than U. S. Stocks. They pay

Six Per Cent. in Gold,

or over NINE PER CENT. upon the investment.

SUBSCRIPTIONS will be received in Portsmouth by FIRST NATIONAL BANK, and in New York at the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau street, and by

CONTINENTAL NAT. BANK No. 7 Nassau St.
CLARK, DODGE & Co., Bankers, 51 Wall St.
JOHN J. CISCO & SON, Bankers, 33 Wall St.

And by the Company's advertised Agents throughout the United States, of whom maps and descriptive pamphlets may be obtained on application. Remittances should be made in drafts or other funds payable in New York, and the bonds will be sent free of charge by return mail or express.

A NEW PAMPHLET AND MAP, showing the Progress of the Work, Resources for Construction, and Value of Bonds, may be obtained at the Company's Offices or of its advertised Agents, or will be sent free on application.

AMERICAN WATCHES.

WALTHAM

This country has reason to be proud of this splendid specimen of American operative genius and enterprise. That it will work a revolution in the watch manufacturing of the world no one can doubt who examines the operations of the Waltham establishment, for it turns out watch movements at just about one half the cost of imported movements—besides the uniform reliability of the machine made watches must give them a great advantage over all others wherever known. A practical specimen of the machine make will be as rare in the future as a good one of hand make has been heretofore, for machinery is arbitrary in its performance, and can make a perfect article just as easy as one that is worthless. It will be a cause of congratulation if this highly useful American Enterprise shall have the effect of driving out of market thousands of trashy foreign articles miscalled time-keepers, by furnishing so excellent and economical a substitute.—N. Y. Times.

We have had one of the works of this Company in case for a considerable time, and comparing them with former first class works of different manufacture possessed by us, they have established in our opinion their superiority over any ever introduced for correctness as time pieces.—The World.

We notice with regret (writing of the Paris Exposition) the absence of specimens of American manufacture, which, although only comparatively of recent birth among us, is already producing results of the most satisfactory character. The watches manufactured by the Waltham Company are certainly, so far as strength, durability and excellence as time-keepers are concerned, as good as anything produced by the French or Swiss manufacturers.—N. Y. Herald.

The beauty, the precision, the greater cheapness, the uniform excellence of a watch constructed by machinery so exquisite that the mere specification of its operations is enough to give the American Watches a public preference that will not be deceived.—Harpers' Weekly.

Every Watch fully Warranted.

For Sale by all First-Class Dealers in the United States and British Provinces.

Secure Profitable Investment.

THE

CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,

First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per Cent. Coupon Bonds.

Principal and Interest payable in Gold Coin, represent the preferred claim upon one of the MOST IMPORTANT LINES OF COMMUNICATION IN THE WORLD as it is the sole link between the Pacific Coast and the Great Mississippi Basin, over which the immense overland travel must pass, and the Main Trunk Line across the Continent.

The Road is now nearly completed from Sacramento to the Richest Mining Regions in the Salt Lake Basin, and is being rapidly carried forward with the largest force ever employed by any Railroad Company on this continent.

The natural, legitimate, commercial business of the road surpasses all previous expectation, and is profitable beyond parallel, even among the oldest roads in existence. The Earnings and Expenses for the Quarter ending Oct. 31, were as follows, IN GOLD:

GROSS EARNINGS,	OPERATING EXPENSES,	NET EARNINGS,
$593,847 92	$102,088 61	$491,729 31

The present, however, would have been far greater but for the inability of wagon teams to forward the freight and passengers from the temporary terminus in the mountains.

The United States Government and the State and Cities of California have so aided and fostered the Great Enterprise, that the Company will assume very light annual Interest obligations, and will have following ample Resources at command for the Construction:

DONATIONS in Lands, Bonds, Concessions, &c. (without limit)
CAPITAL STOCK, Net Earnings, &c. (no lien)	$12,800,000
LOANS (subordinate lien)	11,000,000
U. S. SUBSIDY BONDS, 726 miles, (subordinate lien)	5,000,000
FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS	25,517,000
	24,517,000
Resources first 726 miles	$77 831,00

The FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS are in sums $1000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, and are offered for sale, for the present, at 95 per cent. and accrued interest from July 1st. In currency, at which rate they yield nearly NINE PER CENT. INCOME IN GOLD INTEREST.

These Bonds, authorized by the Pacific Railroad Acts of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and the same extent only as the Bonds granted by the Government, and are the prior loan upon the whole valuable property furnished by the Government. They possess special assurances and advantages over other Corporate Securities, and are destined to rank among THE BEST INVESTMENTS IN THE WORLD, from their unusual attractions of safety, soundness and profit.

CONVERSIONS OF GOVERNMENT SECURITIES INTO

Central Pacific First Mortgage Bonds,

Morning Chronicle.

THE LECTURE BUSINESS.—The New York Gazette thus talks about the lecture business in that city. The facts, if they realy are facts, are curious and suggestive:

"People don't go to lectures in this city unless some very famous person or prominent politician is advertised to speak. We send out lecturers; we don't patronize them as a home product. Wendell Phillips and Beecher and Colfax and Chase will draw here because they are known in politics. But Emerson and Curtis and Holmes can't fill a small hall.

This fact is not generally known outside of New York, and consequently men of some note who come to lecture are dreadfully disappointed at the slenderness of their audiences. They engage the immense Cooper Institute, and wonder whether they can make themselves heard over the vast assembly. The time arrives, but the crowd does not. Even after fifteen minutes delay not more than forty or fifty persons can be counted, including the man and woman who are always there, the half dozen policemen, the two boys asleep by the stove, and the old colored chap, who can't hear a battery in full play.

The hall looks dreary, even ghastly; the lights seem unwilling to burn; the speaker's voice sounds hollow; a shadow is over everything; a penetrating stillness in the air. The lecturer hurries through his discourse, mortification jarring in every syllable, and at the close he listens out of the hall, and, in his heart, curses New York for its lack of appreciation."

A TURKISH BEAUTY.—I enjoyed the pleasure this morning of being introduced to a very handsome Turkish lady, in order to give me an opportunity of witnessing a perfect specimen of Oriental beauty. After a good deal of persuasion she allowed me to copy her profil. Her eyes and eyelashes were intensely black; though I suspect the latter were stained of a deeper dye than the natural one. Her complexion was beautifully fair, with the slightest tint of carnation suffused over her cheek. Her lips, sweet lips, that make us sigh even to have seen such.

Her glossy hair, which was bound with a kaleideir or painted handkerchief, representing a whole parterre of flowers, fell in loose curls upon her shoulders and down her back; she wore a short black velvet jacker, embroidered with gold lace; trousers of blue silk, and an under jacket of pink crape, and one of those beautiful transparent shirts which ravish the beholder, and half reveal the charms they fain would hide.' A magnificent Persian shawl encircled her waist, which had nature's own form, never having been compressed by the cruel bondage of stays. Her feet were in slippers, and two or three ugly rings deformed her white and slender fingers, the nails of which were dyed with henna.

Around her neck she wore a double row of pearls, from which hung an amulet.—Her skin was very white and beautiful; the constant use of the dry vapor bath having reduced it to a fineness which I can only compare to highly polished marble, and it looked as glossy and as cold. She was well pleased with the drawing I made, and, on rising to go away, she put on her yellow boots over the beautiful white feet and ankles which it was a sin to conceal; then, donning her cashmeck and cloak, she bade us adieu with a grace and elegance which but very few English ladies could equal.

No wonder the Turks sigh for paradise, when they believe heaven to be peopled with houris such as these.

ANECDOTE OF THE EMPEROR OF AUSTRIA.—A story is related of the Emperor of Austria, who is well known at Vienna to dislike the present exaggerated decollete style so fashionable among ladies belonging to the great world. A certain Princess X——was the star of Vienna during two successive seasons. Her features were not in strict accordance with the classic law of beauty, but, enrevanche, her neck and shoulders were faultless—only one saw somewhat too much of them. One evening at a Court ball the Princess' costume was all but innocent of any corsage, and the little that her dressmaker had added to her skirts was not particularly useful, as the lady complained of cold and constantly shivered: and as she passed the Emperor, she shrugged her lovely shoulders completely out of this liliputian corsage, saying, "I am so cold—b-r-r-r!" The Emperor beckoned to one of the equerries in waiting, and gave him an order. In a few seconds he reappeared with the Princess' opera cloak, which the Emperor took from him and quietly placed on the shoulders of the fair frileuse.

At Burlington, Vt., Dec. 23, the railroad bridge over Onion river 300 feet long and 60 feet high, was destroyed by fire. Trains cannot pass for several days.

— At St. Louis, Dec. 23, the banking house of Season & Son suspended. It is understood that a large amount of their paper was protested in New York.

The Chronicle.

THE GREAT CITY OF JAPAN.—A very erroneous idea is indulged in by many people, in relation to the largest city in the world. Many confidently assert that London is far superior, both in size and the number of its inhabitants. But such is not the case. Jeddo, the capital of Japan, is, without exception, the largest and most populous city in the world. It contains the vast number of 1,500,000 dwellings, and 5,000,000 human souls. Many of the streets are 19 japanceseries in length, which is equivalent to 22 English miles. The commerce of Jeddo far exceeds that of any other city in the world, and the sea along the coast is constantly white with sails of ships. Their vessels sail to the southern portion of the empire, where they are laden with rice, tea, seacoal, tobacco, silk, cotton and tropical fruits, all of which can find ready market in the north, and then return freighted with corn, salt, isinglass, and various other products which have a market in the south.

TROUBLE FROM WITHIN.—The passionate, ill natured man lives always in stormy weather, even though it be the quiet of dew-fall around him; always wronged, always hurt, always complaining of some enemy. He has no conception that this enemy is in his own bosom; in the sourness, the ungoverned irritability, the habitual illnature of his own bad spirit and character. I speak not here of some single burst of passion, into which a man of amiable temper may, for once, be betrayed; but I speak more especially of the angry characters, always brewing in some tempest of violated feeling. They have a great many enemies, are unaccountably ill-treated, and cannot understand why it is. They have no suspicion that they see and suffer bad things because they are bad, that being illnatured is about the same thing as receiving ill-treatment, and that all the enemies they suffer are snugly closeted in their own evil temper.

The same is true of fretful persons—men and women that wear away fast and die, because they have worried life completely out. Nothing goes right; husband, or wife, or child, or customer, or sermon. They are pricked or stung at every motion they make, and wonder why it is that others are permitted to float along so peacefully, and they never suffered to have a moment of peace in their lives. And the very simple reason is, that life is a field of nettles to them, because their fretful, worrying tempers are always pricking out through the tender skin of their uneasiness. Why, if they were in paradise, carrying their bad mind with them, they would fret at the good angels, and the climate, and the colors even of the roses.—Dr. Bushnell.

—A negro preacher was lately permitted to speak to the convicts in the Illinois State Prison at Joliet. The confined Democrats were highly indignant, some of them crying, "Put the nigger out!"

PROCLAMATION
For a Day of Merry-Making,
Congratulations and Rejoicing.
Be it known unto the good people of the city of ancient Portsmouth and its vicinity, that by and with the advice of all the Little Boys and Girls, and all the Big Boys and Girls, I have appointed
WEDNESDAY, THE TWENTY-FIFTH DAY
of this present month of December, as a day of General Merry-Making, Congratulations and Rejoicing. And I would ask of all the Good Grand Fathers and Grand Mothers,
Fathers and Mothers, Uncles and Aunts,
Friends and Relations, to remember
the day and to make a merry
and happy day, by giving all kinds
and descriptions of PRESENTS to their Grand-children, Children, Nephews, Neices,
Relations and Friends.
And as they may be somewhat puzzled where to obtain all the various articles needed for so general a giving of Presents, I would further proclaim and make known to all, both small and great, old and young, that my friend,
JAMES F. SHORES, JR.,
Has almost everything that is necessary to answer the various wants of the dear people for
HOLIDAY GIFTS.
His stock is so large, his assortment is so numerous, that it would take more room than the publisher of this paper would allow, to enumerate them all; it is sufficient for me to say that Friend Shores has

Flower Vases in great variety, Toilet Sets,
Standsides, Pocket Books, Gold Pens,

All of which he will sell you at the Lowest Prices. And I further request all my good friends to be sure and examine this splendid Stock of Goods which is now open for Free Exhibition at

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.

THE
INSURANCE COMPANY
OF NEW YORK.
[INCORPORATED 1847.]
F. F. WINSTON, President.
ASSETS - - $22,000,000 CASH.
ANNUAL INCOME OVER $6,000,000.
THIS COMPANY ISSUED DURING THE FISCAL YEAR ending January 31, 1867, 15,672 Policies, insuring over Fifty-four Millions of Dollars ($54,376,430), which is more than has ever been done, in the same space of time, by any other Life Insurance Company in the world.
It has paid to its Policy Holders in 23 years in Dividends, the large sum of $10,172,383 IN CASH,
Or equivalent additions to their Policies of about $23,000,000.
The Dividends of this Company, February 1 1866, was for ONE YEAR,
$2,134,000 75 IN CASH,
Or in Equivalent Additions to Policies,
$4,840,864 02.
This CASH DIVIDEND was about equal to the total Dividends for the past nine years together of the next largest Company in this country.
This Company divides every cent of its profits among Policy Holders exclusively. Many Companies pay their Stockholders from 13 1-2 to 20 per cent. of the net profits, besides interest on Capital Stock. Some of them paid to Stockholders last year more than they did to Policy-holders.—Sec. of N. Y. Underwriters Chart, 1867.

DIVIDEND SYSTEM.
The phrase ANNUAL DIVIDEND, in this Company, means dividends made annually, from the start, on the First and every subsequent premium; and NOT at the expiration of three, four or five years, and only then annually. It also means that the dividends are available immediately to increase the insurance, or as CASH in reduction of the premium of the current year; and not merely to cancel notes and accrued interest on premiums three, four or five years old.
By this system there is no delay for the redemption of scrip t, as in some companies.
Policy Holders, at their own option, at the end of this first year of their policy, or thereafter, can use their Dividends as Cash in Payment of Premiums, or to Purchase Additions to Policies. If they desire to purchase additions, they can, on the next anniversary of their Policies, if they desire, reconvert such additions into cash in payment of premiums, as is stated in all Dividend Certificates of this Company, viz:—"These additions are at any time convertible into cash, in payment of premiums to the Company." The practical working of the system is, that if a Policy Holder pays his premiums in full for a few years only, then, in case of temporary embarrassment, he can always convert his additions into cash, which in most cases will be sufficient to pay his whole premium, and require no cash outlay whatever so long as his additions will be sufficient to pay his premiums, which would be quite the reverse if he was insured in a note company; because, if he were not able at any time to pay the cash portion of his premium, his policy would be forfeited absolutely, for the reason that his dividends would be used to cancel his note; and therefore he must pay his cash part of the premium to a note company, or his life plan, even if he were to live to be a hundred years old.
When the dividends exceed 100 per cent. in cash in the "Mutual Life," the payment of the surplus above the amount necessary to pay the current annual premium, can be drawn in cash, if the Policy Holder so desires. Fifteen full annual premiums has been on the average sufficient to pay for a Life Policy in this Company.

ENDOWMENTS.
We solicit from the reader a careful consideration of this system. An Endowment Policy is a double contract, by which the Company agrees to pay a certain sum to the person insured at a specific age, with the promise that if he dies before attaining that age, the sum named in the policy shall be paid at once. The plan combines the advantages of Life Insurance, a Savings Bank and a safe investment. It is simply an annual investment of funds, to be repaid to the depositor with a fair rate of interest at a specified time. It is believed to be better than a deposit in a Savings Bank, because no creditor can reach a wife's policy; and because if the assured should die after having made only one payment of premium, his heirs would be entitled to the full sum insured. The system commends itself to wealthy men, and also to persons living upon a stated income, the result of personal labor.
This is a peculiar feature of this Company, as no other Companies can present the security we offer, or the profits which we are enabled to divide, so as to make the investment a good one to the applicant: and the rates for such policies are from 10 to 20 per cent. lower than those charged by other and similar institutions.
From the Endowment Policies which have been paid to the owners, it will be seen that they received a surplus above all they had paid to the Company, with compound interest at the rate per cent. and no charge whatever for expense or cost of insurance meanwhile.
SPECIAL NOTICE TO PERSONS DESIRING TO INSURE.
All policies issued previous to February 1, 1868, will partipate in the dividend declared at that time.
Parties disposed to investigate and have proof of all statements made above, can obtain the same from any of the policy-holders of the Company or from the undersigned, who will be happy to exhibit all official documents from which the above statements are taken.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1867.

A RICH EXTRACT.—The La Crosse (Wisconsin) Democrat, speaking of the evident purpose of the Republicans to admit the Southern States so as to vote in the Presidential canvass, either for that "brainless butcher Grant, or the fanatic Chase," adds such a warning as this:

"We tell you, radicals and traitors, your tool shall never enter the Presidential Mansion, elected by negro votes. If this be treason, make the most of it. But bear in mind that it is treason held by two millions of white men, who are ready to fight for white supremacy! God help you if the struggle comes; for, spite of the Rump, your niggers, and all the remaining powers of hell at your command, white will win, and there will be such an outpouring of nigger blood, such a hanging of Radicals to 'sour apple trees,' as was never known since the world emerged from chaos!"

Accordingly the editor advises all Democratic Clubs to be "composed of men as ready to fight as to vote." The Mobile Tribune copies this ferocious article as an indication of political sentiment in the Northern States. And the Mobile paper is right, so far as the sentiments of the copperhead leaders and their most devoted and most ignorant followers are concerned. It may be worth while, perhaps, for every candid man in the democratic party to ask himself whether he should vote for or encourage such measures, or the leaders who advocate them.

HOW TO KEEP A NAVY WITHOUT TOO MUCH COST.—The Boston Journal has an editorial favoring American steamers, with mail subsidies from the U. S., after the manner of France and England; and after speaking of the success of these nations in this matter, adds these remarks:

Thus do these great nations, by appropriations, in the case of Great Britain drawn chiefly if not entirely from the profits of the penny postage, and costing, after postages are deducted, less than an average of three million dollars a year, provide fleets of steamships.

The British steamers thus kept afloat, officered by men from the British navy, with well trained crews on the three lines named of more than twelve thousand men, exceeding in numbers all the men in our own naval service, and skilful engineers, are ready at any moment to be converted into cruisers and to sweep the commerce of their foes from the deep. They are virtually a part, and the most efficient part, of the British navy, maintained at a cost of less than one-twelfth of the estimate of Mr. Welles for our navy just presented to Congress. These steamers carry the merchandise of England and France into all parts of the world, and rob us of our trade.

If we wish to recover the prestige and ground we have lost, we must follow the wise policy of English and French statesmen, not by insulated efforts or brief grants of mail money, but by contracts to endure ten or fifteen years on routes marked out in advance by Government for the benefit of commerce.

☞ On Christmas Day, at Hampton, Va., Thomas Lattimer, Dep. Sheriff, "being considerably under the influence of liquor," had some trouble with a negro boy of 12 years, when a negro man came along and took the boy's part. Lattimer abused the negro some minutes, then drew a revolver and shot him through the head,—and locked himself into his own house. The negroes soon collected in a crowd, smashed in his windows, and as he tried to get out by a window, they caught him and beat him almost to death. Three valiant freedmen, however, rescued him and carried him through the crowd, to jail. A military guard of U. S. soldiers quelled the riot.

☞ The new Republican State Committee met at Concord on the 26th. A thorough canvass of voters will be entered upon at once. Grant Clubs are to be organized in all sections of the State. Arrangements for public speaking will be promptly made. Members of the Committee state that in nearly every portion of the Commonwealth the Republicans are active and alert, and are closing up their ranks.

Some of the delegates predict the re-election of Gov. Harriman by four thousand majority.

"CAUSE UNKNOWN."—A New York paper of Dec. 26 says:

William Burditt of 71 Mott street, was arrested last night for intoxication, and locked up in a cell, and at 6 o'clock this morning he was found lying on the floor, dead. Cause of death unknown.

Wasn't it a very mysterious providence, that a drunken man should die in a drunken fit?

Another N. Y. item of the same day says, The Board of Aldermen to-day, adopted a municipal excise liquor law, which imposes a fine of $100 on all dealers who fail to take out a license from the Mayor.

—Thirty-thousand workmen are employed in France in the manufacture of artificial flowers. One-third of the whole amount comes to this country.

—"Admiral" Franklin Buchanan, the same who deserted the Washington Navy Yard in 1861, and afterwards took service with a broken oath and a stained sword, in the rebellion, gave a lunch to Jefferson Davis on the occasion of the recent visit of the latter to Easton, Md. Several of his old classmates at West Point also paid their respects to the "stern statesman."

THE NEW ENGLAND DINNER AT NEW YORK, Monday evening, was a happy one. From a condensed sketch of Henry Ward Beecher's remarks we take the following:

"New England had bred a race of thinkers not second to the Athenians. Thought, combined with the moral sentiments, had made her fruitful in arms and in art. She did not, perhaps, produce so many pictures as some countries, but she had men and women who would grace any marble or canvas. [Applause.] Beyond the Jew or any other people had been the fertility of her hand—thus had made her rich; she coined her riches out of her poverty. With no capital but her hands, she had become the richest community on the globe.

The thoroughbred Yankee first seeks knowledge and virtue, and all the comforts of life follow. They who complain that the Yankee is meddlesome, trying to put a bellyband on old customs and prejudices, should remember that he was bred to this; his forefathers believed in building up from the bottom and making the top largest. [Laughter and applause.] The trouble with the Puritan is that his head asserts its divine right to rule. Here in New York, he must say the Puritan had a hard time of it. [Laughter.] There was a vast population here, and it was not all from New England; but in the States west of here, and Ohio and the great Northwest, the Puritan influence prevailed.

The Yankee was the educator of the nation; so that, although he might be vexatious, we couldn't do without him. As for the Yankee girls, he had never found anybody to object to their companionship. [Laughter and applause.] Finally, the teaching of the Yankee, he believed, would be in the end to guide, direct and save. [Applause.]"

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—General Gillem has arrived here under the order of Gen. Ord, bringing with him statistics and documents to show the prevailing destitution in the South, and to obtain, if possible, relief from the Government. He had an interview to-day with the President, Gen. Grant and Gen. Howard, and laid such facts before them as had been submitted by Gen. Ord. If the Freedmen's Bureau is unable to help the suffering, Congress will doubtless be solicited to furnish aid.

The President has not disposed of the case of Albert Lusk, convicted and sentenced to be hung in Louisiana for the murder of a colored boy, it being the first case arising under the third section of the Reconstruction act where a civilian has been tried by a Military Commission. It is probable that the Executive will set the proceedings aside and remand the prisoner to the civil authorities, or else commute his sentence to imprisonment. The counsel of Lusk are urging Executive interference.

It is stated to-day that Gen. Meade having expressed to the President his desire to remain in command of the Department of the East, it has been decided to select some other officer to relieve Gen. Pope from the command of the 4th Military District.

THE MURDER AT HAVERHILL.—Arrest of Other Suspected Parties.—Two men, named Frank Moran and Daniel Murphy, have been arrested by the Haverhill police, on suspicion of having been connected with Daley and Barrett in the burglary at the Merrimack National Bank at Haverhill, and the murder of policeman Burnham. The officers are said to be on the track of others.

This speedy detection of the criminals grew out of the revelations of a woman, who talked much about the deed of blood, and did not desire to have her husband arrested as one of the parties implicated. There is said to be more satisfactory evidence of the guilt of these parties.

It is said that a person has been secured as a witness who was invited to go on the robbing expedition. He at first consented, then backed out, again agreed to be one of the company, and finally left the villains to perform their atrocious work without his assistance. But he stationed himself near the bank on the night it was broken open, and watched all the proceedings of the burglars, and has almost certain knowledge of the murderer of Burnham.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.—At the Law Term of the Supreme Judicial Court held in Dover last week for the First Judicial District, the following divorces were granted by the Court:

Freeman Chesley v. Cornelia R. Chesley.
Ruth Adams v. Charles W. Adams.
Henrietta M. v. David G. Osborne.
Simeon W. Doty v. Augusta Doty.
Mary P. Foss v. David A. Foss.
Howard L. Otis v. Mary Ann Otis.
Sarah E. v. George W. Richardson.
The Bill in Equity, Sylvester Lowd v. William Otterway, was dismissed.

Chief Justice Perley delivered an elaborate and masterly opinion in the case of the Great Falls Manufacturing Company, Petitioners, against Joseph Fernald and Sarah W. Worster, affirming and vindicating in the most conclusive manner the constitutionality of a special act of the N. H. Legislature, passed in 1862, providing for an assessment of flowage damages by a committee or by a jury, against the Great Falls Manufacturing Company.—Enquirer.

☞ On Christmas Day, B. B. Miller, lately sentenced to 16 years' imprisonment for stealing letters from the Post Office at New York, was pardoned by the President. The President seems to have a remarkable sympathy with such people.

—The Fall River News says notices are posted up in several of the cotton mills in that city, that there will be a reduction of wages on and after the first of January next. The reduction will be from 10 to 18 per cent.

THE ANGOLA CALAMITY.—Mr. Amos H. Thomas and wife, two of the victims of the late terrible railroad accident on the Lake Shore Railroad, are so badly injured that they were obliged to be carried on mattrasses to their residence in Utica. Mr. Thomas' injuries are principally across his hip and stomach, and although bad, are not as severe as those received by his wife.—Mrs. Thomas was most severely bruised from head to foot. Her face is discolored, her left ankle severely sprained, and her whole left side literally blackened with contusions. She suffers considerable pain, but is considered by her physician to be out of danger. Mr. T. and his wife were in the last and ill-fated car, from which, it is said, but three out of fifty passengers escaped alive, and they were two of these.

Mr. Thomas thinks, however, that five passengers did finally escape alive from this car, one of whom has since died. He occupied the fourth seat from the front, and his wife sat in the third, directly in front of him. The first thing he heard was the bumping sound of the wheels coming in contact with the ties, and at once knew the car had run from the track. Nearly all the passengers in the coach immediately jumped upon their feet, and as the car swayed to and fro, they would rush to whichever side was uppermost, to prevent its overturning.

This continued for perhaps half a minute, and then the car struck the bridge, being still in an upright position. It passed nearly across, when the rear end was thrown so far from the track that the coupling, being insufficient to sustain the great strain upon it, broke, and the car went, end first, crashing down the side hill, the lower end just reaching the edge of the creek. Before the car fell, nearly all the frightened passengers were standing in the aisles, Mrs. Thomas alone keeping her seat. Her husband was in the aisle, but holding his seat with a firm grasp.

When the car took its fearful plunge, the fact that Mrs. Thomas was sitting in her seat, and her husband firmly clinging to his own, alone saved their lives and prevented them from being buried among the hot stoves and burning seats, and the crushed and roasted mass of human beings in the rear end of the car. How Mr. Thomas came outside of the car, he is utterly unable to tell. He states that he was not unconscious; that he found himself in a single instant after he was thrown from his feet, lying upon his back, the roof of the car entirely swept away, and the car itself literally broken into a thousand pieces, and he himself looking straight up into the sky.—It seemed to him all done in a few seconds of time. He found himself with a heavy piece of the wreck lying across his legs and pressing one of them upon a sharp broken iron which entered his clothing near the thigh. His first thought was for his wife, who he discovered was lying near, but before he was able to render her assistance, she had been taken out and cared for by a citizen of Angola.

At his feet lay a man bleeding profusely from a wound in his head, but who was able to free himself from the debris, and then had strength sufficient to assist Mr. Thomas, until at last the latter was able to crawl out of the wreck upon his hands and knees, and thus make his way up the bank. He was taken into the passenger car that stood upon the track, and afterward removed to a private house and medical aid procured. Mrs. Thomas was rendered insensible by the fall. The first she remembers was feeling blood running down her face. Casting her eye toward the lower end of what was once the car, she saw the flames eight or ten feet high, but the passengers were so covered with the ruins that they could not be seen. The fire was so near that she must make an effort to escape or burn.

In trying to rise, her injuries were so severe, the effort rendered her insensible again. She would probably have added one more to the list of the dead from this shocking disaster, had not a citizen of Angola, seeing her fearful position, come to her rescue. After making the effort to get up, she remembers nothing more until she found herself in a private house. A succession of fainting fits followed, and as she recovered from each, she declared that she was entirely unhurt, and it was only some time after the accident that she was convinced that she had received injury. It was probably two hours after the accident before medical aid could be procured. Two physicians were aboard the train, whose attentions were fully occupied with those more severely injured.

A large bundle lay upon the ground, that had evidently rolled from the second passenger car. This had been passed over and pushed about by people bearing the wounded. At last their attention was attracted by hearing a smothered cry proceed from it. The clothing was unwrapped, and behold, there lay an infant about six months old, digging its chubby fists into its crying eyes, unhurt and without a single scratch upon its body. Its mother was accompanied by a gentleman who afterwards died. She was still insensible, two days after the accident.—Utica Herald.

☞ Captain Webster, of the steamer Mahoning, has received orders for winter cruising from Portland to Owl's Head and Cape Ann. He is required to carry provisions and supplies for vessels that need assistance; also to speak every vessel approaching the coast, to assure himself that they do not especially need relief, and also to keep full records of his cruises and to verify the correctness of the charts and conclusions of the coast survey.

MEDICAL PROBLEM.—The most scientific medical men of the age now affirm that all diseases have their origin in impure blood, and that impure digestion is the most fruitful source of such impurity. Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus is now largely used as a promoter of digestion, and with every good housewife is indispensible for bread, biscuit, cakes, pies, puddings, &c. Only takes half the quantity many others require to raise the same, and without the stain of alkali. 35

SOMETHING BETTER THAN GOLD.—Good health, a good reputation, ease and contentment are all better than gold; so is Pyle's Saleratus, that prepares food completely adapted to the health and comfort of mankind, which all other kinds fail to do. Sold by grocers everywhere, in pound packages. 24

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.—The Amherst Cabinet has been enlarged. The papers all over the State, and everywhere else, are improving. Success to them—all that are worthy of it, as the old Cabinet certainly is.

The silver wedding of Mr. and Mr. Charles Walton of Temple, was celebrated Thanksgiving evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis K. Boutell of Amherst Village, celebrated their silver wedding last week.

The brilliant Meteor we spoke of seeing in this city, was also seen at Wolfeborough,—The News calls it "very splendid," and says: "The atmosphere was quite thick, only one star in that direction being visible; notwithstanding which the flashes emitted were mistaken by persons not looking in the direction of the meteor, for lightning. The latter portion of the trail was of a bluish color, and the body of the meteor appeared to increase in size as it approached the earth."

Bro. Wadleigh, after ably and successfully conducting the Dover Enquirer for thirty-eight years, has sold out, and makes his farewell bow in the last number. Messrs. John R. Varney and Joseph T. S. Libbey succeed him. We shall miss our old friend and neighbor, whose place it is not easy to fill.

Wm. H. Prescott, formerly of the 2d N. H. Regiment, writes to the copperhead papers a letter—that he can't vote for Harriman.—Show! yeou don't say! What a mourning there will be.

Rev. S. D. Ashley was publicly ordained as Pastor of the Baptist Church, at North Stratford, Dec. 3.

—A bill will be introduced at an early day in the House, providing that in future all appointment of Internal Revenue Agents at the South shall be confirmed in the Senate before the nominee enters on the duties of his office. This is in order to prevent, as far as possible, the appointment of unprincipled persons to such important posts, where there is so large a field for peculation and oppression.

PAIN KILLER A CURE FOR DIPHTHERIA!

All interested, please read the following extract from a letter from Mrs. Ellen B. Mason, wife of Rev. Francis Mason, Tounghoo, Birmah:

"* * * My son was taken violently sick with diphtheria on Sunday while, burning fever and sore throat. I counted one morning ten little vesicles in his throat, very white, and his tongue towards the roots was like a watermelon, full of seeds; the remainder coated as thick as a knife-blade. So many children have died around here, I was afraid to call a physician, and thought I would try your Pain Killer for a gargle with small doses inwardly. I did so, and found the gargle invariably cut off the vesicles, and he raised them up, often every hour, with blood. He was taken sick on Sunday; on Wednesday his throat was clear, and his tongue rapidly clearing off. I also used it as a liniment with castor oil, and believe, next day was rocket. It seemed to me a wonderful cure, and I can but wish it could be known to the many poor mothers in our land who are losing so many children by the dreadful disease.

I have found your Pain Killer one of the most valuable medicines ever used in Burmah. Once I was stung by a very large black scorpion; the pain was indescribable. I immediately applied the Pain Killer (for I never travel without it) again and again, and in half an hour my foot was well. d14—1m

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!

Charles Farmer, Druggist, writes from Ovid, Mich.—"I have sold the last bottle of Allen's Lung Balsam. It sells like 'hot cakes,' and gives Universal Satisfaction.

Stanley & Skipper, Chippewa Falls, Wis., write, 'We think you would send us a good supply of ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM, as it is getting to be one of the necessary institutions of the country. It sells well and gives entire satisfaction to those using it."

F. L. Allen, a well-known druggist at New London, Conn., writes us that ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM is invariably received by the afflicted.—He says, "I have retailed nearly four dozen bottles over my counter, and it has given good satisfaction."

Many letters like the above are daily received from all parts of the country. The demand for it from California is large for a medicine so recently offered for sale. We have sold hundreds of dozens to go to that far-of region of gold. It Cures, and that accounts for its Great Success. None use it who do not; in return, recommend it to their friends. Hence its great sale.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.

SORE CHEST AND COUGH CURED.

DR. ALLCOCK.—Sir: In May last I was visiting my cousin in Corning, who got me one of your Porous Plasters for my chest. I was so sore through me at the time, I could hardly speak or breathe. It was not more than three hours after I put it on before I felt comfortable. I had suffered very much from soreness of the chest, with cough and hoarseness, for months; but your Plaster has cured me, and my health is better than it has been for years. You are respectfully,

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Daily Chronicle Office. Price 6 cents—$2 per year.

☞ The numerous friends of Rev. Dr. Burroughs, at home and abroad, will regret to hear that the venerable gentleman has been quite ill for several days, at his residence in this city. He was better on Friday, which we accidentally learned from a friend was his 80th anniversary birthday, on which he completed his four-score years. May he count another score, and be better able to enjoy the Christmas season, which he has always done so much to make merry for others.

☞ James Hennessey was arrested on Friday in this city, on charge of buying stolen goods. A lot of new cordage was stolen from ship Merrimac, which sailed hence recently; and 275 pounds of this was now found in a shed in rear of the Emmet House on State Street, where we believe Hennessey is employed. He was held by Judge Odell, in $500 bonds, for trial, Hennessey's father and John Donovan becoming sureties. Goodall for prosecution; Hatch for defence. This case has been carefully worked up by a U. S. Detective and City Marshal Johnson; and it is thought will prove the key-note to detecting other robberies elsewhere of the same nature.

NAVAL.—Commander James S. Thornton has been detached from duty at this naval station and ordered to command of the Kearsarge.

Surgeon Charles H. Burbank has been detached from duty on board the Vandalia and ordered to the Kearsarge.

Surgeon John H. Clark has been ordered to duty on board the Vandalia, and has arrived in this city to assume his duties.

☞ At a meeting of the Grant Club of this city, held at the Republican headquarters on Friday evening, the following officers were chosen:

President—John H. Bailey.
Vice Presidents—Wm. R. Martin, Horton D. Walker, Ezra A. Stevens, Wm. H. Hackett, Saml. Adams, Chas. W. Gardner.
Executive Committee—Chas. A. Shannon, Wm. W. Henderson, M. J. Vaughan.
Treasurer—John Hedgdon, 2nd.
Auditor—Marcellus Bufford.
Cor. Sec'y—J. Horace Kent.
Recording Sec's—Charles L. Tidd, Geo. W. Marston.

Addresses were made by the President, Hon. J. H. Ela, and others.

☞ A column advertisement from J. P. Bartlett, Esq., this morning, tells something of the advantages to be derived from investing in the great Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York, for which Mr. Bartlett is the State Agent. This is the leviathan of all the Life Insurance Companies, and has a fund of twenty millions of dollars!

A GOOD THING.—We have had our attention called to a new and novel Churn, patented by J. D. Kellogg, Jr., of Northampton, Mass. It is called the "Peerless Churn," meaning no superior. Having seen extracts from papers where it has been sold, speaking of it in the highest terms, we would advise our carpenters (who can build them) and all who may desire to obtain a good business, to go the Franklin House this evening at 7 1-2 o'clock, and see it operate. The agent will make butter every evening; also, through the day it can be seen as above. Butter made in it from two to five minutes. Go and see it. 2t*

SUNDAY SCHOOL HOLIDAY FESTIVALS.—The Episcopal at Congress Hall this Saturday evening, at 6 o'clock. The Middle Street Baptist, at their chapel next Wednesday evening.

☞ Christmas has passed, and now for New Year's Day. Mr. Head, opposite the Post Office, offers his usual variety of Gifts suitable for the occasion. it

☞ At Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 25, Policeman John Fenton, while attempting to arrest three drunken men, was shot and mortally wounded. A German boy named John Scheller, was killed by a stray shot. The assassins were all arrested and held for trial. A negro boy was shot in the head and instantly killed by another boy, and some other persons, mostly negroes, were accidentally shot during the day by the promiscuous firing of pistols.

Northern people, who have never seen Christmas at the South, may not see any sense or reason in firing pistols on that day. Nevertheless, the boys and negroes are largely engaged in burning gunpowder,—though they can hardly tell why they do it.

☞ It is rich to see the copperheads barking up both sides of the tree of liberty—the flag-staff of the stars and stripes.—According to their tactics now, it was a crime for Col. Harriman not to fight, and a virtue in Sinclair to offer to go Colonel—but yet we never before heard of their supporting the war. O, consistency!

3 CONGRESS BLOCK, PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

525 MILES

OF THE

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD,

Running West from Omaha

ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

ARE NOW COMPLETED.

This brings the line to the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains, and it is expected that the track will be laid thirty miles further, to Evans Creek, before this point on the road by January 1st. The maximum grade from the foot of the mountains to the summit is but eighty feet to the mile, while that of many eastern roads is over one hundred. Work in the rock-cuttings on the western slope will continue through the winter, and there is now no reason to doubt that the entire grand line to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870.

The means provided for the construction of this Great National Work are ample. The United States grants its Six Per Cent. Bonds at the rate of from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, for which it takes a second lien as security, and receives payment to a large if not to the full extent of its claim in services. These Bonds are issued as each twenty mile section is finished, and after it has been examined by United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first class road, thoroughly supplied with engines, rolling stock and other equipments.

The United States also makes a donation of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, which will be a source of large revenue to the Company. Much of this land in the Platte Valley is among the most fertile in the world, and other large portions are covered with heavy pine forests, and abound in coal of the best quality.

The Company is also authorized to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to an amount equal to the issue of the Government and no more. Hon. E. D. Morgan and Hon. Oakes Ames are Trustees for the Bondholders, and deliver the Bonds to the Company only as the work progresses, so that they always represent an actual and productive value.

The authorized capital of the Company is One Hundred Million Dollars, of which over five millions have been paid in upon the work already done.

Earnings of the Company.

At present the profits of the Company are derived only from its local traffic, but this already is much more than sufficient to pay the interest on all the Bonds the Company can issue, it not another mile were built. It is not doubted that when the road is completed the through traffic of the only line connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States will be large beyond precedent, and as there will be no competition, it can always be done at profitable rates.

It will be noticed that the Union Pacific Railroad is a Government Work, built under the supervision of Government Officers, and to a large extent with Government money, and that its bonds are issued under Government direction. It is believed that no similar security is so carefully guarded, and certainly no other is based upon a larger of more valuable property. As the Company's are offered for the present at NINETY CENTS FOR THE DOLLAR, they are the cheapest security in the market, being more than 15 per cent. lower than U. S. Stocks. They pay

Six Per Cent. in Gold,

or over NINE PER CENT. upon the investment.

SUBSCRIPTIONS will be received in Portsmouth by FIRST NATIONAL BANK, and in New York at the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau street, and by

CLARK, DODGE & Co., Bankers, 51 Wall St.

And by the Company's advertised Agents throughout the United States, of whom maps and descriptive pamphlets may be obtained on application. Remittances should be made in drafts or other funds par in New York, and the bonds will be sent free of charge by return express. n8—3m

A NEW PAMPHLET AND MAP, showing the Progress of the Work, Resources for Construction, and Value of Bonds, may be obtained at the Company's Offices or of its advertised Agents, or will be sent free on application.

AMERICAN WALTHAM WATCHES.

This country has reason to be proud of this splendid specimen of American operative genius and enterprise, that it will work a revolution in the watch manufacturing of the world no one can doubt who examines the operations of the Waltham establishment, for it turns out watch movements at just about one half the cost of imported movements—besides the uniform reliability of the machine made watches must give them a great advantage over all others hitherto known. A poor time-piece of the machine make will be as rare in the future as a good one of hand make has been heretofore, for machinery is arbitrary in its performance, and as the world's perfect article just as easy as one that is worthless. It will be a cause of congratulation if this highly useful American Enterprise shall have the effect of driving out of market the thousands of trashy foreign articles miscalled time-keepers, by furnishing so excellent and economical a substitute.—N. Y. Times.

We have had one of the works of this Company in a case for a considerable time, and comparing them with former first class works of different manufacture possessed by us, they have established in our opinion their superiority over any ever introduced for correctness as time pieces.—The World.

We notice with regret (writing of the Paris Exposition) the absence of specimens of American manufacture, which, although only comparatively of recent birth among us, is already producing results of the most satisfactory character. The watches manufactured by the Waltham Company are certainly, so far as strength, durability and excellence as time-keepers are concerned, as good as anything produced by the French or Swiss manufacturers.—N. Y. Herald.

The beauty, the precision, the greater cheapness, the uniform excellence of a watch constructed by machinery so exquisite that the mere spectacle of its operation is poetic, gradually give the American Watches a public preference that will not be deceived.—Harpers' Weekly.

Every Watch fully Warranted.

For Sale by all First-Class Dealers in the United States and British Provinces.

Secure Profitable Investment.

THE

CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,

First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per Cent. Coupon Bonds.

Principal and Interest payable in Gold Coin, represent the prefered claim upon one of the MOST IMPORTANT LINES OF COMMUNICATION the world can boast of in the Sub Link between the Pacific Coast and the Great Interior Basin, over which the immense overland travel must pass, and the Main Trunk Line across the Continent.

The Road is now nearly completed from Sacramento to the Richest Mining Regions in the Salt Lake Basin, and is being rapidly carried forward by the largest force of laborers ever employed by any Railroad Company on this continent.

The natural, legitimate, commercial business of the road surpasses all previous expectation, and is profitable beyond parallel, even among the oldest roads in existence. The Earnings and Expense for the Quarter ending Oct. 31, were as follows, IN GOLD:

GROSS EARNINGS.	OPERATING EXPENSES.	NET EARNINGS.
$933,817 92	$102,088 61	$831,729 31

The result, however, would have been far greater but for the inability of wagon teams to forward the freight and passengers from the temporary terminus in the mountains.

The United States Government and the State and Cities of California have so aided and fostered the Great Enterprise, that the Company will assume very light annual Interest obligations, and will have following ample Resources at command for the Construction:

DONATIONS in Lands, Bonds, Concessions, &c. (without lien)	$12,800,000
CAPITAL STOCK, Net Earnings, &c. (no lien)	11,000,000
LOANS (subordinate lien)	6,000,000
U. S. SUBSIDY BONDS, 726 miles, (subordinate lien)	25,517,000
FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS	24,517,000
Resources first 726 miles	$77,831,00

The FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS are in sums $1000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, and are offered for sale, for the present, at 95 per cent. and accrued interest from July 1st, in currency, at which rate they yield nearly NINE PER CENT. UPON THE INVESTMENT.

These Bonds, authorized by the Pacific Railroad Acts of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same extent only as the Bonds granted by the Government, and are a first lien upon the whole valuable property furnished by the above Resources. It possess special assurances and advantages over other Corporate Securities, and are destined to rank among THE BEST INVESTMENTS IN THE WORLD, from their unusual attractions of safety, soundness and profit.

Morning Chronicle.

THE ABYSSINIAN WAR.—The last news from Abyssinia informs us that King Theodore was preparing to give the English a very warm reception. As the preliminary movement to a resolute resistance, he had burned a large city called Debra Tabor, which lay in the road of the invaders, and was retiring slowly with his captives to a more intricate part of his dominions. It is evidently the king's policy not to give battle to the British while they are comparatively fresh and near their base of operations; but those who know anything of his warlike instincts, do not doubt that he will have about with them by and by.

The city which he burned would have afforded the English a good resting-place and an excellent base of operations in the table country; but now they must move forward in the face of tremendous difficulties, while the King retires at leisure and adds to those difficulties at every step. It is not unlikely, therefore, that this Abyssinian expedition may result to the English like the Mexican experiment to France, for King Theodore seems to comprehend the problem thoroughly, and has already given evidence that he is capable of making a campaign, not unlike that which the Russian delivered upon Napoleon I.

A traveler who recently saw King Theodorus in his camp, describes him as "a man of fine stature, with a lively, piercing look, and a profile, the distinct lines of which well express the firm will that has enthralled the freest and least docile people of the East. His dress was a embroidered toga, worn over a European military suit; but it was less luxurious in appearance than that of many of his suite. Also in the field he wears the coarse black infantry buckler, and his his side rides a page bearing his State shield covered with blue velvet, scattered with imperial lilies. In form he is a happy mixture of suppleness and force, and though born proud, violent, and inclined to pleasure, has his passions under marvelous control."

This is the picture of something like a man; and when we reflect that he can read and write; that he and his people profess the Christian religion, and that Christ and the Apostles were worshipped in Abyssinia as the Government creed before the English Church was in existence, we cannot help wishing the brave fellow good luck. At last accounts his English captives were alive and well, which is in itself a refutation of the monstrous falsehoods that have teemed in the English press, about his injustice and barbarity. The statements which thus far have reached us about this Abyssinian campaign have all been made in the British interest; but it is not unlikely we may soon hear something in the cause Theodore, when his naval agents arrive among us, to fill out their letters of marque, after the English fashion in our Southern troubles. We shall see!—Wilkes' Spirit.

WHAT LONDON IS.—In London the houses number more than 350,000, and the streets, if placed in line, would extend from Liverpool to New York,and are lighted at night by 660,000 gas lamps, consuming every twenty-four hours about 13,000,000 cubic feet of gas. Of the water supply 44,383,358 gallons are used per day.—The travelling public sustains 5000 cabs and 1500 omnibuses, besides all the other sorts of vehicles which human need can require or human wit invent. Its hungry population devours in the course of every year 1,609,090 quarters of wheat, 249,000 bullocks, 1,700,000 sheep, 28,000 calves, 35,000 pigs, 10,000,000 head of game, 3,000,000 salmon, and innumerable fish of other sorts, and consume 43,209,000 gallons of beer, 200,000 gallons of spirits, and 65,900 pipes of wine. As a consequence 2400 doctors find employment. London,finally, supports 852 churches, which are presided over by 930 divines of greater or less note. It is also computed that the average extension of London is at the rate of two miles of finished buildings per day.—The need of this rapid construction can be estimated when it is known that the railroad improvements projected, and now being constructed, will, during the present year, necessitate the removal of 20,000 dwelling houses. A majority of these are inhabited by the industrial classes.

☞ The Springfield, (Mass.) Union, in making a record of the late murder of a woman in that city by her step-son, says, "the brutal murder in this city, the disgusting details of which have been given in our columns, is a foretaste of what we may expect, in the millenium of free rum that is approaching. It must awaken pleasing anticipations in the minds of those who gave their votes and influence to secure this result."

— A country editor who has visited New York, says: "New York is a herculean, oblong, municipal bladder, stuffed with feverish sensuality, nervous energy,crab-eyed shrewdness, spasmodic fits of piety and paralytic strokes of abstraction."

A WONDERFUL ESCAPE.—The following remarkable incident occurred on the Grand Trunk Road not many months ago: A couple, with their little girl two years old, were on board a saloon car attached to a night freight train, and were sitting near the side door, which was partially open.—The train was on a down grade, running twenty miles an hour, when a sudden rebound of the car threw the child out of the door. Horror-stricken at the supposed inevitable result, the conductor signaled to "brake in hard," and as soon as it was safe to do so, seized his lantern, jumped off and ran back, expecting to see a bruised corpse on the road bed; but presently he heard a childish voice crying out "Papa! Papa!" and in a moment more met the little one running along to catch the train. The wind, which was blowing fresh at the time, had inflated her clothing and buoyed her up, and she had evidently fallen on her feet and was not in the least injured.—Portland Star.

☞ A letter from Niagara Falls gives the following description of the remarkable phenomena of low water at the Falls and elsewhere. The strong easterly gale sent the waters of Lake Erie westward, leaving the Niagara Falls but a rivulet compared with its native grandeur. The bed of the American branch was so denuded that you could travel in its rocky bed without wetting your feet, and mysteries that were never before revealed came to light on that day. Rocks that heretofore were invisible, appeared in their full grown deformity upon the surface, and great was the consternation among the finny tribes. The Sisters were accessible to foot passengers, and many traversed where human foot had never trod, with perfect impunity and dry feet. Below the falls was the wonder of wonders. The water was full twenty feet lower than usual, and the oldest inhabitant gazed in wonder at the grand transformation. Near Suspension Bridge the celebrated rock at Witmer's mill, upon which a drowning man caught and was rescued several years ago, which barely projects its head above the water, was laid bare twenty feet above the surface.

DIDN'T WANT IT.—During the recent trial before the United States Circuit Court in Hartford, of the case of the Norwich & New York Transportation company against the insurance companies for the amount of damage to the steamer City of Norwich by fire, the defendants undertook to prove that the loss was occasioned by the steamer sinking and not by burning, making it a marine loss, against which the fire companies did not insure. Mr. Tracy, the pilot of the boat, being on the witness stand, was interrogated by Mr. Scudder of New York, the counsel for the defendants, as to his views.

It having appeared by the evidence that Tracy was hanging on the rudder just before the steamer went down, Mr. Scudder inquired of him as follows: "Mr. Tracy, what do you think the boat was worth at the time that you were holding on to the rudder?"

"I really couldn't tell, sir."

"But what do you think, sir?"

"I didn't think anything at all about it."

"Mr. Tracy, what would you have been willing to give for her at that time?"

"Well, I don't know. I was not buying steamboats very much about that time."

"Mr. Tracy, would you have been willing to give that old coat you say you had on at that time, for the boat?"

"Well, I don't know but I should. On the whole, I guess I should, for I don't suppose I should have needed an overcoat where I was going."

Mr. Scudder gave it up and called the next witness.

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 30, 1867.

☞ The democrats of Vermont propose to celebrate with a grand banquet at Montpelier, the 8th of January, the anniversary of the victory of Jackson at New Orleans. John Quincy Adams of Massachusetts will be there.—Exchange.

Some old men may remember that Gen. Jackson, who won the battle at New Orleans, Jan. 8, was used as the only available candidate of a set of conspirators, who determined to put down the Administration of John Quincy Adams, "even if it was as pure as the angels of God." They did put it down, and then formed the party mis called democratic, whose rallying watch word was, "To the Victors belong the Spoils!"—and whose career of glory culminated in the rebellion and civil war.

And now, John Quincy Adams the 2d is eating the dirt given him by the party which was formed to put down John Q. the 1st. He should say, "To what base uses do we come at last?"

A GREAT FIRE at Cincinnati, Friday evening, destroyed the great whiskey distillery of Boyle, Miller & Co. The building contained a lot of whiskey. The engines had no effect on the flames, which ceased only when the entire structure fell to the ground and nothing combustible was left. Loss $515,000, insurance $288,000 in New York, Cincinnati, St. Louis, New Orleans, Liverpool and London Companies. The fire extended to Nos. 43 and 45 Broadway, occupied by Machine Works: loss $10,000. Walls, Kuhn & Co.'s tobacco works were broken in and their stock damaged $10,000. Delmonico's Exchange, and a clothing store damaged $3000 each. P. Chambers, Asst. Engineer of Fire Department, was badly injured on the head by a falling wall. Boyle, Miller & Co. were the largest distillers of whiskey in the country.

FROM MEXICO, Dec. 19.—The revolution in Yucatan was assuming large proportions. Santa Anna had been proclaimed Dictator by the revolutionists, and was expected hourly to arrive from Havana with men and a million of dollars. The fort and town of Sisal were in the hands of the rebels, but the port was blockaded by two Mexican gunboats. A number of officers who formerly served under the Empire had arrived at Sisal from Matamoras. On the 16th an engagement took place between the Mexican gunboats and the batteries on the shore. The coast of Yucatan in the vicinity of Sisal was diligently watched to prevent the landing of troops coming from any foreign country to aid the rebellion.

At Vera Cruz, on the 20th, the Mexican steamer Tobasco was ready to sail for Sisal, to restore the authority of the Mexican Government at Sisal. She had on board 500 or 600 men and several pieces of artillery.

Santa Anna was at Havana on Christmas Day. Many ex-Imperialist officers have arrived there. They all seem to be very busily engaged. Santa Anna seems to be the pest and tormentor of Mexico.

FAILURES.—Dec. 26, St Louis, the wholesale grocery firm of Carver, Wendora & Co., failed: Their liabilities, it is said, amount to half a million.

On the same day, occured the failure of Perry & Gettiman, fancy cassimere manufacturers of North Adams, Mass. The liabilities are said to be heavy, probably over $100,000, and their asserts small. Three parties in Troy—wool dealers—are lossers to the amount of about $20,000, and many others.

☞ The Cincinati Gazette gives some particulars of the death of Hon. C. S. Hamilton, member of Congress from Ohio. He was in the yard, and he son Thomas, who is insane, approached him from behind and struck him a blow on the right side of the head with an axe, killing him instantly. After perpetrating this horrible deed, Thomas went to the house with the axe, and before he could be secured he attempted to kill a younger brother, but only succeeded in inflicting a severe wound. Thomas is about 17 years of age, and his insanity has heretolore been of a very mild form, such as would only be readily detected by medical men. His disposition, however, has been exceedingly melancholic of late, so much so as to attract attention, and he was a few days ago, examined by his uncle, Dr. J. W. Hamilton, who pronounced him affected with insanity of an inactive character, and advised his teacher and the boy's father, whom he afterward saw, to keep close watch upon him, as he would some time attempt to commit some terrible deed; a warning which the affair shows was not given without cause.

— Mr. F. Poole recently arrived in Leith, Scotland, after a canoe voyage of two thousand miles, upon which he entered last July. He commenced the voyage in Liverpool, going thence up the Orkneys, around the west and north coasts of Scotland, and down the eastern side as far as Leith.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.—Hon. Robert Smith, formerly a member of Congress from the Alton district, Illinois, died at his residence near Alton, last week. He was a native of Peterboro' N. H.

A confectionary store in Dover was broken into Sunday night, and a loaf of wedding cake stolen. The thief was arrested in Berwick.

Moses Eaton of South Hampton, raised this year one ton of pop-corn.

J. B. Batchelder has sold the Laconia Democrat to O. A. J. Vaughan.

The Republican journals of our own State are best fitted to do good work among us. We have our local men and questions that cannot be understood by any paper published out of the State. Give our New Hampshire papers the preference.

A party of four young men from Concord went to Long Pond on Thursday, and caught a string of seventy-two handsome pickerel.

Rev. D. C. Babcock, Agent of the New Hampshire Temperance League, preached two temperance sermons in the First Baptist Church, Concord, last Sunday.

The proprietor of the Phenix Hotel, Concord, proposes to put a French roof on the present structure in the spring. This will give about forty additional sleeping rooms, greatly improve the outward appearance of the building, and make it second to none in the State. The Phenix, under the management of Col. Littlehale, receives a large share of public patronage.

There is no foundation for the rumor that the "Mozarts" are going to present a hand-organ to their "Wandering Minstrel," as an accompaniment to his improvisations. P. S.—A monkey to cut antics is also considered unnecessary.

Dr. Smith has sold the Dover Gazette to Everett C. Foss,—a live man, but we should suppose hardly dirty and coppery enough to suit the patrons of that paper, as in fact the managers of late we imagine have not done.

Mr. C. C. Bean, son of Deacon Josiah Bean, formerly of Great Falls, is a prominent member of the present legislature of Tennessee.

The Fair and Festival of the Methodist Society at Rochester was a complete success. The entire receipts were over six hundred dollars.

The Unitarian Society, Nashua, dispense with both afternoon and evening services during the winter months.

Among the new patents issued is one to Joshua Briggs of Peterborough for improved Piano Stool. But no stool without back is worth having.

Rev. J. B. Breed closed labors with the Baptist Society in Peterborough last Sabbath, and soon leaves for another field of labor.

The voters of Keene, in town meeting assembled, voted to obtain water from Goose Pond for fire and domestic purposes. The vote stood 327 to 208.

E. C. Moulton, son of John C. Moulton, Esq., of Laconia, died at Gibraltar, of consumption, Nov. 18. He sat out for an excursion in Europe, but died four days after reaching Gibraltar. He leaves a wife and daughter.

INTERNAL REVENUE.—For a month or two past, a special agent of the Internal Revenue Department has been visiting and examining books of manufacturers in the Concord District. In several cases, the amount of manufactured goods returned, as subject to tax, has been largely underestimated. Whether this is caused by intentional fraud, by carelessness, or by an ignorant misinterpretation of the law on the part of those making returns, the errors should be corrected, as otherwise those who make proper returns are subject to unfair competition. From the Collector's books, we find that in the following instances these errors have occurred:

B. F. Martin, Manchester, paper manufacturer, Sept 1, 1862, to July 1, 1865, tax and penalty,	$3,738.49
W. F. Daniell, Franklin, paper manufacturer, March 1, 1864, to July 13, 1865, tax and penalty,	2,648.16
Hiram Simons, Weare, tax and penalty,	1,094.05
Webster Manufacturing Co., Pembroke, tax and penalty,	12,824 55
Pembroke Mills, Pembroke, tax and penalty,	7,628 87

VERMONT CENTRAL RAILROAD.—The Montpelier State Journal gives some of the testimony received at the investigation of the late catastrophe at Northfield on the Vermont Central Railroad, by which many workmen met a terrible death, and adds:

"In so serious a matter we have been a little reluctant to attempt an abstract of the most material parts of the testimony of the principal actors in the scene, lest injustice be done; but we think those most responsible must stand, upon the balance of the testimony, substantially as this statement leaves them. No bunter to stop the train, no bell rope for signal to apply brakes, no warning whistle from the engine, no effective signal or command from anybody seen in time. Tenney holds Locklin responsible for the train, Locklin holds Abbott, and Abbott puts the responsibility upon Tenney."

—A man in New Haven secures funds for bacchanalian purposes by begging money to purchase a coffin for a fictitious dead child.

— Mrs. Hull, a widow living in Westfield, lost her house and all its contents by fire Tuesday night. No insurance; loss $500. The fire was caused by carelessness in not safely securing ashes.

SPOILING THE ROMANCE.—The New York Times' Washington dispatch says that the investigation into the recent disappearance of Col. Parker "shows that most of the stories which have been circulated relative to this affair are simply untrue, especially the one which states that one of the Seneca Nation waylaid him and got him inebriated so as to prevent his marriage.—The whole truth is that 24 hours before the time fixed for the marital rites, Col. Parker became ill from a disease to which all are liable. He sent word to Gen. Grant's headquarters of the fact, which prevented Gen. Grant and staff, and others, from going to the church where the ceremonies were to take place." So the big story was a myth, and the "big Injun" was a humbug, worthy of Washington city.

☞ In New York city, the committee of twenty-five appointed by the Grant meeting at Cooper Institute on the 4th inst., held a meeting on Thursday, A. T. Stewart in the chair. A circular letter was adopted, to be sent to business men throughout the country, urging them to organize meetings similar to the one at Cooper Institute, exclusive of parties, for the purpose of urging Gen. Grant as a candidate of the people of all grades and politics for the next Presidency.

The New York Post gives the names of several prominent Democrats who have joined Grant Clubs in that city.

Grant Clubs are to be organized throughout New Hampshire.

INSURANCE DECISION.—The Supreme Court of Massachusetts has decided that if an insurance policy contains a clause prohibiting the carrying on of any illegal business on the premises insured, the policy is void if the premises are used habitually for the keeping of intoxicating liquors with intent to sell, whether the fact is known to the owner of the premises or not. The case was that of Kelly vs. the Worcester Mutual Insurance Company. The defendants refused to pay a policy of insurance on a building which was burned, on the ground that intoxicating liquors were kept there for sale.

CREED.—In terrible agony, a soldier lay dying in the hospital. A visitor asked him, —"What church are you of?"

"Of the church of Christ," he replied.

"I mean of what persuasion are you?" then inquired the visitor.

"Persuasion?" said the dying man, as his eyes looked heavenward, beaming with love to the Savior: "I am persuaded that neither death nor life, nor angels, nor principalities or powers, nor things present nor things to come, nor height nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate me from the love of God which is in Christ Jesus."

NEW EXPRESS ARRANGEMENT.—The N. Y. Commercial Advertiser says:

"Stockholders in Express stocks, viz.: Adams, American, United States and the Merchants' Union, can now look forward with some confidence to dividends upon their investments. The rivalry that has so long exhisted has ceased, the companies having agreed upon a fair, uniform, and remunerative tariff of rates. There is, however, no consolidation; there is business enough for all of them. It is believed that the increased earnings of all of these great Express Companies will soon enable them to declare dividends."

—The courses of popular lectures in Boston this season have scarcely paid expenses.

—It is stated that the west front of the Senate wing of the capital building at Washington has settled four inches. The democrats sit on that side of the house.

— There is a very considerable amount of destitution in the Southern States, among whites and blacks,—and of course some disorder.

A NICE HOLIDAY GIFT.—Four Certificates of the Washington Library Company of Philadelphia, in aid of the Riverside Institute for educating orphans, costing four dollars, with the fine engraving, "The Perils of our Forefathers;" each certificate secures also one present at the Great Distribution by the Company, making four presents, one or more of which may be worth thousands of dollars.—Read advertisement.

Tickets and circulars may be obtained in Portsmouth, at E. A. Joy's Music Store.

Weep not, that time
Is passing on, ere long it will reveal
A brighter era to the nation.

The general use of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus is destined to banish from the market those foul poisons which have been insidiously poisoning whole households, to be replaced by a pure, pleasant, health-giving article, ensuring light, sweet bread and cakes, and the consequent love and harmony of the household. 37

A SHORT STORY, BUT INTERESTING.—No genuine European extract for the handkerchief could be afforded here under the present tariff, at less than twice the price of Phalon's "Night-Blooming Cereus"—A more delicious, permanent and healthful perfume than any of them.—Gazette.

NO LOSS CAN BE MORE FATAL TO BEAUTY, especially in the female sex, than the loss of the Hair: glossy, luxuriant hair is one of the most powerful of all personal charms. When baldness or even a deficiency of hair exists, we naturally look for a dry and wrinkled skin, a faded complexion; when not actually seen, we see them in imagination. Why, then, not cultivate your hair? Encourage it and strengthen it; or if your hair is gray or white, the natural color can be restored by a few applications of Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S IMPROVED (new style) HAIR RESTORATIVE OR DRESSING (in one bottle). Price $1. Every druggist sells it. d21—1m

SOMETHING BETTER THAN GOLD.—Good health, a good reputation, ease and contentment are all better than gold; so is Pyle's Saleratus, that prepares food completely adapted to the health and comfort of mankind, which all other kinds fail to do. Sold by grocers every where, 1 pound packages. 24

BIG TREE FELLED.—John K. Abbott and Albert Saltmarsh chopped six hours each on a rock maple tree in the pasture of Nathan K. Abbott, Concord. It stood very erect, and they left it for the wind to blow down. On Monday morning, Dec. 16—five days after the chopping—it fell with a heavy crash. Its circumference, where chopped, was fourteen feet and nine inches, and its trunk, with a slight exception, was sound. It was about 100 feet high, and well proportioned. Its longevity must be more than one hundred years. Mr. Daniel Abbott, who died June 11, 1804, moved upon the farm in 1761. The tree has, with few exceptions, been tapped from that to the present year, with two incisions. It was a good runner, and its sap rich. In a thunder storm in August last, its largest section was broken off, which is the reason it was cut down. It has been tapped by the present owner of the farm, by his father, his grandfather and great-grandfather.—Statesman.

PAIN KILLER A CURE FOR DIPHTHERIA!

All interested, please read the following extract from a letter from Mrs. Ellen B. Mason, wife of Rev. Francis Mason, Toungboo, Birmah:

* * * My son was taken violently sick with diphtheria, cold chills, burning fever and sore throat. I counted one morning ten little vesicles in his throat, very white, and the longer I looked the roots was like a watermelon, full of seeds; the remainder coated as thick as a knife-blade.—So many children have died around me that I was afraid to call a physician, and thought I would try your Pain Killer for a gargle with small doses inwardly. I did so, and found the gargle invariably cut off the vesicles, and he raised them up often covered with blood. He was taken sick on Sunday; on Wednesday his throat was clear, and his tongue rapidly clearing off. I also used it as a liniment, with castor oil and hartshorn, for his neck. It seemed to me a wonderful cure, and I can but wish it could be known so as to many poor mothers in our land who are losing so many children by the dreadful disease.

I have found your Pain Killer one of the most valuable medicines ever used in Burmah. Once I was stung by a very large black scorpion; the pain was intolerable. I immediately applied the Pain Killer (for I never travel without it) again and again, and in half an hour my foot was well. d14—im

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!

Charles Farmer, Druggist, writes from Ovid, Mich., "I have just sold the last bottle of Allen's Lung Balsam. It sells like 'hot cakes,' and gives Universal Satisfaction.

Stanley & Skipper, Chippewa Falls, Wis., write: "We wish you would send us a good supply of ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM, as it is getting to be one of the necessary institutions of the country. It sells well and gives entire satisfaction to those using it."

F. L. Allen, a well-known druggist at New London, Conn., writes us that ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM is favorably received by the afflicted.—He says, "I have retailed nearly four dozen bottles over my counter, and it has given good satisfaction."

Many letters like the above are daily received from all parts of the country. The demand for it from California is large for a medicine so recently offered for sale. We have sold hundreds of dozens to go to that far-of region of gold. It CURES, and that accounts for its Great Success. None use it who do not, in return, recommend it to their friends. Hence its great sale.

SENTINELS FOR SAFETY.

There is in the blood an independent faculty of sensation, which gives expression by pain and inflammation when foreign matters are present. Hence pain and inflammation mean self-protection, and continue for the body's safety.

Aid the blood by BRANDRETH'S PILLS, to take out foreign matter (impurities), and your pain, inflammation and sickness will often be only an affair of a few hours.

☞ Advertisers should bear in mind that notices may appear in either our Daily or Weekly papers, or both, as they prefer; and contracts by the year, for Advertising in the Gazette are solicited, on the most reasonable terms; and all such will be inserted once gratis in the Daily.

☞ Of the four Daily papers in New Hampshire, (of which, one at Concord and two at Manchester,) this Chronicle has heretofore been considerably the largest.—But the Manchester Mirror has just been enlarged, and is now a shaving the bigger sheet. The Weekly Mirror and Farmer is also to be enlarged, and will be double the size of the Daily. Both are good papers, and we are always pleased to see an evidence of Bro. Clarke's success. But having "seen him," we shall "go a little better," when we get more leisure. The Chronicle and Gazette must try it again.

☞ The closing lecture before the People's Lyceum, on Thursday evening last, by Dr. J. G. Holland, was one of his ablest discourses; in which he adduced weighty proofs to show that "the mission of conflict" was constantly to improve mankind, (unless the conflict was for and from entirely selfish motives;) to increase the spirit of toleration among men, by exposing to them the weak points upon which they have need of charity for themselves; and that of all possessions, those were of most value which had been earnestly contended for in a conflict that sought the replacement of well by better.

AN OLD BISCUIT.—Mr. Benjamin Carter of this city, who recently died in Boston at the age of 92, was a baker by trade. Not long before his death he exhibited to us the first cracker he made when an apprentice in 1790. Although now more than three quarters of a century old and some worm-eaten, it is yet in a good state of preservation.—Journal.

☞ If any one in this city can offer a tempting tit-bit to the epicure, we believe Mr. John Stokell, at No. 41 Market street, is the man. On Friday he exhibited a fine specimen of the black Bear at his store, which he informs us he shall cut up as soon as the meat is best fit for use. The carcass weighs 350 pounds, and came from Bangor. Every one who has ever eaten a "bear steak" will wish for a cut from this fine animal; and we would advise those who have never tasted it, to improve this opportunity to enlarge their experience in the epicurean department.

☞ Mr. Barnabee's concert to-night will be one of the best of this or any other season. See the "cast," in his advertisement.

☞ Dispatches from Key West, Fla., of Dec. 26 and 27, mention a mishap to the new ship Merrimac, Capt. Jacobs, of and from this port, which went to sea Dec. 9, bound for Savannah or a market. The dispatch states that she ran ashore on Elbow Reef [Elbow Key, we presume,] on the 24th, and was ashore about nine hours.—She was gotten off by the wreckers, without material injury, and carried to Key West, where a salvage of $3000 on vessel and cargo was awarded. The repairs will amount to about $600.

A GOOD THING.—We have had our attention called to a new and novel Churn, patented by J. D. Kellogg, Jr., of Northampton, Mass. It is called the "Peerless Churn," meaning no superior. Having seen extracts from papers where it has been sold, speaking of it in the highest terms, we would advise our carpenters (who can build them) and all who may desire to obtain a good business, to go the Franklin House this evening at 7 1-2 o'clock, and see it operate. The agent will make butter every evening; also, through the day it can be seen as above. Butter made in it from two to five minutes. Go and see it. 2t*

☞ Mr. Barnabee's third Concert, which is announced for this Monday evening, will be a grand entertainment, and will of course be largely attended.

Communication.

One of the Mission Sunday School Teachers desires to thank the Unitarian Society for the generous manner in which they treated his class, at their Festival, Christmas evening.

LARGE DEFALCATION IN A BOSTON BANK.—Financial circles on State street were somewhat excited Friday forenoon by the report of a considerable deficit in one of the Boston banks. On inquiry, the fact was ascertained that the cash of the receiving teller of the Shawmut Bank, Mr. Byrant T. Henry, was short $50,000. Mr. Henry has been absent from the city a week, and his present whereabouts is unknown.

The fraud in the account of the receiving teller was discovered on Monday last. Two or three days previously Mr. Henry said that he was obliged to visit Portsmouth, for the purpose of settling some business affairs connected with his wife's property, she being a native of that city. She now is in Boston. On the 12th inst Mr. Henry either stepped across the floor into the Cashier's room and left Europe by the mail steamer. It is supposed.

The Shawmut Bank has a capital of $750,000 with a surplus of $150 000, so that the defalcation will not affect the standing of the institution in the least.—Transcript.

525 MILES

OF THE

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD,

Running West from Omaha

ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

ARE NOW COMPLETED.

This brings the line to the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains, and it is expected that the track will be laid thirty miles further, to Evans Pass, the highest point on the road, by January. The maximum grade from the foot of the mountains to the summit is but eighty feet to the mile, while that on many existing roads is over one hundred. Work in the rock-cuttings on the western slope will continue through the winter, and there is now no reason to doubt that the entire grand line to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870.

The means provided for the construction of this Great National Work are ample. The United States grants its Six Per Cent. Bonds at the rate of $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, for which it takes a second lien as security, and receives payment to a large if not to the full extent of its issue. These Bonds are issued as each section of twenty miles section is finished, and after it has been examined by United States Commissioners, and reported to be in all respects a first class road, thoroughly supplied with depots, repair shops, stations and all the necessary rolling stock and other equipments.

The United States also makes a donation of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, which will be a source of large revenue to the Company. Much of this land in the Platte Valley is among the most fertile in the world, and other large portions are covered with heavy pine forests, and abound in coal of the best quality.

The Company is also authorized to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to an amount equal to the issue of the Government bonds, and has for its D. D. Morgan and Hon. Oakes Ames are Trustees for the Bondholders, and deliver the Bonds to the Company only as the work progresses, so that they always represent an actual and productive value.

The authorized capital of the Company is One Hundred Million Dollars, of which over five millions have been paid in upon the work already done.

Earnings of the Company.

At present the profits of the Company are derived only from its local traffic, but this already is much more than sufficient to pay the interest on all the bonds the Company has issued, if not another mile were built. It is not doubted that when the road is completed the through traffic of the only line connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States will be large beyond precedent, and as there will be no competition, it can always be done at profitable rates.

It will be noticed that the Union Pacific Railroad is, in fact, a Government Work, built under the supervision of Government Officers, and to a large extent with Government means, and that its bonds are issued under Government direction. It is believed that no similar security is so carefully guarded, and certainly no other is based upon a larger or more valuable property. As the Company's

are offered for the present at NINETY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR, they are the cheapest security in the market, being more than 15 per cent. lower than U. S. Stocks. They pay

Six Per Cent. in Gold,

or over NINE PER CENT. upon the investment.

SUBSCRIPTIONS will be received in Portsmouth by FIRST NATIONAL BANK, and in New York at the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau street, and by

CONTINENTAL NAT. BANK No 7 Nassau St.
CLARK, DODGE & CO., Bankers, 51 Wall St.
JOHN J. CISCO & SON, Bankers, 33 Wall St.

And by the Company's advertised Agents throughout the United States, of whom maps and descriptive pamphlets may be obtained on application. Remittance should be made in drafts or other funds par in New York, and the bonds will be sent free of charge by return express. n8—3m

A NEW PAMPHLET AND MAP, showing the Progress of the Work, Resources for Construction, and Value of Bonds, may be obtained at the Company's Offices or of its advertised Agents, or will be sent free on application.

AMERICAN

WATCHES.

This country has reason to be proud of this splendid specimen of American operative genius and enterprise. That it will work a revolution in the watch manufacturing of the world, no one can doubt who examines the operations of the Waltham establishment, for it turns out watch movements at just about one half the cost of imported movements—besides the uniform reliability of the machine made watches must give them a great advantage over all others wherever known. A poor time-piece of the machine make will be as rare in the future as a good one of hand make has been heretofore, for machinery is arbitrary in its performance, and can make a perfect article just as easy as one that is worthless. It will be a cause of congratulation if this highly useful American Enterprise shall have the effect of driving out of market the thousands of trashy foreign articles miscalled time-keepers, by furnishing so excellent and economical a substitute.—N. Y. Times.

We have had one of the works of this Company in our case for a considerable time, and comparing them with former first class works of different manufacturers, we perceive that they have excelled in our opinion their superiority over any ever introduced for correctness as time pieces.—The World.

We notice with regret (writing of the Paris Exposition) the absence of specimens of American manufacture, which, although only comparatively of recent birth among us, is already producing results of the most satisfactory character. The watches manufactured by the Waltham Company are certainly, so far as strength, durability and excellence as time-keepers are concerned, as good as anything produced by the French or Swiss manufacturers.—N. Y. Herald.

The beauty, the precision, the greater cheapness, the uniform excellence of a watch constructed by machinery so exquisite that the more specials of its operation is seen, gradually give the American Watches a public preference that will not be deceived.—Harpers' Weekly.

Every Watch fully Warranted.

Secure Profitable Investment.

THE

CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,

First Mortgage Thurty Year, Six per Cent. Coupon Bonds.

Principal and Interest payable in Gold Coin, represent the preferred claim upon one of the MOST IMPORTANT LINES OF COMMUNICATION IN THE WORLD as it is the sole link between the Pacific Coast and the Great Interior Valley, over which the immense overland travel must pass, and the Main Trunk Line across the Continent.

The Road is now nearly completed from Sacramento to the Richest Mining Regions in the Salt Lake Basin, and is being rapidly carried forward by the largest force of laborers ever employed by any Railroad Company on this continent.

The natural, legitimate, commercial business of the road surpasses all previous expectation, and is profitable beyond precedent even among the oldest roads in existence. The Earnings and Expenses for the Quarter ending Oct. 31, were as follows, IN GOLD:

GROSS EARNINGS,	OPERATING EXPENSES,	NET EARNINGS,
$593,847 92	$192,098 61	$401,729 31

The result, however, would have been far greater but for the inability of wagon teams to forward the freight and passengers from the temporary terminus in the mountains.

The United States Government and the State and Cities of California have so aided and fostered the Great Enterprise, that the Company will assume very light annual Interest obligations, and will have following ample Resources at command for the Construction:

DONATIONS in Lands, Bonds, Concessions, &c., received by the Company,	$12,800,000
CAPITAL STOCK, Net Earnings, &c. (no lien)	11,000,000
LOANS (subordinate lien)	4,000,000
U. S. SUBSIDY BONDS, 725 miles, (subordinate lien)	25,517,000
FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS	24,517,000
Resources first 725 miles	$77 83 .00

The FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS are in sums $500 and $1000, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, and are offered for sale, for the present, at 95 per cent. and accrued interest from July 1st, in currency, at which rate they yield nearly NINE PER CENT. UPON THE INVESTMENT.

These Bonds, authorized by the Pacific Railroad Acts of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same extent only as the Bonds granted by the Government, and are the prior lien upon the whole valuable property furnished by the above Resources. They possess special assurances and advantages over other Corporate Securities, and are destined to rank as one of the BEST INVESTMENTS IN THE WORLD, from their unusual attractions of safety, soundness and profit.

MOTHER.

No one word of human diction
Is more eloquently dear,
Than that word, in every household
So familiar to the ear.
'Tis a title taught by angels,
As they journey to and fro,
To express a tie of kindred
Heaven hallowed here below.

Often hath my spirit striven,
Since its earthsome task begun,
To revive its child emotions
In the bosom of the man;
But life's cold, unfriendly shadows
Seemed to chill the old delight,
Till my mother's voice awoke them,
As in boyhood's morning bright.

As I gaze along the vista
Of the ceaseless march of years,
I behold her love-light beaming,
Through each day of joys or fears;
And when yet I am the saddest,
Tones of her's can soothe the pain,
Gentle mother, dear and patient,
May thy influence long remain!

Mates of shine are growing aged,
But thou art not old to me;
Every winsome charm remaineth
That I knew in infancy;
Airy shapes that sometimes hover
Round my pillow while I rest,
Bear thy features, darling mother,
And my sleep is fully blest.

Come-moon-lit-a-shun.

Messrs. Editors: I left my office at 10 o'clock Christmas Eve, and sallied forth for a walk. (Sally wasn't there, however,—her mother knew she was in.) As I entered Congress street, my attention was attracted by a sound as if the hair of a horse's narrative was being drawn with varying swiftness and pressure across the bowels of a cat. At this sound, I could but stop a moment to listen, when the cherry voice of somebody up in beautiful Congress Hall, cried out, "Cross over!" I crossed over, and as I stood at the door, I could but wish "A merry Christmas to you all," and as I left the place, my thoughts seemed to say, O, how much better the weltin would ring, If Lampey were thunned by catgut string.

I passed on—nothing of any importance attracting my attention until I arrived at a part of the city known as "Christian Shore," when I observed a dim light shining through a window, through which I could distinctly see an old maid sitting on an inverted half-bushel, in a cold kitchen, with her feet on the brim of a slop bucket, and paring her corns with a dull case knife, by the light of a tallow candle. I could but wish her "a merry Christmas," too.

And as I went, my thoughts still lingered on these scenes, and I mused on the events that had transpired since the first Christmas Eve, when the shepherds watched their flocks on the plains of Judea,—until having passed round and down by the Creek bridge, I arrived home a little before 12 o'clock, greatly refreshed with my midnight walk, and soon was sound asleep.

THE

MUTUAL LIFE

INSURANCE COMPANY

OF NEW YORK.

(INCORPORATED 1847.)

F. F. WINSTON, President.

ASSETS - - $22,000,000 CASH.

ANNUAL INCOME OVER $6,000,000.

THIS COMPANY ISSUED DURING THE FISCAL YEAR ending January 31, 1867, 15,073 Policies, insuring over Fifty-four Millions of Dollars ($54,876,430), which is more than has ever been done, in the same space of time, by any other Life Insurance Company in the world.

It has paid to its Policy Holders in 28 years in Dividends, the large sum of

$10,172,383 IN CASH,

Or equivalent additions to their Policies of about

$23,000,000.

The Dividends of this Company, February 1, 1866, was for ONE YEAR,

$2,134,000 75 IN CASH,

Or in Equivalent Additions to Policies,

$4,840,864 02.

This CASH DIVIDEND was about equal to the total Dividends for the past nine years together of the next largest Company in this country.

This Company divides every cent of its profits among Policy Holders exclusively. Many Companies pay their Stockholders from 12 1-2 to 20 per cent. of the net profits, besides interest on Capital Stock. Some of them paid to Stockholders last year more than they did to Policy-holders.—Sec. of N. Y. Underwriters Chart, 1867.

DIVIDEND SYSTEM.

The phrase ANNUAL DIVIDEND, in this Company, means dividends made annually, from the start, on the First and every subsequent premium; and not at the expiration of three, four or five years, and only then annually. It also means that the dividends are available immediately to increase the insurance, or as CASH in reduction of the premium of the current year; and not merely to cancel notes and accrued interest on premiums three, four or five years old.

By this system there is no delay for the redemption of script, as in some companies.

Policy Holders, at their own option, at the end of the first year of their policy, or thereafter, can use their Dividends in Payment of Premiums, or to Purchase Additions to Policies. If they desire to purchase additions, they can pay the next anniversary of their Policies, if they desire, recurring such additions into cash in payment of premiums, as is stated in all Dividend Certificates of this Company, viz:—"These additions are at any time receivable into cash, in payment of premiums to the Company." The practical working of the system is, that if a Policy Holder pays his premium in full for a few years only, then, in case of temporary embarrassment, he can always convert his additions into cash, which in most cases will be sufficient to pay his whole premium, and require no cash outlay whatever so long as his additions will be sufficient to pay his premiums, which would be quite the reverse if he was to send in a note company; because if he were not able at any time to pay the cash portion of his premium, his policy would be forfeited absolutely, for the reason that his dividends would be used to cancel his note; and therefore he must pay his cash part of the premium to the note company on the life plan, even if he were to live to be a hundred years old.

When the dividends exceed 100 per cent. in cash in the "Mutual Life," the payment of the surplus above the amount necessary to pay the current annual premium, can be drawn in cash. If the Policy Holder so desires. Fifteen full annual premiums has been on the average sufficient to pay for a Life Policy in this Company.

ENDOWMENTS.

We solicit from the reader a careful consideration of this system. An Endowment Policy is a double contract, by which the Company agrees to pay a certain sum to the person insured at a specified age, with the promise that if he dies before attaining that age, the sum named in the policy shall be paid at once. The plan combines the advantages of Life Insurance, a Savings Bank and a safe investment. It is simply an annual investment of funds, to be repaid to the depositor with a fair rate of interest at a specified time. It is believed to be nearly as safe a deposit in a Savings Bank, because no creditor can reach a wife's policy; and because if the assured should die after having made only one payment of premium, his heirs would be entitled to the full sum insured. The system commends itself to wealthy men, and also to persons living upon a stated income, the result of personal labor.

This is a peculiar feature of this Company, as no other Company can assist the needy of any office, or the profits which we are enabled to divide, so as to make the investment a good one to the applicant; and such policies can be procured from 10 to 20 per cent. lower than those charged by other and similar institutions.

From the Endowment Policies which have been paid to the owners, it will be seen that they received a surplus above all they had paid to the Company, with compound interest at six per cent. and no charge whatever for expense or cost of insurance, and in addition

SPECIAL NOTICE TO PERSONS DESIRING TO INSURE.

All policies issued previous to February 1, 1868, will partipate in the dividend declared at that time.

Parties disposed to investigate and have proof of all statements made above, can obtain the same from any of the policy holders of the Company or from the undersigned, who will be happy to exhibit all official documents from which the above statements are taken.

STATE AGENT FOR NEW HAMPSHIRE.

THE BEST NEW YEAR'S PRESENT.

The best New Year's Present a man can give to his wife and family at this Holiday Season, is a LIFE POLICY,

The Mutual Life Insurance Co

of New York, from its past experience, holds out peculiarly strong inducements for such an investment. Its assets are now over Twenty-two Millions of Dollars.

Dividends are made every year, and the Dividends in this Company have been surprisingly large and eminently satisfactory to Policy-holders.

If you are now in good health, and not already Insured, take out a Policy with the MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE CO.
